President Roosevelt To Intervene In Steel Strike

100,000 IN THREATS TO QUIT POSTS

Unless Action Taken Men to Walkout on June 16 in Four Different States

UNREST IS GROWING

Strikes of Lesser Importance Aggravate Situation All Over Country

(By The United Press)

PRESIDENT Roosevelt was expected today to intervene to avert the threatened walkout on June 16 of 100,000 steel workers, approximately one-fourth of all employes in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois mills. The strike would be a paralyzing blow to American industry and the recovery program.

Members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers are under orders to strike unless their leaders' demands for union recognition are accepted by mill owners.

Steel company executives representing 99 per cent of the industry resumed their meeting in New York after announcing "unalterable" opposition to the closed shop and determination to continue negotiations with their employes through so-called company unions.

Amalgamated Association leaders denied they ever demanded the closed shop and threatened "all hell will break loose" unless their union is recognized, and permitted to negotiate on the question of hours of work and wage scales on behalf of all members.

Steel company executives are understood to have looked cooly on NRA Administrator Hugh S. Johnson's suggested solution through creation of a special labor relations board for steel.

Steel company executives charged the Amalgamated association represents only 10 to 15 per cent of the nation's steel workers. Union leaders claimed up to 75 per cent control. Reliable estimates conceded them control of at least 25 per cent or 100,000 workers.

Strikes of lesser importance aggravated the restless labor situation on a dozen fronts throughout the country.

In New York, 1000 steamship employes walked off their jobs in sympathy with a longshoremen's strike. Two thousand butchers and packing house workers were on strike for union recognition and a five-day week.

Longshoremen in Chicago awaited orders to join a strike of fellow workers in Milwaukee, Duluth and Superior that would paralyze shipping on the Great Lakes.

In LaSalle and Danville, Illinois, zinc workers struck for union recognition.

In Toledo union leaders charged that the Electric Auto Lite Co. had broken its promise to discharge non-union strikers but workers slowly were going back to their jobs.

Gasoline station employes were on strike in St. Louis demanding higher wages and a shorter week.

A thousand shoe workers left their jobs in Moberly, Mo., for higher wages.

Peace was restored to Middletown, Conn., after eight persons were injured in two strike outbreaks at the Remington Typewriter plant. All available local and state police were on duty.

At Ilion, N. Y., 2000 striking Remington-Rand employes refused to return although the factory was thrown open.

Packing house employes were on strike in Oklahoma City.

TOMMY CARROLL, DILLINGER'S MACHINE GUNNER, SHOT DOWN

Believed To Be Dying In Waterloo, Ia.

Critically Wounded Resisting Arrest; Wife Arrested at Same Time

WATERLOO, Ia., June 7.—(UP)—Tommy Carroll, notorious Dillinger gang machine gunner, was wounded critically today when shot four times by Detective Paul E. Walker.

Tommy Carroll

A woman, about 20, arrested after the gangster was shot while resisting arrest, told police she was Carroll's wife.

Carroll, accused by federal officials of slaying W. Carter Baum, department of justice agent, when Dillinger and his gang broke through a trap at Rhinelander, Wis., April 23, was shot when he resisted arrest.

Police said his death was a matter of minutes.

Taken to a hospital with three bullets in his spine and one in his chest, Carroll told Police Officer Emil Steffen his identity.

The pair was seated in a Hudson sedan which bore Missouri license plates, across the street from the police station. A patrolman, passing on the sidewalk, noticed several sets of Illinois and Minnesota license plates in a rear seat.

He reported at headquarters and Walker, Steffen and Harry Johnson, patrolman, went to question the gangster.

"You're under arrest," Walker said, stepping to the car.

"Not me," Carroll said, leaped from the machine and drew a gun from his pocket.

Walker fired. The first shot hit Carroll in the chest. The gangster fled toward an alley nearby, his wife remaining in the car. Walker then emptied his gun and Carroll fell with three bullets in his spine.

Open Prices Allowed In New Policy

New Ruling Will Govern All Future Codes; to Adjust All Old Codes

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—A ban on price fixing, except as a means to prevent destructive price cutting and to uphold the fundamentals of the recovery act, was announced by NRA today as its formal policy in governing price provisions in codes.

The policy contained in an executive order, provides:

1. To ban fixing "even of minimum prices" except in emergencies which make such action necessary to halt destructive price cutting, protect small enterprises, curb monopolistic tendencies, maintain code wages and working conditions.

2. To permit open price provisions where desired by an industry under conditions requiring posting of prices with a "confidential disinterested" agency for distribution to all members of the industry, and customers willing to pay for the service—such posted prices not to be changed for 48 hours.

3. To encourage inclusion of model cost finding and accounting provisions which shall, however, not be obligatory, but not to encourage uniform additions in the form of percentages of differentials designed to bring about arbitrary uniformity in cost or prices.

This policy, the NRA explained, will govern future codes and adjust approved codes by amendment worked out with code authorities.

RAINS FALLING ON FARMS IN MIDWEST

CHICAGO, June 7.—(UP)—Farmers of large sections of the drought-blighted northwest sloshed through rain-soaked fields today with a new hope that at least a portion of devastated crops might be saved.

Widespread rains in the northern corn and wheat belts yesterday were supplemented today by additional showers and the weather bureau predicted continued unsettled conditions and precipitation at many points.

The southwest still sweltered in a wave of oppressive heat. Pastures, along with oats, corn and wheat, deteriorated in southern Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

GERMAN WRITER IS TO BE SUBPOENAED

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—George Sylvester Viereck, noted German writer, will be subpoenaed by the house Nazi investigating committee to testify on charges that the Soviet Union is spreading propaganda in this country, it was revealed today.

Viereck, in a statement, charged that the Soviet government was paying Ivy Lee, New York publicity agent, to distribute propaganda.

The writer defended his position in accepting retainers from Carl Byoir and associates to prepare information favorable to the Hitler cause for distribution in this country.

JAMES KELLEY CALLED

CHICAGO, June 7.—(UP)—James Keeley, vice-president of the Pullman company and former general manager of the Chicago Tribune, died suddenly today at his home in Lake Forest, a suburb.

Death was due to apoplexy. Keeley, widely known as a newspaperman, died in his 66th year.

He was city editor of the Tribune at the time of the Iroquois theater fire and broke from usual journalistic procedure by using the entire first page of his paper to publish the names of victims of the disaster in preference to details of the fire.

NAVY PLANNING TO EXTEND ITS FORCES IN AIR

Proposes to Match An Extensive Projected Ship Building Program

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—The navy today made plans to expand its air force to match an extensive projected ship building program, which will provide a full treaty strength sea force by 1939.

Speeding up the air program coincides with announcement by Secretary of Navy Claude A. Swanson that he has approved plans to spend $80,000,000 this year for building 24 ships and 225 planes.

An earmarked $40,000,000 PWA fund, as soon as approved by the senate, will be used to construct 225 planes, 12 destroyers, two destroyer leaders and six submarines as the first phase in the five year Vinson replacement program authorizing construction of 102 ships.

The remaining $50,000,000 will be applied on three light and one heavy cruisers, already authorized in the regular naval appropriations for the year.

The airplane program is:

Airplane Program

1. Completely filling all aircraft carrier tonnage allotted under the Washington and London treaties as soon as possible.

2. Construction of sufficient airplanes to supply ships launched since 1926 and to provide the same ratio of airplanes to ships in 1939 as prevailed in 1921.

The 13,800 ton aircraft carrier ranger was commissioned last Monday. Plans have been made to complete in 1936 two 20,000 ton carriers, the Yorktown and Enterprise, being built at Newport News, Va.

That will allow the United States one more carrier of 15,000 tons under the treaties.

Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of naval aeronautics, said he hoped to obtain appropriations for this during 1935-36.

Aircraft Carriers

"We have four aircraft carriers. The Ranger, and the Lexington and Saratoga, 33,000 ton battle cruisers converted into carriers,

SINCLAIR ASKS FOR PARDON OF MOONEY

SACRAMENTO, June 7.—(UP)—Acting Gov. F. F. Merriam will give full consideration to any petition asking him to pardon Tom Mooney, he said today after a brief conference with Upton Sinclair, Democratic candidate for governor.

Sinclair called upon the new executive and urged him to pardon the San Francisco Preparedness day parade bomber.

"I asked the governor to pardon Mooney and told him how he could investigate the case immediately," Sinclair said after the conference. "I told him to send for Judge Griffin, who tried the case. I told him I did not see how any man could believe Mooney guilty after hearing Judge Griffin's story of the trial. The judge originally believed Mooney guilty, then gradually changed his mind to feel that every significant piece of evidence was perjured."

Quintuplets Have Twins As Relatives

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(UP)—The family into which five daughters were born at one time in Canada apparently runs to plural births.

For here in San Francisco Mrs. Aldo Beltrami is the mother of twin boys, born yesterday.

Mrs. Beltrami is a first cousin of Oliva Dionne, mother of the Ontario quintuplets.

LINER ARRIVES AT DOCK WITH BLAZE IN HOLD

Passengers Don Life Belts and Ship's Crew Fights Fire During Night

HONOLULU, June 7.—(UP)—With the ship's band playing "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" the Dollar liner President Lincoln was convoyed into port here today after the ship's crew had fought flames in the cargo hold all night.

Although passengers had been kept on deck wearing life preservers for many hours and some were tired, perfect order prevailed and at no time had the danger been serious.

Firemen, assembled on the pier awaiting the arrival of the President Lincoln, immediately began fighting the flames which still burned in the hold.

The Lincoln had sailed from Los Angeles five days ago, bound for the orient via Honolulu. It carried 168 passengers and a crew of 200.

Last evening fire had broken out among the cargo. The cause was not known. Smoke began pouring out of one of the holds.

Capt. George W. Yardley ordered live steam played into the hold while other officers mustered passengers on deck, assured them there was no danger, and helped them adjust life belts—a precaution always taken at sea.

Life boats were made ready and swung oversides in their davits.

The ship's orchestra was called on deck.

Soon the passengers were forgetting the billowing smoke.

Miss Elizabeth Dunfeath of Honolulu picked up the strains of the orchestra and began dancing.

While the crew drove the ship full speed ahead toward Honolulu, the radio sent out calls for help.

The coast guard cutter Itasca answered, followed by a naval destroyer. The Matson liner Lurline, which was in the vicinity, stood ready to give help.

Early this morning the Itasca met the President Lincoln and convoyed the liner into port, although her assistance was not necessary.

The Lincoln reached its pier soon after 6:30 a. m. (Honolulu time) and the passengers were gay as they came ashore.

Rumors had been spread that the fire was traceable in some way to the Pacific coast longshoremen's strike but were denied by Dollar line agents.

Firemen believed they could confine the fire and the damage to the cargo which consisted mainly of cotton.

ATTEMPTED COUP IN LITHUANIA FAILURE

BERLIN, June 7.—(UP)—Augustinas Valdemaras, former fascist premier, attempted a coup today in Lithuania, the United Press was advised by telephone from Kovno.

The ministry of defense admitted a Valdemaras Putsch plan had been discovered but that he had "insufficient strength to carry it through." The ministry said Valdemaras himself was not in Novno, although he was in Lithuania, and the government might order his arrest.

THREE KILLED AS AIRPLANE CRASHES

HICO, Tex., June 7.—(UP)—An airplane caught fire in the air here last night, spiralled to earth and killed its three passengers.

The dead: Earl Lynch, 38, pilot; Miss Lola Mae Williamson, 26 and Bill Blair, 25, mechanic, all of Hico.

Firemen played streams of water on the flaming wreckage for 15 minutes before the bodies could be removed.

Cause of the fire and crash could not be determined.

PLANE VICTOR IN RACE WITH DEATH

BALTIMORE, Md., June 7.—(UP)—An eastern air line plane won a 700-mile race with death today, bringing 3-year-old Martha Ann Greenwood to Johns Hopkins hospital from Greenville, S. C., for an emergency brain operation.

The child has been unconscious since Saturday when she lapsed into a coma after an attack of the measles. An abscess of the brain developed. Doctors communicated with Dr. Walter E. Dandy, Johns Hopkins brain surgeon, who ordered her immediate removal to Baltimore.

Doctors said that Martha Ann's condition was grave, but that she had withstood the trip well.

DIGEST OF WATER REPORT TO CONGRESS SHOWS S. A. RIVER BASIN PROJECT IS FAVORED

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—The President's Commission on Water Flow today made public a digest of its report, which outlined flood control projects calling for expenditure of millions of dollars in the Pacific area.

The projects included:

Improvements in the Santa Ana river basin the major works proposed consisting of large reservoirs in or immediately above lower Santa Ana canyon and in other nearby canyons. The proposed improvements in the various sections of the watershed, with their cost are as follows:

Upper Santa Ana Valley, $4,475,500.

Lower Santa Ana River canyon, $8,472,000.

Lower Santa Ana River Valley, $2,308,000.

Total cost, $15,255,500.

Subtracting cost of work already completed, the committee estimated cost of completion of the above projects at $14,455,500.

Flood control and conservation programs for the Santa Ana river have been worked out by local interests and the state of California, the report said.

Flood Control

"Flood control features of the proposed plan contemplates protection from a flood having a discharge of twice the 1916 flood. The largest on record, and the conservation of from 40,000 to 45,000 acre feet of water that now goes to waste.

GRAND JURY TO INDICT YOUNG SLAYER TODAY

Louis Rude Payne Refuses to Repeat His Story of Double Ax Murder

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—(UP)—The Los Angeles county grand jury today prepared an indictment charging Louis Rude Payne, 21, with murder for hacking his mother and younger brother to death with an axe.

District Attorney Buron Fitts said the indictment would be returned this afternoon and that Payne would be arraigned immediately thereafter.

The youth, refused permission to attend the funeral of his victims, appeared before the jury only long enough to refuse to repeat to that body his story of the crime.

As the youth walked with bowed head into the grand jury chambers, his father, Lucius F. Payne of St. Louis, wept in the Little Church of the Flowers over the biers of his wife, Mrs. Carrie L. Payne, 45, and his other son, Willis Robert.

The services were brief, followed by cremation. They were closed to the public.

Young Payne, on advice of his attorneys, refused to testify before the jury and spent no more than one minute in the chambers.

Other witnesses gave the jury a complete picture of the crime, which Payne confessed but could not explain except that "little things" led up to it.

WOMEN OF STATE HOLD MEET TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(UP)—The California Federation of women's clubs, led by Miss Josephine G. Seaman of La Jolla, held its annual summer planning conference here today.

Officers, state chairmen, district presidents and county leaders of the organization assembled to plan the work for the coming year. There were 100 delegates registered at the Western Women's club, headquarters of the session.

Miss Seaman said the federation this year will work principally for legislative action to free the state judiciary from political influence and for better conditions among women prisoners at Tehachapi.

QUINTUPLETS SHOW GAIN IN STRENGTH

NORTH BAY, Ont., June 7.—(UP)—The Dionne quintuplets, apparently thriving in their two incubators, continued to improve today and Dr. A. R. Dafoe, attending physician, appeared encouraged by the infants' increasing strength.

Dr. Dafoe's professional caution, however, led him to warn observers that "anything might happen" in 24 hours. With the aid of three nurses, the doctor has been in almost constant attendance upon the babies.

Mrs. Oliva Dionne, the mother, will be permitted to sit up for a short time tomorrow, and probably will be allowed to see the quintuplets in their incubators.

PROGRESSIVES DISAPPOINTED WITH FLETCHER

Movement for Third Party Speeded After Republican Selection

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—The movement for a third party composed of progressive Republicans was speeded up today as a result of the selection of Henry P. Fletcher as national chairman of the regular Republican organization.

Sen. Robert M. LaFollette jr., who is seeking re-election through a new party organization in Wisconsin, said he believed Fletcher's election would give a "tremendous impetus" to the third party movement throughout the nation.

"I think this action completely justifies the conference of Wisconsin progressives to form a new party," he said.

It was believed also that Fletcher's selection would serve to widen the breach between the regular Republican group and other independent senate Republicans such as Borah of Idaho, Norris of Nebraska, Frazier and Nye of North Dakota, and Cutting of New Mexico.

Borah said recently that the Republican party would die as the old Whig party died unless it injected a more liberal and progressive element into its national leadership.

LaFollette said the Fletcher selection threw the party control back to "the Hoover-Mellon-Reed crowd."

"This choice of a chairman serves notice on millions of progressive voters that the party does not desire their support," he said.

"A campaign such as this, based on blind reaction, is doomed to failure before it even starts."

Regular Republicans in the senate appeared disappointed for the most part that the republican national committee had not named a western man.

Fletcher, suave and affable, was identified closely with the Hoover administration. He is said still to favor the former president, although Mr. Hoover refused to appoint Fletcher to the post he desired as ambassador to Great Britain.

Senate Democrats felt that their chances of success in the summer political campaigns were increased by the Fletcher selection. They said, mostly in private that they were convinced the country would not support any politics smacking of the Hoover administration.

FIRST LADY VISIT IN WEST VIRGINIA

GRAFTON, W. Va., June 7.—(UP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt arrived here early today on her way to visit "new frontiers" established under the new deal. A brass band and scores of villagers greeted Mrs. Roosevelt and her party.

Mrs. Roosevelt spoke briefly, saying her visit was not for political purposes, but to see progress of two projects in which she was interested. They are the Tygart valley homestead, chiefly for jobless lumbermen, and the Reedsville project to give work to jobless miners.

12 MILLION GAIN OVER LAST YEAR

Average Increase of $1.75 Per Box for Valencias Reflects Better Times

LEMON PRICES SOAR

Top Price of $6.05 Paid in Eastern Market on Wednesday for Valencias

SHOWING AN average increase of $1.75 per box for valencia oranges over that of a year ago, and reflecting results of the prorate program and a general improvement of financial conditions throughout the United States, a comparison of auction citrus prices indicated today that Orange county valencia growers will receive an approximate increase of $12,000,000 for their 1934 crop, on the basis of an estimated shipment equivalent to last year.

The top price for valencias in the eastern market yesterday was $6.05 per box, more than one-and-a-half dollars higher than last season, while the top price for lemons was $9. An increase of 90 cents per box over the average price for lemons last year, also predicted a gain of an additional $600,000 to county citrus growers.

It is estimated the present crop of valencias will reach the 7,255,000 box mark of the 1933 season, and will find a strengthened market because navel oranges, which were still selling at this time last year, are now off the market.

The substantial increases in price reflect the effective operation of the pro-rate plan, and indicate financial conditions of the east have shown great improvement, observers declare.

Harold Wahlberg, county farm adviser, gives much credit to the AAA for producing the extra profit, and urges all growers to insist that the packers live up to their agreements. There has been 100 per cent regulation of crops this year, as compared to the flooded market of last season, he pointed out.

On the market page of today's Register will be found a comparison of citrus prices of Thursday a year ago with those of today.

OPEN BIDS TODAY ON AMERICAN CANAL

YUMA, Ariz., June 7.—(UP)—Representatives of some of the most prominent construction firms in the United States filled the offices of the reclamation bureau in the new federal building here today as bids were opened on the proposed $28,000,000 All American canal.

The canal will carry irrigation water from the Colorado river to the Imperial valley of California.

Six schedules, or the first six units, including excavation of 40,000,000 yards of common dirt and 500,000 cubic yards of rock over the proposed 30-mile route of the canal were the list of bids to be opened.

The Six Companies Inc., builders of Boulder Dam near Las Vegas, Nev., were among the 35 contractors submitting bids to Ray L. Priest, government engineer in charge of the work here.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—Over the shouted protests of Republicans, the house passed and sent to the senate the unemployment census bill today, providing for hiring of 105,000 eprsons next November (election month).

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today ordered full speed ahead in providing governmtnt relief to drought victims of the middle west in a conference with Harry Hopkins, relief administrator and Lewis Douglas, budget director.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(UP)—Details of a new federal proposal to end the Pacific Coast longshoremen's strike were received here today by Henry F. Grady, chairman of President Roosevelt's arbiration board.

An earmarked $40,000,000 PWA fund, as soon as approved by the senate, will be used to construct 225 planes, 12 destroyers, two destroyer leaders and six submarines as the first phase in the five year Vinson replacement program authorizing construction of 102 ships.

The remaining $50,000,000 will be applied on three light and one heavy cruisers, already authorized in the regular naval appropriations for the year.

The airplane program is:

Airplane Program

1. Completely filling all aircraft carrier tonnage allotted under the Washington and London treaties as soon as possible.

2. Construction of sufficient airplanes to supply ships launched since 1926 and to provide the same ratio of airplanes to ships in 1939 as prevailed in 1921.

The 13,800 ton aircraft carrier ranger was commissioned last Monday. Plans have been made to complete in 1936 two 20,000 ton carriers, the Yorktown and Enterprise, being built at Newport News, Va.

That will allow the United States one more carrier of 15,000 tons under the treaties.

Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of naval aeronautics, said he hoped to obtain appropriations for this during 1935-36.

Aircraft Carriers

"We have four aircraft carriers. The Ranger, and the Lexington and Saratoga, 33,000 ton battle cruisers converted into carriers,

SINCLAIR ASKS FOR PARDON OF MOONEY

SACRAMENTO, June 7.—(UP)—Acting Gov. F. F. Merriam will give full consideration to any petition asking him to pardon Tom Mooney, he said today after a brief conference with Upton Sinclair, Democratic candidate for governor.

Sinclair called upon the new executive and urged him to pardon the San Francisco Preparedness day parade bomber.

"I asked the governor to pardon Mooney and told him how he could investigate the case immediately," Sinclair said after the conference. "I told him to send for Judge Griffin, who tried the case. I told him I did not see how any man could believe Mooney guilty after hearing Judge Griffin's story of the trial. The judge originally believed Mooney guilty, then gradually changed his mind to feel that every significant piece of evidence was perjured."

Quintuplets Have Twins As Relatives

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(UP)—The family into which five daughters were born at one time in Canada apparently runs to plural births.

For here in San Francisco Mrs. Aldo Beltrami is the mother of twin boys, born yesterday.

Mrs. Beltrami is a first cousin of Oliva Dionne, mother of the Ontario quintuplets.

LINER ARRIVES AT DOCK WITH BLAZE IN HOLD

Passengers Don Life Belts and Ship's Crew Fights Fire During Night

HONOLULU, June 7.—(UP)—With the ship's band playing "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" the Dollar liner President Lincoln was convoyed into port here today after the ship's crew had fought flames in the cargo hold all night.

Although passengers had been kept on deck wearing life preservers for many hours and some were tired, perfect order prevailed and at no time had the danger been serious.

Firemen, assembled on the pier awaiting the arrival of the President Lincoln, immediately began fighting the flames which still burned in the hold.

The Lincoln had sailed from Los Angeles five days ago, bound for the orient via Honolulu. It carried 168 passengers and a crew of 200.

Last evening fire had broken out among the cargo. The cause was not known. Smoke began pouring out of one of the holds.

Capt. George W. Yardley ordered live steam played into the hold while other officers mustered passengers on deck, assured them there was no danger, and helped them adjust life belts—a precaution always taken at sea.

Life boats were made ready and swung oversides in their davits.

The ship's orchestra was called on deck.

Soon the passengers were forgetting the billowing smoke.

Miss Elizabeth Dunfeath of Honolulu picked up the strains of the orchestra and began dancing.

While the crew drove the ship full speed ahead toward Honolulu, the radio sent out calls for help.

The coast guard cutter Itasca answered, followed by a naval destroyer. The Matson liner Lurline, which was in the vicinity, stood ready to give help.

Early this morning the Itasca met the President Lincoln and convoyed the liner into port, although her assistance was not necessary.

The Lincoln reached its pier soon after 6:30 a. m. (Honolulu time) and the passengers were gay as they came ashore.

Rumors had been spread that the fire was traceable in some way to the Pacific coast longshoremen's strike but were denied by Dollar line agents.

Firemen believed they could confine the fire and the damage to the cargo which consisted mainly of cotton.

ATTEMPTED COUP IN LITHUANIA FAILURE

BERLIN, June 7.—(UP)—Augustinas Valdemaras, former fascist premier, attempted a coup today in Lithuania, the United Press was advised by telephone from Kovno.

The ministry of defense admitted a Valdemaras Putsch plan had been discovered but that he had "insufficient strength to carry it through." The ministry said Valdemaras himself was not in Novno, although he was in Lithuania, and the government might order his arrest.

THREE KILLED AS AIRPLANE CRASHES

HICO, Tex., June 7.—(UP)—An airplane caught fire in the air here last night, spiralled to earth and killed its three passengers.

The dead: Earl Lynch, 38, pilot; Miss Lola Mae Williamson, 26 and Bill Blair, 25, mechanic, all of Hico.

Firemen played streams of water on the flaming wreckage for 15 minutes before the bodies could be removed.

Cause of the fire and crash could not be determined.

PLANE VICTOR IN RACE WITH DEATH

BALTIMORE, Md., June 7.—(UP)—An eastern air line plane won a 700-mile race with death today, bringing 3-year-old Martha Ann Greenwood to Johns Hopkins hospital from Greenville, S. C., for an emergency brain operation.

The child has been unconscious since Saturday when she lapsed into a coma after an attack of the measles. An abscess of the brain developed. Doctors communicated with Dr. Walter E Dandy, Johns Hopkins brain surgeon, who ordered her immediate removal to Baltimore.

Doctors said that Martha Ann's condition was grave, but that she had withstood the trip well.

DIGEST OF WATER REPORT TO CONGRESS SHOWS S. A. RIVER BASIN PROJECT IS FAVORED

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—The President's Commission on Water Flow today made public a digest of its report, which outlined flood control projects calling for expenditure of millions of dollars in the Pacific area.

The projects included:

Improvements in the Santa Ana river basin the major works proposed consisting of large reservoirs in or immediately above lower Santa Ana canyon and in other nearby canyons. The proposed improvements in the various sections of the watershed, with their cost are as follows:

Upper Santa Ana Valley, $4,475,500.

Lower Santa Ana River canyon, $8,472,000.

Lower Santa Ana River Valley, $2,308,000.

Total cost, $15,255,500.

Subtracting cost of work already completed, the committee estimated cost of completion of the above projects at $14,455,500.

Flood control and conservation programs for the Santa Ana river have been worked out by local interests and the state of California, the report said.

Flood Control

"Flood control features of the proposed plan contemplates protection from a flood having a discharge of twice the 1916 flood. The largest on record, and the conservation of from 40,000 to 45,000 acre feet of water that now goes to waste.

GRAND JURY TO INDICT YOUNG SLAYER TODAY

Louis Rude Payne Refuses to Repeat His Story of Double Ax Murder

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—(UP)—The Los Angeles county grand jury today prepared an indictment charging Louis Rude Payne, 21, with murder for hacking his mother and younger brother to death with an axe.

District Attorney Buron Fitts said the indictment would be returned this afternoon and that Payne would be arraigned immediately thereafter.

The youth, refused permission to attend the funeral of his victims, appeared before the jury only long enough to refuse to repeat to that body his story of the crime.

As the youth walked with bowed head into the grand jury chambers, his father, Lucius F. Payne of St. Louis, wept in the Little Church of the Flowers over the biers of his wife, Mrs. Carrie L. Payne, 45, and his other son, Willis Robert.

The services were brief, followed by cremation. They were closed to the public.

Young Payne, on advice of his attorneys, refused to testify before the jury and spent no more than one minute in the chambers.

Other witnesses gave the jury a complete picture of the crime, which Payne confessed but could not explain except that "little things" led up to it.

WOMEN OF STATE HOLD MEET TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(UP)—The California Federation of women's clubs, led by Miss Josephine G. Seaman of La Jolla, held its annual summer planning conference here today.

Officers, state chairmen, district presidents and county leaders of the organization assembled to plan the work for the coming year. There were 100 delegates registered at the Western Women's club, headquarters of the session.

Miss Seaman said the federation this year will work principally for legislative action to free the state judiciary from political influence and for better conditions among women prisoners at Tehachapi.

QUINTUPLETS SHOW GAIN IN STRENGTH

NORTH BAY, Ont., June 7.—(UP)—The Dionne quintuplets, apparently thriving in their two incubators, continued to improve today and Dr. A. R. Dafoe, attending physician, appeared encouraged by the infants' increasing strength.

Dr. Dafoe's professional caution, however, led him to warn observers that "anything might happen" in 24 hours. With the aid of three nurses, the doctor has been in almost constant attendance upon the babies.

Mrs. Oliva Dionne, the mother, will be permitted to sit up for a short time tomorrow, and probably will be allowed to see the quintuplets in their incubators.

PROGRESSIVES DISAPPOINTED WITH FLETCHER

Movement for Third Party Speeded After Republican Selection

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—The movement for a third party composed of progressive Republicans was speeded up today as a result of the selection of Henry P. Fletcher as national chairman of the regular Republican organization.

Sen. Robert M. LaFollette jr., who is seeking re-election through a new party organization in Wisconsin, said he believed Fletcher's election would give a "tremendous impetus" to the third party movement throughout the nation.

"I think this action completely justifies the conference of Wisconsin progressives to form a new party," he said.

It was believed also that Fletcher's selection would serve to widen the breach between the regular Republican group and other independent senate Republicans such as Borah of Idaho, Norris of Nebraska, Frazier and Nye of North Dakota, and Cutting of New Mexico.

Borah said recently that the Republican party would die as the old Whig party died unless it injected a more liberal and progressive element into its national leadership.

LaFollette said the Fletcher selection threw the party control back to "the Hoover-Mellon-Reed crowd."

"This choice of a chairman serves notice on millions of progressive voters that the party does not desire their support," he said.

"A campaign such as this, based on blind reaction, is doomed to failure before it even starts."

Regular Republicans in the senate appeared disappointed for the most part that the republican national committee had not named a western man.

Fletcher, suave and affable, was identified closely with the Hoover administration. He is said still to favor the former president, although Mr. Hoover refused to appoint Fletcher to the post he desired as ambassador to Great Britain.

Senate Democrats felt that their chances of success in the summer political campaigns were increased by the Fletcher selection. They said, mostly in private that they were convinced the country would not support any politics smacking of the Hoover administration.

FIRST LADY VISIT IN WEST VIRGINIA

GRAFTON, W. Va., June 7.—(UP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt arrived here early today on her way to visit "new frontiers" established under the new deal. A brass band and scores of villagers greeted Mrs. Roosevelt and her party.

Mrs. Roosevelt spoke briefly, saying her visit was not for political purposes, but to see progress of two projects in which she was interested. They are the Tygart valley homestead, chiefly for jobless lumbermen, and the Reedsville project to give work to jobless miners.

12 MILLION GAIN OVER LAST YEAR

Average Increase of $1.75 Per Box for Valencias Reflects Better Times

LEMON PRICES SOAR

Top Price of $6.05 Paid in Eastern Market on Wednesday for Valencias

SHOWING AN average increase of $1.75 per box for valencia oranges over that of a year ago, and reflecting results of the prorate program and a general improvement of financial conditions throughout the United States, a comparison of auction citrus prices indicated today that Orange county valencia growers will receive an approximate increase of $12,000,000 for their 1934 crop, on the basis of an estimated shipment equivalent to last year.

The top price for valencias in the eastern market yesterday was $6.05 per box, more than one-and-a-half dollars higher than last season, while the top price for lemons was $9. An increase of 90 cents per box over the average price for lemons last year, also predicted a gain of an additional $600,000 to county citrus growers.

It is estimated the present crop of valencias will reach the 7,255,000 box mark of the 1933 season, and will find a strengthened market because navel oranges, which were still selling at this time last year, are now off the market.

The substantial increases in price reflect the effective operation of the pro-rate plan, and indicate financial conditions of the east have shown great improvement, observers declare.

Harold Wahlberg, county farm adviser, gives much credit to the AAA for producing the extra profit, and urges all growers to insist that the packers live up to their agreements. There has been 100 per cent regulation of crops this year, as compared to the flooded market of last season, he pointed out.

On the market page of today's Register will be found a comparison of citrus prices of Thursday a year ago with those of today.

OPEN BIDS TODAY ON AMERICAN CANAL

YUMA, Ariz., June 7.—(UP)—Representatives of some of the most prominent construction firms in the United States filled the offices of the reclamation bureau in the new federal building here today as bids were opened on the proposed $28,000,000 All American canal.

The canal will carry irrigation water from the Colorado river to the Imperial valley of California.

Six schedules, or the first six units, including excavation of 40,000,000 yards of common dirt and 500,000 cubic yards of rock over the proposed 30-mile route of the canal were the list of bids to be opened.

The Six Companies Inc., builders of Boulder Dam near Las Vegas, Nev., were among the 35 contractors submitting bids to Ray L. Priest, government engineer in charge of the work here.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—Over the shouted protests of Republicans, the house passed and sent to the senate the unemployment census bill today, providing for hiring of 105,000 eprsons next November (election month).

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today ordered full speed aheal in providing government relief to drought victims of the middle west in a conference with Harry Hopkins, relief administrator and Lewis Douglas, budget director.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(UP)—Details of a new federal proposal to end the Pacific Coast longshoremen's strike were received here today by Henry F. Grady, chairman of President Roosevelt's arbiation board.

SEVEN INJURED, 4 SERIOUSLY IN COUNTY WRECKS

One person is near death, three others are suffering from serious injuries and a total of seven persons were hurt as the result of four accidents in Orange county yesterday and this morning.

Harold Lee Barnum, 19, University of Southern California student and member of a prominent Riverside family, is in a critical condition in the Santa Ana Valley hospital and two passengers in his car were hurt as the result of a wreck on Newport boulevard at Del Mar avenue, near the Santa Ana Country club, at 2 a. m. today. Barnum apparently fell asleep at the wheel and the car left the pavement, struck a tree and overturned.

Barnum suffered a possible skull fracture, internal injuries and serious cuts and bruises while Miss Marion Garrison, 19, of Riverside, received severe lacerations and cuts. She is also confined in the Santa Ana hospital. Miss Eileen Davidson, 19, of Riverside, was not hurt seriously enough to be confined in the hospital but was given first aid treatment.

Barnum is the son of Mrs. Fred J. Krinard, whose husband has large citrus packing holdings in Riverside. The youth had been to Laguna Beach to see friends and was returning at the time of the accident. The three persons were rushed to Santa Ana in an ambulance.

Fred Scherer, 45, Huntington Park, and an unknown passenger in his car were hurt this morning when Scherer's car sideswiped the truck of Hagemi Murakami, 23, R. D. 1, Orange, left the pavement, struck a telephone pole and stopped in a ditch.

Howard Keiner, Huntington Beach, driver of a car involved in an accident on the long hill north of Fullerton on the Fullerton-Brea road at 4 p. m. yesterday, was taken to the Fullerton General hospital with serious head injuries. It was reported that he was attempting to pass a car and collided with a machine driven by A. W. Cruchley, Long Beach, who was not injured.

Fred E. Finch, 68, Costa Mesa, sustained severe cuts and bruises about his head and shoulders yesterday when his car and a machine driven by F. M. Stange, 36, Newport Beach, collided at Fairview boulevard and Victoria street in Costa Mesa. Finch was rendered unconscious when he was thrown from the car but was removed to his home after being given first aid treatment by a physician.

WILL ROGERS says:

HOLLYWOOD, June 7. (To the Editor of The Register:) Glad to see the Republican party honor Henry Fletcher, ex-Ambassador to Italy. He is a very able man. They made him chairman of the Republican National Committee. Course you got to use a little humor when you say it's an honor to hand a man the Republican party to run at this time. It's sorter like giving you an empty gun to protect yourself. Henry will do 'em as good a job as anybody could, if he confines 'em to constructive criticism; Mr. Roosevelt has a unique position in the feelings of the people. They will let you throw a brick at him, but it's got to be loaded with something besides political mud.

WILL ROGERS.

M'Fadden Named State Director Of Farm Bureau

Ralph J. McFadden, of Placentia, former president of the Orange County Farm Bureau, today was elected as director from Orange county to the state Farm Bureau, to succeed John W. Crill, of Garden Grove, also a former head of the county unit.

The Farm Bureau directors made the selection at a meeting today. Under the by-laws of the Farm Bureau, Crill became ineligible to hold office in the organization by becoming a candidate for political office. He recently announced his candidacy for election as county supervisor from the second district.

4 MORE TAKE OUT NOMINATION PAPERS

Four additional applications for nomination petitions were made today at the county clerk's office by prospective political candidates, bringing the total of applications to date to 92.

The new applications were: W. C. Poe, Los Alamitos, supervisor second district; W. H. Jones, Huntington Beach, constable; John E. Whitfield, Huntington Beach, justice of the peace; Lyle C. Kelly, Tustin, justice of the peace.

DIGEST OF WATER REPORT TO CONGRESS SHOWS S. A. RIVER BASIN PROJECT IS FAVORED

"The works proposed for flood control and conservation in the 'upper valley' and those proposed for the 'lower basin' are largely independent of each other as each project solves a local problem and has a negligible effect on other sections of the stream."

The proposed improvements in the various sections of the Santa Ana watershed, with cost, are as follows:

Upper Santa Ana Valley: Lytle creek, $1,135,500. Main Santa Ana river, $1,069,700. San Antonio creek, $558,500. Mill creek, $42,800. San Timateo creek, $140,800. Miscellaneous creeks north of San Bernardino, $178,400. Cucomingo creek, $241,400. Deer, Day and Cucomingo creeks, $1,108,400. Total, $4,475,500.

Lower S. R. River

Lower Santa Ana river canyon: Jurupa reservoir, $7,322,000. Diversion works, conduit, $1,150,000. Total, $8,472,000.

Lower Santa Ana River Valley (lower basin): Santiago creek, reservoir and channel, $499,000. Main Santa Ana river, $125,000. Brea creek, reservoir and channel, $785,000. Carbon creek reservoir and channel, $623,000. Fullerton reservoir, $150,000. Miscellaneous channel, work, $126,000. Total, $2,308,000. Grand total, $15,255,500.

Subtraction of cost of work already ocmpleted from this amount leaves the estimated cost of the projects at $14,455,500.

Other projects are:

Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, $672,260,000; Colorado river, irrigation works, $533,000,000; Utah lake basin — reservoirs, conduits, etc., $16,000,000; Snake river, storage works, conduits, etc., $258,000; Gila river basin, $40,000,000 for watershed, improvement o irrigation facilities.

ALIEN HELD FOR FIREARM CHARGE

Fortino Castro, 24, 913 East Pine street, changed his mind overnight regarding court procedure and was bound over to the superior court yesterday by Judge Kenneth Morrison on a charge of possession of fire arms by an alien.

Castro was arraigned in justice court Tuesday afternoon and had his preliminary hearing set for June 11 at 9 a. m. He appeared in court yesterday with his attorney, W. Maxwell Burke, and asked to waive his preliminary hearing. Bail was set at $500 by Judge Morrison, pending the filing of the information in superior court.

JURY FAILS TO REACH VERDICT IN LIQUOR CASE

For the third time in the five jury trials that have been held in police court again a group of 20 alleged liquor law violators, who were arrested following a police department investigation, the jury disagreed and was dismissed yesterday after deliberating on evidence presented against Charles Clark and Vern Speich, proprietors of Charlie's Barn cafe, who were charged with operating and conducting a public barroom and saloon.

The jury was out nearly six hours without reaching a verdict and stood eight to four for acquittal, it was understood unofficially.

When the jury was dismissed by Judge J. G. Mitchell at 5 o'clock last evening, City Attorney Clyde Downing announced that he would re-try the case and the date of July 12 was set for the rehearing. At the same time, Downing announced that the jury trial of Mrs. J. B. Moralice, proprietor of the Santa Ana cafe and charged with the same offense as Clark and Speich, would not be held today.

Downing was required to leave for San Francisco on important city business regarding the 1915 improvement bond act and will not return until next week. No date has been set for the hearing of the Moralice case. On the present calendar, the next scheduled case is that of E. F. Hardy, who will be tried before a jury next Tuesday on the barroom charge.

The Barn trial was marked by sensational charges from police investigators of liquor law violations and disorderly conduct in the South Main street establishment, and the denial of the proprietors that there was ever drunkenness or such conditions there. Attorney Alex Nelson represented the defendants.

There have been various decisions and results on the seven liquor trials held to date. D. J. Wallace, colored, charged with selling whiskey not in the original containers and without a license, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the county jail for 90 days. E. J. Minneman, tried on the barroom charge by a jury, was found guilty, fined $200 and is preparing an appeal on the decision, having posted a $200 appeal bond.

Jesus Castillo, charged with the barroom violation, was acquitted by a jury. H. C. O'Brien, charged with the same offense, was tried without a jury and Judge Mitchell has yet to announce his decision.

Juries failed to agree and were dismissed in the trials of A. F. Granas, charged with selling liquor after midnight, G. C. Clark, and Speich and Charles Clark, all three charged with operating a barroom.

DIVERS WILL HUNT FOR WRECKED PLANE

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 7. — (UP) — Diving equipment brought here by two naval tugs from San Diego was employed today in the search for the body of Lieut. Ludwig Schreuder of San Diego, believed to have been the lone occupant of a naval plane which crashed off Point Concepcion.

Identity of the craft was established as bits of wreckage were washed ashore bearing naval numerals.

Schreuder, who was en route from Oakland to Long Beach, apparently crashed when the motor of his ship failed while several hundred yards off shore. Workmen on the Southern Pacific tracks witnessed the fatal plunge.

CREEL VISITS COUNTY; TO BE HERE TONIGHT

George Creel, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, was a visitor in Orange county today while making a hurried get-acquainted tour of the state, and while here was conferring with local Democratic and community leaders.

He plans to return within a few weeks on a speaking tour, when a series of public mass meetings will be held that he may declare his platform to the people and become acquainted with thousands of voters, it was announced. Creel likes to "visit with the folks" and no elaborate plans were made for the current visitation, so that he might have an opportunity to become personally acquainted with his supporters.

At noon, arriving from San Diego, Creel was entertained at lunch by a group of Laguna Beach supporters, augmented by a welcoming committee from Santa Ana. This afternoon he was to meet with small groups in Anaheim and Fullerton, and this evening he is to be guest of honor at a dinner, given at the Green Cat cafe at 6:30 o'clock.

Voters are invited to attend and meet Creel, either at the dinner, or at 7:30 following the dinner, when the candidate will hold "open house" and discuss topics of interest in the coming campaign. Creel is acquainting himself with every part of the state and desires to meet and learn the wishes of as many Orange county men and women as possible while here, it was announced.

Creel is a widely known magazine writer and close friend of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He is being escorted on the present get-acquainted tour through this part of the state by H. H. Cotton, prominent Democratic leader of San Clemente and Los Angeles.

There is one dentist for every 1700 persons in the United States.

UNEXPECTED GOOD FORTUNE BRINGS JOY TO S. A. FAMILY

Like a gift from the gods, news that he had won $12,540 on a lottery ticket on the English Derby at Epson Downs yesterday was broken to Richard H. Hackelton, 19, 606 West Sixth street, by The Register yesterday.

The lucky young man is a member of the C. C. C. camp at San Juan Capistrano and had no inkling of his good fortune until yesterday afternoon. Equally happy were his mother, Mrs. Blanche Hackelton, his sister, Dorothy, and two brothers, Claude and Raymond, all of Santa Ana.

The winning ticket was purchased by Mrs. May Dawson, of Quincy, Mass., aunt of young Hackelton, who apparently placed it in his name without his knowledge. The ticket was on Colombo, who took third in the race.

The story of the money and the Hackelton family reads like a fairy tale. The family took a trip to Massachusetts, their former home, about four years ago and Mrs. Dawson took a great liking to Richard, then only 15 years of age. After the family returned here the pinch of depression began to appear, as it did to so many American families, and was climaxed two years ago with the death of the father, who was a composer, musician and teacher.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Hackelton, who is an accomplished musician and teacher, the family was held together and supported. Richard took what odd jobs he could find and finally secured an appointment to the C. C. C. camp two months ago.

He was nearly speechless with surprise yesterday at the camp when told of his good fortune. He declared that he would keep a level head and not be lured by the many offers to buy things. He said unselfishly that the money will go to the family and probably include the securing of a new home. Although he was not able to make plans on such short notice, he will probably stay at the government camp until his term expires in four months, he said.

Details on how the money will be paid to Hackelton have not been learned, but he is communicating with his aunt to learn of her part in the transaction. It is known that he is one of eight Americans who won major prizes in the race from the Army and Navy veterans sweepstakes, sponsored by Quebec unit 33.

F. Spivy of Danville, Ill., and "Dearborn and Dodge" of Woodsville, N. H. won $35,000 each when Windsor Lad won the race. Mrs. Helen Jassinger, New York city and Donald Gordon, Lynn, Mass., with tickets on Gaston, which ran second, will collect approximately $25,000 and Hackelton, with the ticket under the nom de plume of May Dawson, and "no signature," Allendale, North Dakota, won $12,000 each for third place with Colombo. J. S. Predergast, Malden, Mass., and H. Gobert, Bronx, N. Y., will net approximately $5000 each for their tickets on Tiberius which ran fourth and 300 other prize winners will divide $95,471 on the drawing.

Although it is not known how much Mrs. Dawson paid for the lucky ticket, it is probably $1 or $1.50, it was learned.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(UP)—Sammy Slaughter, Terre Haute, Ind. Negro, finished fast here last night to win a 10-round decision from Kid Leonard of Chicago. Slaughter forced the fighting and was more aggressive than the Chicago Belgian. The winner weighed 163 1-2 and Leonard two pounds less.

NAVY PLANNING TO EXTEND ITS FORCES IN AIR

and the Langley, a small experimental ship," the admiral said.

"The Ranger, however, is the only ship built by the navy from the keel up as an aircraft carrier. In her construction, we were able to see improvements, which we have carried out in the Yorktown and Enterprise.

"We feel that 20,000 tons is a more desirable size for a carrier than 13,800 because it permits carrying of the necessary heavier bombing and torpedo planes."

He said building 225 planes this year was a "big step" toward securing the desired ratio of planes to ships. He expect to see approximately 200 planes more in 1936.

"In 1926, congress authorized a maximum of 1,000 efficient naval planes—about our present strength," said King. "In the meantime we have launched more than a dozen new cruisers, another aircraft carrier and two dirigibles.

"Our ratio of planes to ships has decreased heavily since 1926. We hope to restore it by 1939."

Asked if there was any talk of scrapping the giant Lexington and Saratoga to build more smaller carriers within the treaty limitations, Admiral King replied, "No.

SEVEN INJURED, 4 SERIOUSLY IN COUNTY WRECKS

One person is near death, three others are suffering from serious injuries and a total of seven persons were hurt as the result of four accidents in Orange county yesterday and this morning.

Harold Lee Barnum, 19, University of Southern California student and member of a prominent Riverside family, is in a critical condition in the Santa Ana Valley hospital and two passengers in his car were hurt as the result of a wreck on Newport boulevard at Del Mar avenue, near the Santa Ana Country club, at 2 a. m. today. Barnum apparently fell asleep at the wheel and the car left the pavement, struck a tree and overturned.

Barnum suffered a possible skull fracture, internal injuries and serious cuts and bruises while Miss Marion Garrison, 19, of Riverside, received severe lacerations and cuts. She is also confined in the Santa Ana hospital. Miss Eilleen Davidson, 19, of Riverside, was not hurt seriously enough to be confined in the hospital but was given first aid treatment.

Barnum is the son of Mrs. Fred J. Krinard, whose husband has large citrus packing holdings in Riverside. The youth had been to Laguna Beach to see friends and was returning at the time of the accident. The three persons were rushed to Santa Ana in an ambulance.

Fred Scherer, 45, Huntington Park, and an unknown passenger in his car were hurt this morning when Scherer's car sideswiped the truck of Hagemi Murakami, 23, R. D. 1, Orange, left the pavement, struck a telephone pole and stopped in a ditch.

Howard Keiner, Huntington Beach, driver of a car involved in an accident on the long hill north of Fullerton on the Fullerton-Brea road at 4 p. m. yesterday, was taken to the Fullerton General hospital with serious head injuries. It was reported that he was attempting to pass a car and collided with a machine driven by A. W. Cruchley, Long Beach, who was not injured.

Fred E. Finch, 68, Costa Mesa, sustained severe cuts and bruises about his head and shoulders yesterday when his car and a machine driven by F. M. Stange, 36, Newport Beach, collided at Fairview boulevard and Victoria street in Costa Mesa. Finch was rendered unconscious when he was thrown from the car but was removed to his home after being given first aid treatment by a physician.

WILL ROGERS says:

HOLLYWOOD, June 7. (To the Editor of The Register:) Glad to see the Republican party honor Henry Fletcher, ex-Ambassador to Italy. He is a very able man. They made him chairman of the Republican National Committee. Course you got to use a little humor when you say it's an honor to hand a man the Republican party to run at this time. It's sorter like giving you an empty gun to protect yourself. Henry will do 'em as good a job as anybody could, if he confines 'em to constructive criticism; Mr. Roosevelt has a unique position in the feelings of the people. They will let you throw a brick at him, but it's got to be loaded with something besides political mud.

WILL ROGERS.

M'Fadden Named State Director Of Farm Bureau

Ralph J. McFadden, of Placentia, former president of the Orange County Farm Bureau, today was elected as director from Orange county to the state Farm Bureau, to succeed John W. Crill, of Garden Grove, also a former head of the county unit.

The Farm Bureau directors made the selection at a meeting today. Under the by-laws of the Farm Bureau, Crill became ineligible to hold office in the organization by becoming a candidate for political office. He recently announced his candidacy for election as county supervisor from the second district.

4 MORE TAKE OUT NOMINATION PAPERS

Four additional applications for nomination petitions were made today at the county clerk's office by prospective political candidates, bringing the total of applications to date to 92.

The new applications were: W. C. Poe, Los Alamitos, supervisor second district; W. H. Jones, Huntington Beach, constable; John E. Whitfield, Huntington Beach, justice of the peace; Lyle C. Kelly, Tustin, justice of the peace.

DIGEST OF WATER REPORT TO CONGRESS SHOWS S. A. RIVER BASIN PROJECT IS FAVORED

"The works proposed for flood control and conservation in the 'upper valley' and those proposed for the 'lower basin' are largely independent of each other as each project solves a local problem and has a negligible effect on other sections of the stream."

The proposed improvements in the various sections of the Santa Ana watershed, with cost, are as follows:

Upper Santa Ana Valley: Lytle creek, $1,135,500. Main Santa Ana river, $1,069,700. San Antonio creek, $558,500. Mill creek, $42,800. San Timateo creek, $140,800. Miscellaneous creeks north of San Bernardino, $178,400. Cucomingo creek, $241,400. Deer, Day and Cucomingo creeks, $1,108,400. Total, $4,475,500.

Lower S. R. River

Lower Santa Ana river canyon: Jurupa reservoir, $7,322,000. Diversion works, conduit, $1,150,000. Total, $8,472,000.

Lower Santa Ana River Valley (lower basin): Santiago creek, reservoir and channel, $499,000. Main Santa Ana river, $125,000. Brea creek, reservoir and channel, $785,000. Carbon creek reservoir and channel, $623,000. Fullerton reservoir, $150,000. Miscellaneous channel, work, $126,000. Total, $2,308,000. Grand total, $15,255,500.

Subtraction of cost of work already completed from this amount leaves the estimated cost of the projects at $14,455,500.

Other projects are:

Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, $672,260,000; Colorado river, irrigation works, $533,000,000; Utah lake basin — reservoirs, conduits, etc., $16,000,000; Snake river, storage works, conduits, etc., $258,000; Gila river basin, $40,000,000 for watershed, improvement o irrigation facilities.

ALIEN HELD FOR FIREARM CHARGE

Fortino Castro, 24, 913 East Pine street, changed his mind overnight regarding court procedure and was bound over to the superior court yesterday by Judge Kenneth Morrison on a charge of possession of fire arms by an alien.

Castro was arraigned in justice court Tuesday afternoon and had his preliminary hearing set for June 11 at 9 a. m. He appeared in court yesterday with his attorney, W. Maxwell Burke, and asked to waive his preliminary hearing. Bail was set at $500 by Judge Morrison, pending the filing of the information in superior court.

JURY FAILS TO REACH VERDICT IN LIQUOR CASE

For the third time in the five jury trials that have been held in police court again a group of 20 alleged liquor law violators, who were arrested following a police department investigation, the jury disagreed and was dismissed yesterday after deliberating on evidence presented against Charles Clark and Vern Speich, proprietors of Charlie's Barn cafe, who were charged with operating and conducting a public barroom and saloon.

The jury was out nearly six hours without reaching a verdict and stood eight to four for acquittal, it was understood unofficially.

When the jury was dismissed by Judge J. G. Mitchell at 5 o'clock last evening, City Attorney Clyde Downing announced that he would re-try the case and the date of July 12 was set for the rehearing. At the same time, Downing announced that the jury trial of Mrs. J. B. Moralice, proprietor of the Santa Ana cafe and charged with the same offense as Clark and Speich, would not be held today.

Downing was required to leave for San Francisco on important city business regarding the 1915 improvement bond act and will not return until next week. No date has been set for the hearing of the Moralice case. On the present calendar, the next scheduled case is that of E. F. Hardy, who will be tried before a jury next Tuesday on the barroom charge.

The Barn trial was marked by sensational charges from police investigators of liquor law violations and disorderly conduct in the South Main street establishment, and the denial of the proprietors that there was ever drunkenness or such conditions there. Attorney Alex Nelson represented the defendants.

There have been various decisions and results on the seven liquor trials held to date. D. J. Wallace, colored, charged with selling whiskey not in the original containers and without a license, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the county jail for 90 days. E. J. Minneman, tried on the barroom charge by a jury, was found guilty, fined $200 and is preparing an appeal on the decision, having posted a $200 appeal bond.

Jesus Castillo, charged with the barroom violation, was acquitted by a jury. H. C. O'Brien, charged with the same offense, was tried without a jury and Judge Mitchell has yet to announce his decision.

Juries failed to agree and were dismissed in the trials of A. F. Granas, charged with selling liquor after midnight, G. C. Clark, and Speich and Charles Clark, all three charged with operating a barroom.

DIVERS WILL HUNT FOR WRECKED PLANE

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 7. — (UP) — Diving equipment brought here by two naval tugs from San Diego was employed today in the search for the body of Lieut. Ludwig Schreuder of San Diego, believed to have been the lone occupant of a naval plane which crashed off Point Concepcion.

Identity of the craft was established as bits of wreckage were washed ashore bearing naval numerals.

Schreuder, who was en route from Oakland to Long Beach, apparently crashed when the motor of his ship failed while several hundred yards off shore. Workmen on the Southern Pacific tracks witnessed the fatal plunge.

CREEL VISITS COUNTY; TO BE HERE TONIGHT

George Creel, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, was a visitor in Orange county today while making a hurried get-acquainted tour of the state, and while here was conferring with local Democratic and community leaders.

He plans to return within a few weeks on a speaking tour, when a series of public mass meetings will be held that he may declare his platform to the people and become acquainted with thousands of voters, it was announced. Creel likes to "visit with the folks" and no elaborate plans were made for the current visitation, so that he might have an opportunity to become personally acquainted with his supporters.

At noon, arriving from San Diego, Creel was entertained at lunch by a group of Laguna Beach supporters, augmented by a welcoming committee from Santa Ana. This afternoon he was to meet with small groups in Anaheim and Fullerton, and this evening he is to be guest of honor at a dinner, given at the Green Cat cafe at 6:30 o'clock.

Voters are invited to attend and meet Creel, either at the dinner, or at 7:30 following the dinner, when the candidate will hold "open house" and discuss topics of interest in the coming campaign. Creel is acquainting himself with every part of the state and desires to meet and learn the wishes of as many Orange county men and women as possible while here, it was announced.

Creel is a widely known magazine writer and close friend of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He is being escorted on the present get-acquainted tour through this part of the state by H. H. Cotton, prominent Democratic leader of San Clemente and Los Angeles.

UNEXPECTED GOOD FORTUNE BRINGS JOY TO S. A. FAMILY

Like a gift from the gods, news that he had won $12,540 on a lottery ticket on the English Derby at Epson Downs yesterday was broken to Richard H. Hackelton, 19, 606 West Sixth street, by The Register yesterday.

The lucky young man is a member of the C. C. C. camp at San Juan Capistrano and had no inkling of his good fortune until yesterday afternoon. Equally happy were his mother, Mrs. Blanche Hackelton, his sister, Dorothy, and two brothers, Claude and Raymond, all of Santa Ana.

The winning ticket was purchased by Mrs. May Dawson, of Quincy, Mass., aunt of young Hackelton, who apparently placed it in his name without his knowledge. The ticket was on Colombo, who took third in the race.

The story of the money and the Hackelton family reads like a fairy tale. The family took a trip to Massachusetts, their former home, about four years ago and Mrs. Dawson took a great liking to Richard, then only 15 years of age. After the family returned here the pinch of depression began to appear, as it did to so many American families, and was climaxed two years ago with the death of the father, who was a composer, musician and teacher.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Hackelton, who is an accomplished musician and teacher, the family was held together and supported. Richard took what odd jobs he could find and finally secured an appointment to the C. C. C. camp two months ago.

He was nearly speechless with surprise yesterday at the camp when told of his good fortune. He declared that he would keep a level head and not be lured by the many offers to buy things. He said unselfishly that the money will go to the family and probably include the securing of a new home. Although he was not able to make plans on such short notice, he will probably stay at the government camp until his term expires in four months, he said.

Details on how the money will be paid to Hackelton have not been learned, but he is communicating with his aunt to learn of her part in the transaction. It is known that he is one of eight Americans who won major prizes in the race from the Army and Navy veterans sweepstakes, sponsored by Quebec unit 33.

F. Spivy of Danville, Ill., and "Dearborn and Dodge" of Woodsville, N. H. won $35,000 each when Windsor Lad won the race. Mrs. Helen Jassinger, New York city and Donald Gordon, Lynn, Mass., with tickets on Gaston, which ran second, will collect approximately $25,000 and Hackelton, with the ticket under the nom de plume of May Dawson, and "no signature," Allendale, North Dakota, won $12,000 each for third place with Colombo. J. S. Predergast, Malden, Mass., and H. Gobert, Bronx, N. Y., will net approximately $5000 each for their tickets on Tiberius which ran fourth and 300 other prize winners will divide $95,471 on the drawing.

Although it is not known how much Mrs. Dawson paid for the lucky ticket, it is probably $1 or $1.50, it was learned.

Slaughter's Fast Finish Wins Bout

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(UP)—Sammy Slaughter, Terre Haute, Ind. Negro, finished fast here last night to win a 10-round decision from Kid Leonard of Chicago. Slaughter forced the fighting and was more aggressive than the Chicago Belgian. The winner weighed 163 1-2 and Leonard two pounds less.

NAVY PLANNING TO EXTEND ITS FORCES IN AIR

and the Langley, a small experimental ship," the admiral said.

"The Ranger, however, is the only ship built by the navy from the keel up as an aircraft carrier. In her construction, we were able to see improvements, which we have carried out in the Yorktown and Enterprise.

"We feel that 20,000 tons is a more desirable size for a carrier than 13,800 because it permits carrying of the necessary heavier bombing and torpedo planes."

He said building 225 planes this year was a "big step" toward securing the desired ratio of planes to ships. He expect to see approximately 200 planes more in 1936.

"In 1926, congress authorized a maximum of 1,000 efficient naval planes—about our present strength," said King. "In the meantime we have launched more than a dozen new cruisers, another aircraft carrier and two dirigibles.

CHILDREN AND HOME BEREFT BY TRAGEDY

By Eleanor Young Elliott

When tragedy struck so cruelly Monday at a peaceful little Santa Ana Gardens home, and removed at one bitter blow, both the wage-earner and the home-keeper, Mr. and Mrs. James VanderWolff, the force of the blow was increased by the power of poverty, that grim brother to tragedy.

Deaths of Mr. and Mrs. VanderWolff resulted from an accident to their automobile at Trabuco creek, south of El Toro. They were returning home after having taken their eldest son to the CCC camp beyond San Juan Capistrano, and it is believed that the car skidded on a road made slippery by the rain.

Such a loss to a small family would be overwhelming under any conditions. But in the VanderWolff family it has brought a situation that seems almost too much for the surviving daughter and sons to face. To the daughter of the home, Margaret VanderWolff, eldest in the family, falls the responsibility of meeting this situation—younger children who must be clothed, and fed, a home to be maintained, and—almost the most heartbreaking of all, the burial of her father and mother.

For even in the midst of the heartache and the sorrow which follow in death's train, is the always present knowledge that there are certain formulas and routines to be observed. Death, tragic or peaceful, is a finality, but the "grim accouterments of death" remain.

How as I going to bury my father and my mother? is the haunting question that faces Margaret VanderWolff and her young brothers. James, the eldest, is in the CCC camp, it is true. But the $25 monthly which he earns in this way, cannot go very far in maintaining a home for younger members of the family. Gerritt, one of the younger lads, carries papers on a suburban paper route. That helps a little bit, but it still isn't more than a drop in the bucket. And when these brave young people look at the tiny two-year old girl in the home, can you wonder that they are puzzled and stricken at the blow that has been struck at the very foundations of that home?

Tuesday night, after Margaret VanderWolff learned that death had taken her father also, and that not only the sole responsibilities for the family rested upon her shoulders, but that there were additional responsibilities in connection with the deaths themselves, she was staggered. Neither of her parents carried insurance. Needs of daily living had been such that the time never seemed to come when they might give that watchful glance towards the future.

And Margaret VanderWolff had exactly $10—all the money that the family as a whole, had boasted in the world. And now the sad little remnant of a family is wondering amidst all the sad and tragic ruins of a home, what is going to happen when that $10 is gone?

Cruelty Charged By Three Wives In Divorce Suits

Three divorce actions were filed yesterday. Mrs. Mabel C. Snyder of Fullerton, asking a decree against Albert L. Snyder; Mrs. Doris Cullen filing suit against George W. Cullen; and Mrs. Sarah T. Williams appearing as plaintiff against Charles E. Williams. Cruelty was charged in each action.

Mrs. Snyder, who married her husband December 25, 1928, and separated from him June 5, 1932, charged that he was uncivil to her friends, and falsely accused her of infidelity.

Mrs. Cullen, also of Fullerton, charged that her husband was intemperate and cruel, forcing her to leave him April 20. They were married May 25, 1927, at Riverside. When Cullen was missing from the family Christmas dinner last Christmas they located him in the city jail she said. He frequently fell asleep in their car before the house after coming home from work, and she would be unable to awaken him from his stupor, she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were married at Tia Juana in 1929 and separated April 9, this year. She claimed that July 10, 1930, while she was suffering a nervous breakdown, he left for four months, leaving her without funds. On April 9 he left for Salt Lake City without her knowledge, she said.

L. A. OFFICER LAUDS SHERIFF'S ACT IN NAMING COLLEGE MEN; SEES NO COMMUNISM MENACE

Expressing the firm conviction that Communism will never take possession of the American people and emphasizing that peace officers must be educated and trained men to cope with the complex problems of law enforcement, John Finlinson, assistant chief of police in Los Angeles, spoke on "Crime Problems of the Day" at the monthly meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers association, held last night in the American Legion hall.

Finlinson was introduced by Sheriff Logan Jackson, who was in charge of the program.

"Many people say the county is infested with an invasion of Communism," Finlinson said. "Although I will admit that Communism is threatening at the present time and is spreading, it will never take possession of this country because any person who understands the average American knows that he will take just so much and then there will be a fight.

"Communists are making much ado concerning strikes and unemployment but will be driven out of business. There was formerly a great hue and cry over Socialism, yet it has not taken over the country. Major political parties have adopted many socialistic doctrines and Soicalist officials are often elected but socialism is still a state of idealism and it is questionable if it will ever predominate."

Compliments Jackson

Police work as a profession was urged by the speaker. He contrasted the physical requisites necessary for appointemnt as a policeman 24 years ago, when he became an officer, and the trained men that were being picked now. He paid high tribute to Sheriff Jackson for two recent apopintments of college graduates in the sheriff's office. He said that these men might not be trained policemen at the start but had an educational foundation and understanding that would elevate them in the law enforcement profession in a short time. The men he referred to were Jim Musick, former football star at the University of Southern California and James Workman, University of California crew man.

Finlinson charged that it was a disgrace to the country that a criminal like Dillinger could remain at large. He declared that citizens have not realized their duty in assisting officers and preventing the crimes of the gangster.

He urged more restrictions on marriage, the prevention of unfit parents being allowed to have children, and greater use of the sterilization law for criminals as a means of curbing poverty, depression and crime.

"Another crying need of police is more standardization and coöperation," Finlinson said. "Civil service has helped and higher institutions of learning are finally aware that they must offer instruction for officers. Police must help themselves to raise the educational standard and not be content to draw a pay check and anticipate a epnsion."

Introduce Candidates

Following Finlinson's talk, which was heard by a large group of citizens who came to the meeting after the banquet, candidates for office in the coming elections were introduced and each fined 10 cents for campaigning.

Those present included Sheriff Logan Jackson, C. E. Jackson, C. C. "Gavvy" Cravath, Sam Jernigan and Floyd Howard, candidates sheriff; B. Z. McKinney and District Attorney S. B. Kaufman, candidates for distrist attorney; Coroner Earl Abbey; Constables Jess Elliott and Cornish Roehm, and L. H. Nicholson, candidates for constable of Santa Ana; Constable George Bartley of Orange; and Sam Snodgrass, candidate for constable of Anaheim.

A varied musical program was presented before the address of the evening. A brass quartet from the Santa Ana Junior college, consisting of Harold Lutes, Robert eKily, Owen Owens and Thomas Flippen, played "Neopolitan Nights" and "Tingaling." Raymond McCall played two violin solos, accompanied by Miss Esther Vogt, and a piano solo was given by Miss Vogt.

California Highway Patrolman George Stinson, widely known as the "singing cop," sang "Because," "Home on the Range" and "Absent," acompanied by Mrs. Stinson.

President La Verne Keller of Huntington Beach presided and reported that the next meeting would be held on July 11 at his city. At the suggestion of Chief R. R. Hodgkinson of Newport Beach, a joint meeting with Los Angeles peace officers will be held this summer in Irvine park.

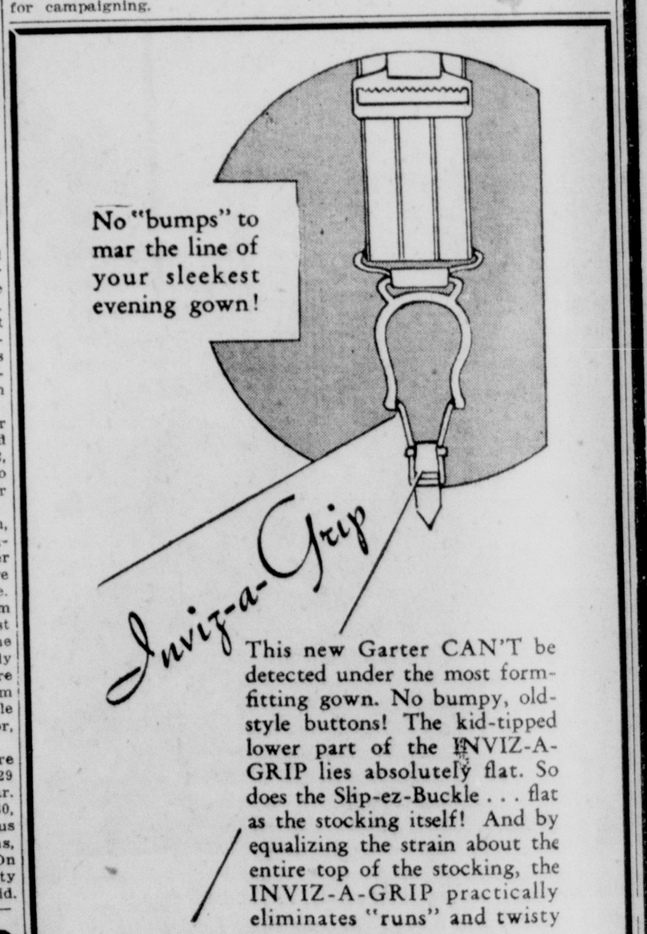

WEATHER FORECAST CHANGES STATION

LOS ANGELES, June 7. — The summer weather forecast inaugurated recently for the assistance of citrus growers of Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernardino, Riverside and Ventura counties in their pest control operations will be changed to station KNX beginning Friday, June 8, according of Floyd D. Young, U. S. weather bureau, Pomona.

The forecast will be given daily except Sunday at 12:14 p. m.

"These forecasts include maximum temperatures for two succeeding days, desert winds, humidity and other weather information," said R. S. Woglum, entomologist of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. "They should aid materially in reducing the hazards of pest control attributable to weather and make results more effective."

NINE BALLOTS BEFORE VOTERS FOR PRIMARY

Nine primary election ballots will be before the voters of California at the August primary, it was disclosed today by County Clerk J. M. Backs, with receipt of word from Secretary of State Frank Jordan that the Communist and Commonwealth parties had qualified to get themselves on the ballot.

Other parties qualified are the Republican, Democrat, Prohibition, Socialist, Progressive and Liberty. In addition there will be a ballot for voters who declined to state party affiliation, Backs said.

Backs today announced his apportionment of central committeemen of the various parties to the several supervisorial districts of the county.

Each party is allotted in each supervisorial district a figure reached by taking the total vote of each party in its supervisorial district, and dividing that total by one-twentieth of the total vote of the party in the county, as cast for its candidate for governor at the last election.

Communist, Commonwealth, Progressive and Liberty parties, who had no candidate for governor at the last election, will be assigned committeemen arbitrarily by the clerk, he said.

Assignment by supervisorial districts to the four parties who had tickets in the field at the last election was announced by Backs as follows:

	Rep.	Dem.	Pro.	Soc.
First dist.	6	7	6	5
Second dist.	3	3	3	3
Third dist.	7	6	7	8
Fourth dist.	3	3	3	3
Fifth dist.	4	3	3	4

Softball Mound Phenom Hurls 90 Strikes In Row

CHICAGO, June 7.—Matt Ruppert, said to be world champion softball pitcher was in rare form the other night at Grant park.

He stepped out on the hill and, after 10 innings, had thrown 90 straight strikes; and his team won, 1-0, for its 300th straight victory in the last two seasons.

Ruppert won his own game with a homer in the tenth.

AUTO OWNERS GET WARNING FROM ASSESSOR

About 30,000 automobile owners of Orange county have paid their automobile tax this year and the other 15,000 who have not paid their tax must do so before the first Monday in July, or lose their $100 household exemption in assessment of personal property, County Assessor James Sleeper warned today.

This warning also applied to veterans' exemption, said Sleeper. The law permits no exemptions to be allowed after the assessment period closes, the first Monday in July, so veterans were urged to make their applications for exemption before that date.

As to automobile tax, which must be paid and the registration certificate validated with a tax receipt stamp before next year's license can be obtained, that is now up to the automobile owner, said Sleeper. His deputies have covered the entire county and notices have been sent to all car owners. "It is now up to them," he stated.

Personal property collections and individual tax receipts this year have been greater than ever before, said Sleeper, although exact totals are not yet available. Nearly 9000 individual tax receipts have been issued to date, this year, more than during all of last year.

Police News

Frank Parkhurst, 32, itinerant, has been arrested for drunkenness and booked at the county jail by Officer C. V. Adams.

Jose Ybarra, 31, San Bernardino, charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace, has been booked at the county jail by Officers Gus Barnes and Horace Lucy of Placentia.

Roy Cornutt, 1006 West Myrtle street, reported to police that his bicycle was stolen from the high school Monday.

Three divorce actions were filed yesterday. Mrs. Mabel C. Snyder of Fullerton, asking a decree against Albert L. Snyder; Mrs. Doris Cullen filing suit against George W. Cullen; and Mrs. Sarah T. Williams appearing as plaintiff against Charles E. Williams. Cruelty was charged in each action.

Mrs. Snyder, who married her husband December 25, 1928, and separated from him June 5, 1932, charged that he was uncivil to her friends, and falsely accused her of infidelity.

When Cullen was missing from the family Christmas dinner last Christmas they located him in the city jail she said. He frequently fell asleep in their car before the house after coming home from work, and she would be unable to awaken him from his stupor, she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were married at Tia Juana in 1929 and separated April 9, this year. She claimed that July 10, 1930, while she was suffering a nervous breakdown, he left for four months, leaving her without funds. On April 9 he left for Salt Lake City without her knowledge, she said.

L. A. OFFICER LAUDS SHERIFF'S ACT IN NAMING COLLEGE MEN; SEES NO COMMUNISM MENACE

Expressing the firm conviction that Communism will never take possession of the American people and emphasizing that peace officers must be educated and trained men to cope with the complex problems of law enforcement, John Finlinson, assistant chief of police in Los Angeles, spoke on "Crime Problems of the Day" at the monthly meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers association, held last night in the American Legion hall.

Finlinson was introduced by Sheriff Logan Jackson, who was in charge of the program.

"Many people say the county is infested with an invasion of Communism," Finlinson said. "Although I will admit that Communism is threatening at the present time and is spreading, it will never take possession of this country because any person who understands the average American knows that he will take just so much and then there will be a fight.

"Communists are making much ado concerning strikes and unemployment but will be driven out of business. There was formerly a great hue and cry over Socialism, yet it has not taken over the country. Major political parties have adopted many socialistic doctrines and Soicalist officials are often elected but socialism is still a state of idealism and it is questionable if it will ever predominate."

Compliments Jackson

Police work as a profession was urged by the speaker. He contrasted the physical requisites necessary for appointemnt as a policeman 24 years ago, when he became an officer, and the trained men that were being picked now. He paid high tribute to Sheriff Jackson for two recent apopintments of college graduates in the sheriff's office. He said that these men might not be trained policemen at the start but had an educational foundation and understanding that would elevate them in the law enforcement profession in a short time. The men he referred to were Jim Musick, former football star at the University of Southern California and James Workman, University of California crew man.

Finlinson charged that it was a disgrace to the country that a criminal like Dillinger could remain at large. He declared that citizens have not realized their duty in assisting officers and preventing the crimes of the gangster.

He urged more restrictions on marriage, the prevention of unfit parents being allowed to have children, and greater use of the sterilization law for criminals as a means of curbing poverty, depression and crime.

"Another crying need of police is more standardization and coöperation," Finlinson said. "Civil service has helped and higher institutions of learning are finally aware that they must offer instruction for officers. Police must help themselves to raise the educational standard and not be content to draw a pay check and anticipate a epnsion."

Introduce Candidates

Following Finlinson's talk, which was heard by a large group of citizens who came to the meeting after the banquet, candidates for office in the coming elections were introduced and each fined 10 cents for campaigning.

Those present included Sheriff Logan Jackson, C. E. Jackson, C. C. "Gavvy" Cravath, Sam Jernigan and Floyd Howard, candidates sheriff; B. Z. McKinney and District Attorney S. B. Kaufman, candidates for district attorney; Coroner Earl Abbey; Constables Jess Elliott and Cornish Roehm, and L. H. Nicholson, candidates for constable of Santa Ana; Constable George Bartley of Orange; and Sam Snodgrass, candidate for constable of Anaheim.

A varied musical program was presented before the address of the evening. A brass quartet from the Santa Ana Junior college, consisting of Harold Lutes, Robert McKlly, Owen Owens and Thomas Flippen, played "Neopolitan Nights" and "Tingaling." Raymond McCall played two violin solos, accompanied by Miss Esther Vogt, and a piano solo was given by Miss Vogt.

California Highway Patrolman George Stinson, widely known as the "singing cop," sang "Because," "Home on the Range" and "Absent," acompanied by Mrs. Stinson.

President La Verne Keller of Huntington Beach presided and reported that the next meeting would be held on July 11 at his city. At the suggestion of Chief R. R. Hodgkinson of Newport Beach, a joint meeting with Los Angeles peace officers will be held this summer in Irvine park.

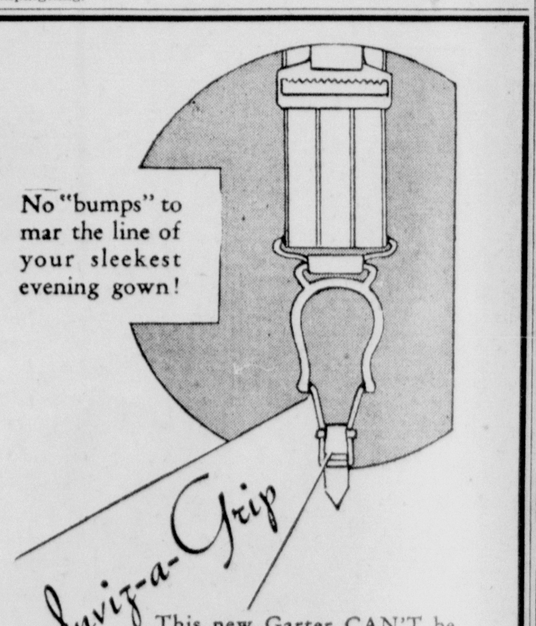

WEATHER FORECAST CHANGES STATION

LOS ANGELES, June 7. — The summer weather forecast inaugurated recently for the assistance of citrus growers of Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernardino, Riverside and Ventura counties in their pest control operations will be changed to station KNX beginning Friday, June 8, according of Floyd D. Young, U. S. weather bureau, Pomona.

The forecast will be given daily except Sunday at 12:14 p. m.

"These forecasts include maximum temperatures for two succeeding days, desert winds, humidity and other weather information," said R. S. Woglum, entomologist of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. "They should aid materially in reducing the hazards of pest control attributable to weather and make results more effective."

NINE BALLOTS BEFORE VOTERS FOR PRIMARY

Nine primary election ballots will be before the voters of California at the August primary, it was disclosed today by County Clerk J. M. Backs, with receipt of word from Secretary of State Frank Jordan that the Communist and Commonwealth parties had qualified to get themselves on the ballot.

Other parties qualified are the Republican, Democrat, Prohibition, Socialist, Progressive and Liberty. In addition there will be a ballot for voters who declined to state party affiliation Backs said.

Backs today announced his apportionment of central committeemen of the various parties to the several supervisorial districts of the county.

Each party is allotted in each supervisorial district a figure reached by taking the total vote of each party in its supervisorial district, and dividing that total by one-twentieth of the total vote of the party in the county, as cast for its candidate for governor at the last election.

Communist, Commonwealth, Progressive and Liberty parties, who had no candidate for governor at the last election, will be assigned committeemen arbitrarily by the clerk, he said.

Assignment by supervisorial districts to the four parties who had tickets in the field at the last election was announced by Backs as follows:

	Rep.	Dem.	Pro.	Soc.
First dist.	6	7	6	5
Second dist.	3	3	3	3
Third dist.	7	6	7	8
Fourth dist.	3	3	3	3
Fifth dist.	4	3	3	4

Softball Mound Phenom Hurls 90 Strikes In Row

CHICAGO, June 7.—Matt Ruppert, said to be world champion softball pitcher was in rare form the other night at Grant park.

He stepped out on the hill and, after 10 innings, had thrown 90 straight strikes; and his team won, 1-0, for its 300th straight victory in the last two seasons.

Ruppert won his own game with a homer in the tenth.

AUTO OWNERS GET WARNING FROM ASSESSOR

About 30,000 automobile owners of Orange county have paid their automobile tax this year and the other 15,000 who have not paid their tax must do so before the first Monday in July, or lose their $100 household exemption in assessment of personal property County Assessor James Sleeper warned today.

This warning also applied to veterans' exemption, said Sleeper. The law permits no exemptions to be allowed after the assessment period closes, the first Monday in July, so veterans were urged to make their applications for exemption before that date.

As to automobile tax, which must be paid and the registration certificate validated with a tax receipt stamp before next year's license can be obtained, that is now up to the automobile owner, said Sleeper. His deputies have covered the entire county and notices have been sent to all car owners. "It is now up to them," he stated.

Personal property collections and individual tax receipts this year have been greater than ever before, said Sleeper, although exact totals are not yet available. Nearly 9000 individual tax receipts have been issued to date, this year, more than during all of last year.

Police News

Frank Parkhurst, 33, itinerant, has been arrested for drunkenness and booked at the county jail by Officer C. V. Adams.

Jose Ybarra, 31, San Bernardino, charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace, has been booked at the county jail by Officers Gus Barnes and Horace Lucy of Placentia.

Roy Cornutt, 1006 West Myrtle street, reported to police that his bicycle was stolen from the high school Monday.

DOUBLE RITES TO BE HELD FOR CRASH VICTIMS

Double funeral services will be held from the Winbigler Funeral home tomorrow at 2 p. m. for James A. Vander Wolff, 49, and his wife, Mrs. Etta J. Vander Wolff, 42, both of whom passed away Tuesday from injuries received in an automobile accident south of El Toro Monday night.

Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate at the services, followed by interment in Westminster Memorial park.

The family has lived in Santa Ana Gardens for the past 18 years. The accident victims are survived by one daughter, Margaret Vander Wolff, and three sons, James A. jr., Gerrit F. and Harry Vander Wolff, all of Santa Ana. Mr. Vander Wolff has two sisters, Mrs. John W. Scheffer, of Tustin, and Mrs. Mathew Visser, of Eagle Rock. His wife is also survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Anderson and five brothers, Harry Anderson, George D. Anderson and Claude O. Anderson, all of Santa Ana, and Frank Anderson, of South Bend, Ind., and Harold Anderson, of Seattle, Washington.

The wreck occurred on the 101 highway at the Trabuco creek bridge and was caused when the car skidded on wet pavement and rolled into the creek bed. Mrs. Vander Wolff died two hours later in the Santa Ana Valley hospital while her husband passed away 14 hours after the wreck in the hospital.

A double inquest was held this afternoon from the Winbigler chapel by Coroner Earl Abbey.

BRIDGE COMPLETED

Contract has been completed on construction of a bridge across Ramona boulevard at Cornwell street in Los Angeles on the new Ramona boulevard connection to Garvey avenue, states a report to the Automobile Club of Southern California.

JESS ELLIOTT SEEKS POST AS S. A. CONSTABLE

Presenting a record as a police officer in Orange county over a long period of years, Jesse L. Elliott, constable of Santa Ana township since 1918, and regarded as one of the best known police officers in Southern California, today officially announced his candidacy for re-election.

Elliott has been a leader in police activities in the county for more than a decade and presents to the voters of this county one of the most laudable police records available anywhere, his friends point out. He has been active in the Orange County Peace Officers' association, which he was instrumental in founding, and is a past president of that organization.

"Law enforcement, coupled with courteous treatment to all who come in contact with the constable's office, has long been my slogan," Constable Elliott said.

"I want to stand on my record of past performance in asking the people of Santa Ana township to return me to the constable's office again this year," he continued. "I believe I have been a good police officer. There may be those who do not agree with me, but I do not believe there is anyone who can say that I have not conducted the office to the best of my ability.

"I have taken a great deal of interest in the juvenile department, in the training of young boys particularly, and while this is not exactly in line with a constable's duties, it is the duty of every man and particularly every peace officer who desires to see youths made into honorable American citizens," concluded the candidate, who is an advisor of Santa Ana's only mounted Boy Scout troop.

Friends of Elliott declare they are particularly anxious for his re-election on one point—law enforcement, and point to his long training in civil procedure as another qualification.

Elliott has been a resident of Orange county for the past 34 years, and has lived in Santa Ana for 31 years. He lives with his wife and son at 814 West Third street.

HAT IN RING

Jesse Elliott, Santa Ana constable, today announced his candidacy for re-election to this office.

Court Notes

Notice was sent today by County Clerk J. M. Backs to 39 applications for citizenship, reminding them of the naturalization class to be examined in superior court June 18.

The county has filed three suits in superior court against ranch owners of the county to foreclose liens based upon weed control conducted by the agricultural department. Hugh Miller and others were named defendants in one suit for $95.94; The Evans Securities Corporation was named in another suit for $17.80 and the Cookson Land and Water company was defendant in a third suit for $94.38. Control of Johnson grass was involved in each case. All of the property is located near Buena Park.

Judgment for $19,081.27 is demanded in a suit just filed in superior court by Withers Brothers, Ltd., against William Webster April 11, 1933, to operate a citrus packing house. Various packing house equipment and supplies have been attached in connection with the suit.

Jessie M. W. Morlock has brought suit in superior court against Thomas B. Welch, of Fullerton, to foreclose a mortgage of $15,580.38 against property at Yorba Linda.

Picnics and Reunions

THE CAROLINAS, GEORGIA AND VIRGINIA PICNICS

Both the Carolinas, Virginia and Georgia will hold their annual summer picnic rally all day Saturday, June 9, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. Every former resident of these states is invited. Each state will have its own section in the park and will open county registers. Hot coffee will be served and a fine program will follow the basket dinner hour. Dr. Robert P. (Bob) Shuler, native of Virginia, will be the speaker. Each state will take part in the program.

Spanish War Vets To Participate In Flag Day Programs

Members of Calumpit camp, Spanish War Veterans, will participate in the Flag day exercises at the Warwick camp of Fullerton Friday night, and also will attend the Flag day picnic at Ganesha park in Pomona Sunday, it was announced today by officials.

Charles E. Dixon, camp service officer and past commander, answered questions at the last meeting in regard to the recent pension law, and reported that special information in regard to the law had to be secured from Congressman Sam Collins.

Chaplain William Brown, Garden Grove, made a detailed report of the Memorial day exercises, and Comrade J. W. Isbell, first delegate of Orange, reviewed the recent department encampment.

A. H. Hall, senior vice commander, presided over the meeting in the absence of Commander A. F. Moulton, who was unable to attend on account of illness.

EVANGELIST TALKS ON BIBLE SOURCE

A very attentive audience heard Evangelist William S. Irvine Tuesday night in the revival meeting now in progress at the Southside Church of Christ. The theme considered was "Who Wrote the Bible?"

"In view of the extraordinary claims of the Bible," said the speaker, "it is indeed important that this question receive our careful consideration. If God really wrote it, through inspired men, there are certain obligations and responsibilities confronting us upon which our eternal destiny depends. If He did not write it, the promises will never be realized and it becomes the greatest fraud in human history.

"We are sure, however, that God wrote the Bible. Not just because our parents so believed, or because we heard a preacher say so, but because there are numerous irrefutable proofs of divine inspiration in this case. In view of this mountain of evidence, then, let us refrain from hasty decisions against the Bible until we have duly considered the testimony."

Various proofs were then offered by the evangelist. The general public is invited to these services, which will continue throughout the next two weeks.

Ninety-First Vets To Picnic June 9

Members of the Ninety-First Division association, southern sector, will hold their annual picnic Sunday at Verdugo Woodlands, with special entertainment and games planned for children. Friends of the division have been invited to the meeting and the largest gathering of the association since the war is expected, according to officials.

TIOGA PASS ROAD

There is improvement on the Tioga Pass road and this route can now be considered in good condition for a mountain road, according to the Automobile Club of Southern California.

THE REASON WHY . . . . . .

The reason why business concerns and individuals consider a Checking Account a necessity is that when a check is written and passed in payment it eventually returns as a complete record of the transaction. It indicates the date of payment, the amount paid, and to whom paid—and the payee's endorsement is legal evidence that payment has been received.

For safety and efficiency in handling both business and personal finances a Checking Account is a necessity. And there is no substitute for the CONVENIENCE of paying by check.

If you haven't a Checking Account at this bank already, we invite you to open one this week. Your check book is ready and waiting!

Members of Calumpit camp, Spanish War Veterans, will participate in the Flag day exercises at the Warwick camp of Fullerton Friday night, and also will attend the Flag day picnic at Ganesha park in Pomona Sunday, it was announced today by officials.

Charles E. Dixon, camp service officer and past commander, answered questions at the last meeting in regard to the recent pension law, and reported that special information in regard to the law had to be secured from Congressman Sam Collins.

Chaplain William Brown, Garden Grove, made a detailed report of the Memorial day exercises, and Comrade J. W. Isbell, first delegate of Orange, reviewed the recent department encampment.

A. H. Hall, senior vice commander, presided over the meeting in the absence of Commander A. F. Moulton, who was unable to attend on account of illness.

EVANGELIST TALKS ON BIBLE SOURCE

A very attentive audience heard Evangelist William S. Irvine Tuesday night in the revival meeting now in progress at the Southside Church of Christ. The theme considered was "Who Wrote the Bible?"

"In view of the extraordinary claims of the Bible," said the speaker, "it is indeed important that this question receive our careful consideration. If God really wrote it, through inspired men, there are certain obligations and responsibilities confronting us upon which our eternal destiny depends. If He did not write it, the promises will never be realized and it becomes the greatest fraud in human history.

"We are sure, however, that God wrote the Bible. Not just because our parents so believed, or because we heard a preacher say so, but because there are numerous irrefutable proofs of divine inspiration in this case. In view of this mountain of evidence, then, let us refrain from hasty decisions against the Bible until we have duly considered the testimony."

Various proofs were then offered by the evangelist. The general public is invited to these services, which will continue throughout the next two weeks.

Ninety-First Vets To Picnic June 9

Members of the Ninety-First Division association, southern sector, will hold their annual picnic Sunday at Verdugo Woodlands, with special entertainment and games planned for children. Friends of the division have been invited to the meeting and the largest gathering of the association since the war is expected, according to officials.

TIOGA PASS ROAD

There is improvement on the Tioga Pass road and this route can now be considered in good condition for a mountain road, according to the Automobile Club of Southern California.

THE REASON WHY . . . . .

The reason why business concerns and individuals consider a Checking Account a necessity is that when a check is written and passed in payment it eventually returns as a complete record of the transaction. It indicates the date of payment, the amount paid, and to whom paid—and the payee's endorsement is legal evidence that payment has been received.

For safety and efficiency in handling both business and personal finances a Checking Account is a necessity. And there is no substitute for the CONVENIENCE of paying by check.

If you haven't a Checking Account at this bank already, we invite you to open one this week. Your check book is ready and waiting!

STATE RELIEF HEAD OUTLINES SERA PROGRAM

SACRAMENTO, June 7.—Details of the approved plan for expenditure of relief funds and for local supervision of relief organization in California were announced today by State Emergency Relief Administrator R. C. Branion.

"It is now estimated that the total cost of relief in the state will approximate $5,500,000 per month during the next six months," said Branion. "We are now assured $3,000,000 a month of federal relief funds to help meet that cost. Whether sufficient federal funds will be available each month of the entire fiscal year beginning July 1, 1934, to provide work relief for all persons whose need is due to unemployment depends upon action taken by congress during the present session."

Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins recently accepted Branion's recommendation that federal relief funds granted to California be used to provide work relief for able-bodied unemployed who, after investigation, are found to be in need. Branion today emphasized that unemployment alone is insufficient to qualify persons for work relief. Need of the individual must be established, he said.

"The work relief program is designed to meet employment needs in counties classified as urban or industrial," he said. "These, with some possible exceptions, include counties containing cities with populations of 5000 or more. Since relief in agricultural areas presents its own problem, a rural rehabilitation program sufficiently elastic to meet California conditions is now being prepared.

"Hopkins recently announced the federal grant to California for June as $3,500,000 in addition to special funds granted for care of transient families, men, women, and boys who have been in California for less than one year. The May federal grant for all purposes was $3,726,396. Except as specifically granted for care of transients or other special purposes, the federal grant to California must be used for meeting the cost of work relief. The state and counties will continue to assume responsibility for care of those whose need arises from causes other than unemployment.

"Persons now upon county relief rolls will be eligible for work relief employment, subject to investigation of their need. Others seeking relief will be given application blanks which they will fill out and mail to the local work relief office. These persons, as in the case of those now upon relief rolls, will be subject to investigation as to their eligibility for relief. All eligibles will be classified as to vocational, professional or technical experience and skill. Persons selected for work relief upon approved projects will be summoned by mail.

"Persons receiving work relief employment will be permitted to earn their budgetary requirements, which will be determined by the State Emergency Relief Administration in cooperation with county relief committees.

The State Emergency Relief Administration will appoint a director for each county. In addition to local administration, the county director woil cooperate with the board of supervisors and other public officials and with the local relief committee in planning and submitting projects. Projects must be approved by the SERA and should be planned to meet the ability of eligible persons as classified. Women must be given equal opportunity with men for work relief.

"Prevailing wages paid upon work relief will be those adopted by the local wage board or, in certain instances, the county board of supervisors. Sufficient employment will be given those upon work relief to enable them to earn monthly the amount determined as their individual family budgetary allowances.

"All governmental units have been urged to provide in budgets now being prepared funds to cover the cost materials and supervision on worthwhile projects for which the total cost, including labor, cannot be met by local government."

Larry Golden, civil engineer of Santa Ana, who is seeking election as county surveyor.

SURVEYOR POST IS SOUGHT BY LARRY GOLDEN

Larry Golden, 931 Kilson drive, registered civil engineer with more than 20 years of experience in county and municipal affairs, today formally announced his candidacy for the office of county surveyor and filed his nomination papers with the county clerk this week.

Golden said in his announcement: "My principal pledge to the taxpayers, if elected, will be to free the surveyor's office of private business and devote my entire time and efforts on county matters. Although having been employed by both county and city governments, I have never sought public office before and have no political alliances."

Golden was connected with the Santa Ana city engineering department from 1927 until 1931, and has recently renewed his work on that staff. Prior to 1927, he was engaged with the San Diego city engineer's office for five years and has also been employed on the engineering staff of the Orange county road department. He has maintained a public and private practice in California for 14 years.

Besides being a member of the Orange County Engineering club, Golden is a member of Blue Lodge, No. 241, Scottish Rite, the Elks lodge, and is a Shriner.

ASKS CANCELLATION OF LEASE, RETURN OF DOWN PAYMENT

Declaring that a lease he had purchased covering the Greater Anaheim market at Center and Emily streets, Anaheim, had been misrepresented, J. B. Schaller has brought suit in superior court against Lester Layne and Anne Layne, who sold him the lease, to have it cancelled and to obtain return of $1000 he had paid down on the purchase.

He bought the lease from the Laynes February 1 for a price of $3400, to cover a master lease and three sub-leases, as well as store fixtures. He paid $1000 down and was to pay $150 per month, he stated. Layne had represented that each sub-lease, covering various departments of the market, were paying monthly sums to him, the bakery sub-lease paying $35 per month. Schaller, after taking possession, found that the bakery sub-lease had been paying only $20 per month, instead of $35.

He also charged that Layne never had signed the transfer or leases and fixtures, as agreed.

Put a CEMENT WORKER to Work!

Cement work is usually done with the idea that it will last for years.

A knowledge of proper mixtures and proper handling and care is necessary to insure a good job. No makeshift, amateur job will do.

A permanent job, of workmanlike finish, requires the knowledge and experience which only a cement worker has.

Your curb is broken, perhaps. Or a tree root has raised the sidewalk and broken it. In addition to such repairs, which may avoid injuries and damage suits, perhaps a new walk through the garden and around the house is needed.

Perhaps you need cement runways to your garage, or a solid cemented driveway! A cement floor in the garage, or washhouse, or basement!

No matter what your own particular cement job may be, there are experienced workers in Santa Ana who need the work; who need the wages YOUR job will provide, whether large or small.

Cement work is largely a matter of labor, and in creating a cement job about your place, you are helping materially to improve the productive labor situation in Santa Ana.

If you have been wanting a nice fountain or fish pond, NOW is the time to install it. WHY WAIT, when you need the improvement and some local workman needs the job?

Cement will add to the beauty of your garden and your pride in ownership. It is permanent; a thing of substantial beauty and every-day utility.

So put a cement worker to work. Call one TODAY, and have him make the repairs and improvements you want and need.

If you've planned a cement job and decide to go ahead with it NOW, as a civic duty, you'll be happy, and you'll make some neighbor happy, too.

Steady employment of the workers and the capital of a community helps everybody in the community. YOUR idle money is needed RIGHT NOW to improve your own home and your Joy of Living, to help Santa Ana, and the Nation.

If you know a good cement worker, call him, or hunt him up, and put him to work.

If you don't know one personally, call any building material dealer, or the Builders Exchange (2560) and they will be glad to get a cement worker in touch with you.

PLAN MEMBERSHIP MEETINGS AT Y. M.

Honoring the ninetieth birthday of the Y. M. C. A., a group of young men of the Santa Ana Y held an enjoyable dinner meeting at the local headquarters last evening, and after considering plans for summer work, decided to institute a series of regular meetings for Y. M. C. A. members, for the promotion of service and of better acquaintance.

A committee on arrangements, including H. G. Nelson, T. O. Hammond, Fred Eley, John Harbour and John Henderson, was named to make plans for a general members' meeting on Monday, June 25, for which there is promised a program that will have especial attraction for the younger men.

The plans contemplate two meetings each month during the summer, to be conducted by the members of the association. It is expected that some sort of permanent program provision will be made at the meeting on June 25.

Fisk has acted as guide on two student tours through China during summer vacations, and has made a special study of China.

H. O. Russell, jaycee teacher, will take Fisk's place as dean during summer school this year.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

If you think an operation is always the only way to escape the misery of torturing Piles, it's because you haven't heard of Hem-Roid the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician.

After years of study Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel — the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood — and that the right and safe way to get freedom from Pile agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

Pile sufferers everywhere are benefiting by Dr. Leonhardt's discovery, so why doubt or delay longer when McCoy's and Walgreen Drug Store and all druggists say, "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your pile misery or money back."—Adv.

Leonhardt was convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel — the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood — and that the right and safe way to get freedom from Pile agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

Pile sufferers everywhere are benefiting by Dr. Leonhardt's discovery, so why doubt or delay longer when McCoy's and Walgreen Drug Store and all druggists say, "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your pile misery or money-back."—Adv.

NEW GOVERNOR PLANS CHANGES IN PERSONNEL

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 7. — (UP)—Department heads and other state employes appointed by the late Gov. James Rolph jr. were apprehensive today as Acting Gov. Frank F. Merriam began what he termed his first business day in the chief executive's office.

Merriam, in an official statement, made it clear he expected to effect certain changes in policy and personnel. He tempered his announcement, however, with the declaration that no official or employe needed fear dismissal because of any political or personal prejudices.

"I would not be true to my conception of my responsibilities if I did not announce candidly that I expect to effect certain changes," he said, "but in each instance I shall be guided solely by one definite motive—the best interests of the people of California."

While he said he would not dismiss anybody for personal or political reasons, he also insisted no one should expect to be retained in the public service "on any consideration other than that of merit."

Watch for Axe

Politicians tried to guess which direction the axe would fall. It was known that some department heads, during the illness of Governor Rolph, openly began lining up with other gubernatorial candidates. Observers believed these may be first to feel the effect of the change.

Merriam said he would make no immediate shifts in the executive staff. He instructed employes in the governor's office to continue with their present duties until further notice. It was rumored that Clarence Morris, attorney and former legislator, would become Merriam's private secretary, replacing William A. Smith, who served Rolph for many years. Merriam refused to comment on the report.

The new Governor spent his first day in office greeting an unending line of persons who called. In the "procession" were politicians, state officials, Rolph appointees, Merriam friends, legislators and job seekers. Some merely desired to shake hands and wish Merriam success. Others sought jobs, or atempted to determine whether they may expect to hold the positions given them by the late executive.

Takes Up Duties

Merriam, so far as political writers could determine, was noncommittal.

He expected to devote hours to intensive office work today. He had stacks of telegrams and letters to open and acknowledge, and departmental reports to study.

"There will be no discussion of politics in this office," he told reporters who questioned him about his campaign for the governorship. "Only the affairs of the state will be handled here. If you wish to talk about politics, see me at the hotel. I refuse to mix politics with the affairs of the Governor's office."

He requested department heads to render an immediate accounting of their respective divisions. After he has studied the reports and acquainted himself with all aspects of the situation, he plans to announce what he believes should be done to "effect necessary economies and place the state government in a position to render the greatest service to those needing relief and protection."

"The state faces some extremely grave and critical problems," he said. "These must be solved promptly and effectively. The task of every loyal person is to work for the good of the state as a whole, forgetting political considerations and personal ambitions. This calls for sacrifice and unselfishness. I recognize the issue and am willing to meet it."

POLICE ARREST HIT, RUN DRIVER

Peter Castro, 19, 1118 East Second street, was placed under arrest yesterday afternoon after he admitted to police that he was the driver who failed to stop after an accident with a machine driven by Judge Kenneth Morrison at Fourth and Sycamore streets Tuesday evening.

Castro was booked at the county jail for failure to stop and render aid after an accident. He told officers, according to police reports, that he did not have a driver's license and was afraid to stop after accident. He was traced through the license number of the car, which was registered to Domingo Ladesma of Riverside. Castro purchased the car from Ladesma several weeks ago but did not transfer the registration.

Judge Morrison's machine was badly damaged in the rear from the wreck and Mrs. Morrison received a neck injury which required medical treatment.

Officers Harry Fink and C. W. Wolford made the investigation and arrested Castro.

ELKS PREPARE FOR FLAG DAY BOWL PROGRAM

Plans for an elaborate program in celebration of Flag Day to be held at the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl on June 14, were announced today by Harold Brown, chairman of the committee on arrangements in behalf of Santa Ana Elks Lodge No. 794 and Orange Lodge No. 1415. The program is open to the public and a large attendance is expected.

The principal address will be given by C. P. Hebenstreet, district deputy grand exalted ruler of the south central district of California, and a short patriotic address will be given by ex-Governor C. C. Young. There will be a formal guard mount by National Guardsmen from Santa Ana and Orange, and the tribute to the flag will be given by District Attorney S. B. Kaufman, assisted by the Boy Scouts.

The program will open at 7:30 p. m. with a half hour's concert in the bowl by the Santa Ana Municipal Band under the direction of Leland Auer, followed by a parade inside the Bowl and presentation of flags and banners by patriotic organizations.

Exhibition drills scheduled for the occasion will be given by Royal Neighbors of Golden State Camp, Calumpit Camp, U. S. W. V. drum corps and Auxiliary drill team; Santa Ana American Legion Drum and Buble Corps and Auxiliary drill team.

George Stinson, widely known tenor, will sing patriotic selections, accompanied by Mrs. Stinson, and program numbers by the band will include "Star Spangled Banner," "Stars and Stripes Forever," and "America," while taps will be given by the Legion drum and bugle corps.

Liberty bell exercises will be participated in by officers of the Santa Ana Elks lodge, and the invocation and benediction will be by the Rev. Harry E. Owings.

COIT NAMED TO MAKE STUDY ON CITRUS VALUES

Appointment of J. Eliot Coit, of Pasadena, well known horticultural authority of California, to make an independent investigation of Orange county and other citrus areas of the Southland, for proper land valuations as the basis of land bank loans by the federal government, was announced here today.

Coit's selection by W. R. Parkhill, representative of the land bank in Washington, who was sent here by Commissioner Goss recently for the purpose of instituting such an investigation, was made known in a telegram from Deputy Commissioner J. H. Guill to County Supervisor W. C. Jerome, who urged such a move while in Washington several weeks ago.

The appointment will be acceptable to Orange county agricultural interests generally, it was estimated by Jerome, also by County Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg.

Coit was formerly head of the division of subtropical horticulture at the University of California and later served as Los Angeles county farm advisor. More frequently he has been private consultant for orchardists of Southern California. He is owner of an avocado grove at Vista.

It is understood that Coit will commence his investigation at once.

IZAAK WALTON CHAPTER WILL ORGANIZE HERE

Invitations to a meeting tomorrow, Friday, evening at the Schilling Shoe store, 410 North Main street, for the purpose of forming a Santa Ana district Izaak Walton league, were issued today by local sponsors of the movement. The meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock and all sportsmen interested in the purpose of the Waltonians are invited to join.

The speakers will include George W. Sloop, president of the California council of the league; William Trapp, president of the Anaheim chapter; Edward R. Shaw, secretary Anaheim chapter; J. E. Rymer, national delegate, and others.

"Waltonians include those interested in hunting, fishing, reforestation and the betterment of outdoor conditions; those who take pleasure and recreation in the mountains, with their lakes and streams, and those enjoying the ocean, its sandy beaches and rocky shores," according to a statement in the announcement of the meeting.

"Efforts of the organization are devoted primarily to opening and keeping open to the public recreation parks, beaches, mountain roads, streams, and lakes, and to see that they are not closed to the public by commercial or private interests."

Funeral Services For Claude Carl Will Be Friday

Funeral services for Claude C. Carl, 32, Santa Anan who passed away in Banning Tuesday following an illness of 18 months, will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Harrell and Brown Funeral parlors, 116 West Seventeenth street. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mr. Carl, who is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark M. Carl, and a sister, Iva A. Carl, all of 424 1-2 West Pine street, Santa Ana, died in a sanitarium at Banning.

Before joining the Marine service at San Diego Mr. Carl attended LaVerne college, where he was an all-around athlete in football, basketball and tennis. He also attended Santa Ana Junior college and high school, as well as intermediate school here.

Ministers in charge of tomorrow's funeral are the Rev. A. C. Brubaker, of Pomona, and Edgar A. Rothrock of LaVerne, both of the Church of Brethren. Solos will be sung by J. Clifford Johnston, accompanied by Vivian Wyne. Pallbearers are Harold Moomaw and John Mitchell of Santa Ana, Alvin Marshburn of Orange, Herman Moomaw of Wilmington, Ernest Carl and Billie Loberg of Pomona.

H. Guill to County Supervisor W. C. Jerome, who urged such a move while in Washington several weeks ago.

The appointment will be acceptable to Orange county agricultural interests generally, it was estimated by Jerome, also by County Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg.

Coit was formerly head of the division of subtropical horticulture at the University of California and later served as Los Angeles county farm advisor. More frequently he has been private consultant for orchardists of Southern California. He is owner of an avocado grove at Vista.

It is understood that Coit will commence his investigation at once.

IZAAK WALTON CHAPTER WILL ORGANIZE HERE

Invitations to a meeting tomorrow, Friday, evening at the Schilling Shoe store, 410 North Main street, for the purpose of forming a Santa Ana district Izaak Walton league, were issued today by local sponsors of the movement. The meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock and all sportsmen interested in the purpose of the Waltonians are invited to join.

The speakers will include George W. Sloop, president of the California council of the league; William Trapp, president of the Anaheim chapter; Edward R. Shaw, secretary Anaheim chapter; J. E. Rymer, national delegate, and others.

"Waltonians include those interested in hunting, fishing, reforestation and the betterment of outdoor conditions; those who take pleasure and recreation in the mountains, with their lakes and streams, and those enjoying the ocean, its sandy beaches and rocky shores," according to a statement in the announcement of the meeting.

"Efforts of the organization are devoted primarily to opening and keeping open to the public recreation parks, beaches, mountain roads, streams, and lakes, and to see that they are not closed to the public by commercial or private interests."

Funeral Services For Claude Carl Will Be Friday

Funeral services for Claude C. Carl, 32, Santa Anan who passed away in Banning Tuesday following an illness of 18 months, will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Harrell and Brown Funeral parlors, 116 West Seventeenth street. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mr. Carl, who is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark M Carl, and a sister, Iva A. Carl, all of 424 1-2 West Pine street, Santa Ana, died in a sanitarium at Banning.

Before joining the Marine service at San Diego Mr. Carl attended LaVerne college, where he was an all-around athlete in football, basketball and tennis. He also attended Santa Ana Junior college and high school, as well as intermediate school here.

Ministers in charge of tomorrow's funeral are the Rev. A. C. Brubaker, of Pomona, and Edgar A. Rothrock of LaVerne, both of the Church of Brethren. Solos will be sung by J. Clifford Johnston, accompanied by Vivian Wyne. Pallbearers are Harold Moomaw and John Mitchell of Santa Ana, Alvin Marshburn of Orange, Herman Moomaw of Wilmington, Ernest Carl and Billie Loberg of Pomona.

Donna Gabriel, circus performer, falls from the trapeze and is injured. To please her partner, Madeline Siddal, Donna goes to Madeline's home to recuperate, pretending to be the other girl. She is ashamed of this deception but keeps it up, even when Bill Siddal, Madeline's cousin, asks her to marry him. Amos Siddal, Madeline's grandfather who owns the farm, is blind. Mrs. Planter, housekeeper discharged by Donna, is her enemy.

Donna and Bill are married. Meanwhile Madeline has married Con David, circus animal trainer, and takes part in the animal act.

Amos Siddal has a stroke.

In New Orleans Madeline goes into the cage alone with the Gengal tiger. The tiger springs and she is killed.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXVII

At daybreak Con stumbled into the little office of the hotel. The stark tragedy written in his haggard face and sunken eyes robbed his appearance—in circus costume—of its bizarre effect.

The clerk was asleep under a green-shaded hanging lamp his feet resting on the desk, his chair tilted against the wall. He started up sleepily when Con asked for his key. "Oh, say—you're Mr. David, ain't you? There's been a man hanging around here waiting to see you. Mr.—Mr.—" he consulted a card on the desk. "Mr. Renfroe. He stayed until two o'clock. Then he left and said you was to get in touch with him at the St. Charles as soon as you came in."

"Yes?" Con took the key and started towards the stairway.

"You better phone him" the other continued, his eyes wide with curiosity as they took in the details of yellow trousers and purple coat. "He seemed upset when he didn't find you here. There's a telephone booth over there."

"Thanks." Lurching as one under the influence of liquor, Con moved towards the booth. At the door he fumbled in his pocket and produced a coin. He was unable to focus his eyes on the telephone directory, and asked the operator to get the number for him. After several seconds he heard Renfroe's voice over the wire.

"Where've you been?" the circus owner demanded when he understood that it was Con who was talking. "This is a nice howdy-do—walking out and leaving everything for me to attend to."

"Sorry," Con said thickly. "Guess I went haywire. Well?"

"The doctor got an undertaker and Madeline has been sent to the funeral parlors, but the rest is up to you. What are you going to do?"

"Send her to her grandfather's, I suppose," Con answered. "Thanks for doing what you did."

"Someone had to," Renfroe answered brusquely and hung up the receiver.

But later, in a quieter frame of mind, Con decided against sending Madeline's body back to her home. And so little Madeline Siddal, whose greatest sin had been her great love for him, was lowered into a grave in an old cemetery in New Orleans while members of the circus (though few had really cared for her) wept aloud and then went back to the grounds to thrill the spectators with their daring stunts.

• • •

Morbid curiosity to see the cage where a woman had met her death drew huge crowds, but Con was not to be seen. His beasts were put in their winter quarters and, taking Renfroe at his word, Con quit the show. It was almost a week later before he sent word to the farm that Madeline was dead. Then he addressed the envelope to "Mrs. William Siddal" and enclosed a clipping from one of the newspapers describing the tragedy in graphic fashion. There was not even a line to inform Donna of Con's whereabouts nor a word about his frame of mind—whether it mattered to him that the girl had died or not.

It was a raw, cold day, a foretaste of winter in October, when the postman on his rural round brought the letter to Donna. Thinking it some kind of circular, since the address was typed, she tossed it on the dining room table and continued her work of polishing the silverware.

Later she noticed it again and opened it. The clipping, with a picture of Madeline beneath the headlines, was like a blow in the face. Donna stared at the printed words. Physical nausea swept over her. The floor seemed to rise and undulate and then drop with a sickening suddenness.

To think that Madeline was dead—lovely, reckless Madeline! And to have died in such a horrible manner! In all the glory of her youth and beauty, facing an admiring multitude; the next moment mangled and lifeless—

Donna shuddered and covered her face with her hands in a vain effort to shut out the picture that was all too clear because she had witnessed the tragedy of her own father's death.

• • •

Memory brought Madeline before her again as clearly as though the girl were standing there. She recalled their first meeting in the agent's office in Chicago when Donna, looking for a partner, had seen the country girl sitting on a bench in the outer office. How pretty and fresh Madeline had been, in spite of too much make-up and a garish, theatrical style of dressing. The likeness between this girl and herself had impressed Donna at once and she had asked the agent to introduce her.

Their partnership had been a successful one. Though there had been differences, though Madeline had been trying at times, heedless and often annoying, an honest affection had existed between the two. The selfishness, the frequent indications of heartlessness were forgotten and genuine grief overwhelmed Donna, causing her to burst into tears.

Fortunately there were no witnesses to her sorrow. Minnie was in the dairy, Bill was looking over the silos, and Miss Perkins was reading aloud to Grandfather Siddal.

To Donna's credit be it said that her first impulse was to go to the old man and tell him that the child he had played with so often, the little red-haired girl who had run away from him, was dead. It was only because she knew that the shock of such a revelation might have serious consequences for him that she remained silent. Not for an instant did she think of Madeline's inheritance.

After the first storm of emotion, which left her weak and shaken, Donna re-read the newspaper clipping. Then she destroyed it and decided to postpone telling Grandfather of Madeline's death until he was stronger and better able to withstand the shock. And of course, with the postponement, she further undermined the shaky foundations of her castle.

Fortunately, the only publications that found their way to the Siddal farmhouse were agricultural journals, the Lebanon Weekly Courier, and a Sunday newspaper from a nearby city. Neither the farm journals nor the Courier would carry the news of Madeline's death. Donna was sure, but there was a possibility that the Sunday newspaper might print an account.

For three Sundays Donna contrived to get the newspaper before any other member of the household and she feverishly searched through every section. Evidently the notice of the circus tragedy had been printed during the week, for she found no mention of it.

• • •

She wrote Con, offering her deepest sympathy and thanking him for sending the news to her instead of to Amos Siddal. She added, "I'm afraid the shock would have killed him, as he is very ill and, we fear, barely hanging to life by a thread."

The letter was sent in care of Renfroe's Circus to Montgomery, Alabama, where, according to the route card Donna still had in her possession, the circus was due to play the following week.

Not wishing to trust the letter to the rural mail box in case bad weather should prevent the mail from being collected promptly, she made the excuse that she wanted to purchase hose and drove into Lebanon alone.

Since the day of her scene with Mrs. Planter Donna had not seen the former housekeeper and no one was farther from her thoughts as she drove into the public square and parked the car near the court house. Anxious to complete her errand, she did not notice anything familiar about the gaunt back and square shoulders of the woman in front of her. When she suddenly heard her name spoken as she entered the post office, Donna could only stare for several seconds.

"So you ain't goin' to speak to me!" Mrs. Planter said.

"Of course I am. I—how are you? Have you another position?"

Mrs. Planter nodded. "Yes, and a better one, if you want to know it. One where I ain't beholden to no one. How's your husband?" Mrs. Planter stressed the last word with an insolent inflection.

"He's well thank you."

"And Amos?"

"As well as can be expected." Donna pushed the revolving doors and hastened to the mail chute, where she dropped the letter.

Mrs. Planter looked after her, shrugged her shoulders and muttered, "Up to something—that sly one. Yes, she's up to something!"

(To Be Continued)

NEW FORD CLIMBS HILL IN HIGH GEAR

A stock Ford V-8 sedan recently negotiated in high gear the tortuous up-hill climb of 15.3 miles from Cajon Junction to Inspiration Point on the summit of Blue Ridge, according to George Dunton, local Ford dealer. In this distance the highway rises from 3100 feet to 8600 feet above sea level and no stock car ever did this in high gear before.

In discussing the high-gear test-climb, Austin Elmore, who drove the car, said, "The Ford V-8 used no oil whatsoever on the trip. That is, we did not have to replenish our oil supply after we finished. I believe this high-gear climb demonstrated conclusively that the Ford V-8 actually has dependability, roadability, durability, practicability."

Elmore's time for the 15.3 miles was officially set at 16 minutes and 53 seconds. This particular mountain climb was selected because of the long gradual ascent for the first thirteen miles and the sudden elevation for the remaining two plus. The grade for the thirteen miles averages between 7 and 12 per cent with many stretches of 14 and 16 per cent. The remaining two miles of the run rise at the rate of 19 per cent off a tricky hair-pin turn.

DIX-DUNNE PICTURE OPENS AT BROADWAY

Co-starred for the first time since their appearance in the epic picture, "Cimarron," Irene Dunne and Richard Dix come to the screen of the Broadway theater tonight in "Stingaree," a romantic tale of the seventies in Australia.

The story deals with the great and mutual love of Stingaree, a dashing bandit, and Hilda, who drudges in the home of wealthy relatives. Stingaree hears Hilda singing when he enters her house to rob it, and falls in love with her. The story which follows deals with the bandit's adventures, and his love for a poor girl whom he converts into international fame at a cost to himself.

Mary Boland, Conway Tearle, Andy Devine, Henry Stephenson and Una O'Connor appear in support of Dix and Miss Dunne.

Short subjects include an Our Gang comedy, "Honkey Donkey;" a Grantland Rice sport film, "Lucky Anglers;" Screen Couvenirs and a news reel.

NEW TYPE MOVIE ON STATE SCREEN

The powerful story of a young trackwalker's evolution into one of the most powerful railroad magnates of the nation is revealed by a new form of screen entertainment which has been labeled "narratage" and which is on the current bill at Walker's State theater. It is "The Power and the Glory," starring Spencer Tracy and Colleen Moore, with Ralph Morgan and Helen Vinson in supporting roles.

The other feature on the double program is "Easy to Love," a hilarious comedy of marital mix-ups in which Adolphe Menjou is cast as a philandering husband, with Genevieve Tobin as his neglected wife. Mary Astor and Edward Everett Horton are the other man and woman. Patricia Ellis and Paul Kaye are the children who solve the tangle. The film is titled "Easy to Love."

The other picture on the program is a travel film, "Spanish America."

"Where've you been?" the circus owner demanded when he understood that it was Con who was talking. "This is a nice howdy-do—walking out and leaving everything for me to attend to."

"Sorry," Con said thickly. "Guess I went haywire. Well?"

"The doctor got an undertaker and Madeline has been sent to the funeral parlors, but the rest is up to you. What are you going to do?"

"Send her to her grandfather's, I suppose," Con answered. "Thanks for doing what you did."

"Someone had to," Renfroe answered brusquely and hung up the receiver.

But later, in a quieter frame of mind, Con decided against sending Madeline's body back to her home. And so little Madeline Siddal, whose greatest sin had been her great love for him, was lowered into a grave in an old cemetery in New Orleans while members of the circus (though few had really cared for her) wept aloud and then went back to the grounds to thrill the spectators with their daring stunts.

* * *

Morbid curiosity to see the cage where a woman had met her death drew huge crowds, but Con was not to be seen. His beasts were put in their winter quarters and, taking Renfroe at his word, Con quit the show. It was almost a week later before he sent word to the farm that Madeline was dead. Then he addressed the envelope to "Mrs. William Siddal" and enclosed a clipping from one of the newspapers describing the tragedy in graphic fashion. There was not even a line to inform Donna of Con's whereabouts nor a word about his frame of mind—whether it mattered to him that the girl had died or not.

It was a raw, cold day, a foretaste of winter in October, when the postman on his rural round brought the letter to Donna. Thinking it some kind of circular, since the address was typed, she tossed it on the dining room table and continued her work of polishing the silverware.

Later she noticed it again and opened it. The clipping, with a picture of Madeline beneath the headlines, was like a blow in the face. Donna stared at the printed words. Physical nausea swept over her. The floor seemed to rise and undulate and then drop with a sickening suddenness.

To think that Madeline was dead—lovely, reckless Madeline! And to have died in such a horrible manner! In all the glory of her youth and beauty, facing an admiring multitude; the next moment mangled and lifeless—

Donna shuddered and covered her face with her hands in a vain effort to shut out the picture that was all too clear because she had witnessed the tragedy of her own father's death.

* * *

Memory brought Madeline before her again as clearly as though the girl were standing there. She recalled their first meeting in the agent's office in Chicago when Donna, looking for a partner, had seen the country girl sitting on a bench in the outer office. How pretty and fresh Madeline had been, in spite of too much make-up and a garish, theatrical style of dressing. The likeness between this girl and herself had impressed Donna at once and she had asked the agent to introduce her.

Their partnership had been a successful one. Though there had been differences, though Madeline had been trying at times, heedless and often annoying, an honest affection had existed between the two. The selfishness, the frequent indications of heartlessness were forgotten and genuine grief overwhelmed Donna, causing her to burst into tears.

Fortunately there were no witnesses to her sorrow. Minnie was in the dairy, Bill was looking over the silos, and Miss Perkins was reading aloud to Grandfather Siddal.

To Donna's credit be it said that her first impulse was to go to the old man and tell him that the child he had played with so often, the little red-haired girl who had run away from him, was dead. It was only because she knew that the shock of such a revelation might have serious consequences for him that she remained silent. Not for an instant did she think of Madeline's inheritance.

After the first storm of emotion, which left her weak and shaken, Donna re-read the newspaper clipping. Then she destroyed it and decided to postpone telling Grandfather of Madeline's death until he was stronger and better able to withstand the shock. And of course, with the postponement, she further undermined the shaky foundations of her castle.

Fortunately, the only publications that found their way to the Siddal farmhouse were agricultural journals, the Lebanon Weekly Courier, and a Sunday newspaper from a nearby city. Neither the farm journals nor the Courier would carry the news of Madeline's death, Donna was sure, but there was a possibility that the Sunday newspaper might print an account.

For three Sundays Donna contrived to get the newspaper before any other member of the household and she feverishly searched through every section. Evidently the notice of the circus tragedy had been printed during the week, for she found no mention of it.

* * *

She wrote Con, offering her deepest sympathy and thanking him for sending the news to her instead of to Amos Siddal. She added, "I'm afraid the shock would have killed him, as he is very ill and, we fear, barely hanging to life by a thread."

The letter was sent in care of Renfroe's Circus to Montgomery, Alabama, where, according to the route card Donna still had in her possession, the circus was due to play the following week.

Not wishing to trust the letter to the rural mail box in case bad weather should prevent the mail from being collected promptly, she made the excuse that she wanted to purchase hose and drove into Lebanon alone.

Since the day of her scene with Mrs. Planter Donna had not seen the former housekeeper and no one was farther from her thoughts as she drove into the public square and parked the car near the court house. Anxious to complete her errand, she did not notice anything familiar about the gaunt back and square shoulders of the woman in front of her. When she suddenly heard her name spoken as she entered the post office, Donna could only stare for several seconds.

"So you ain't goin' to speak to me!" Mrs. Planter said.

"Of course I am. I—how are you? Have you another position?"

Mrs. Planter nodded. "Yes, and a better one, if you want to know it. One where I ain't beholden to no one. How's your husband?" Mrs. Planter stressed the last word with an insolent inflection.

"He's well thank you."

"And Amos?"

"As well as can be expected." Donna pushed the revolving doors and hastened to the mail chute, where she dropped the letter.

Mrs. Planter looked after her, shrugged her shoulders and muttered, "Up to something—that sly one. Yes, she's up to something!"

NEW FORD CLIMBS HILL IN HIGH GEAR

A stock Ford V-8 sedan recently negotiated in high gear the tortuous up-hill climb of 15.3 miles from Cajon Junction to Inspiration Point on the summit of Blue Ridge, according to George Dunton, local Ford dealer. In this distance the highway rises from 3100 feet to 8600 feet above sea level and no stock car ever did this in high gear before.

In discussing the high-gear test-climb, Austin Elmore, who drove the car, said, "The Ford V-8 used no oil whatsoever on the trip. That is, we did not have to replenish our oil supply after we finished. I believe this high-gear climb demonstrated conclusively that the Ford V-8 actually has dependability, roadability, durability, practicability."

Elmore's time for the 15.3 miles was officially set at 16 minutes and 53 seconds. This particular mountain climb was selected because of the long gradual ascent for the first thirteen miles and the sudden elevation for the remaining two plus. The grade for the thirteen miles averages between 7 and 12 per cent with many stretches of 14 and 16 per cent. The remaining two miles of the run rise at the rate of 19 per cent off a tricky hair-pin turn.

DIX-DUNNE PICTURE OPENS AT BROADWAY

Co-starred for the first time since their appearance in the epic picture, "Cimarron," Irene Dunne and Richard Dix come to the screen of the Broadway theater tonight in "Stingaree," a romantic tale of the seventies in Australia.

The story deals with the great and mutual love of Stingaree, a dashing bandit, and Hilda, who drudges in the home of wealthy relatives. Stingaree hears Hilda singing when he enters her house to rob it, and falls in love with her. The story which follows deals with the bandit's adventures, and his love for a poor girl whom he converts into international fame at a cost to himself.

Mary Boland, Conway Tearle, Andy Devine, Henry Stephenson and Una O'Connor appear in support of Dix and Miss Dunne.

Short subjects include an Our Gang comedy, "Honkey Donkey;" a Grantland Rice sport film, "Lucky Anglers;" Screen Couvenirs and a news reel.

NEW TYPE MOVIE ON STATE SCREEN

The powerful story of a young trackwalker's evolution into one of the most powerful railroad magnates of the nation is revealed by a new form of screen entertainment which has been labeled "narratage" and which is on the current bill at Walker's State theater. It is "The Power and the Glory," starring Spencer Tracy and Colleen Moore, with Ralph Morgan and Helen Vinson in supporting roles.

The other feature on the double program is "Easy to Love," a hilarious comedy of marital mix-ups in which Adolphe Menjou is cast as a philandering husband, with Genevieve Tobin as his neglected wife. Mary Astor and Edward Everett Horton are the other man and woman. Patricia Ellis and Paul Kaye are the children who solve the tangle. The film is titled "Easy to Love."

The other picture on the program is a travel film, "Spanish America."

REMEMBER BARNEY?

Barney Oldfield, daddy of drivers, did not attend the 500-mile automobile race in Indianapolis on Memorial day, primarily because he was not invited by Eddie Rickenbacker, president of the Speedway corporation and chairman of the contest board of the American Automobile association.

Oldfield is a member of the latter body, but suspects that he is not a welcome one, due principally to interviews and broadcasts stressing the peril of the roaring road.

"I don't advocate prohibiting the sport, but I believe it should be made more safe, if possible," says Oldfield, who again is at the World's Fair in connection with an automobile exhibit.

Automobile racing has snuffed out 21 lives in the last 18 months. Five were killed on the Hoosier course a year ago. Two met death in a qualifying trial for the most recent test. Four had miraculous escapes when mounts hurtled the wall in their mad dash after prize and lap lucre.

On losing control and skidding off the track and out of the grind, Phil Shafer, who competed in the event for the tenth time, said the bricks never were more hazardous owing to slipperiness caused by oil leaking from cars on the turns.

• • •

SAFETY STILL LAST

The one rule designed as a safety measure — limiting cars to 45 gallons of gasoline—worked with reverse English, what with three smashups and Mauri Rose forcing Wild Bill Cummings to a new average of 104.865 miles an hour and track record of 104.021. The Dayton driver finished only 27 seconds behind the winner.

The limited fuel turned out to be nothing more than a source of worry toward the fag end to the 13 who finished. Cummings had three gallons left when flagged, or enough to rifle his little four-cylinder machine about 36 miles farther.

Oldfield wouldn't raise his boy to be an automobile racing driver. The first man to drive a car a mile a minute calls the speedway championship an empty one.

"Automobile racing holds no future as it did in the days when I was driving old 'crates'," contends Barney. "How many autoists know who won last year's Indianapolis race, and, although 135,000 persons saw him do it, two weeks from now how many will be able to recall offhand the victor of the other day?

TIME TO RETIRE

"But ask any horse-going person who bagged the Kentucky Derby, any golfer to relate Bobby Jones' greatest achievement, any baseball fan what club Babe Ruth plays with, or any fight fan who lifted Jack Dempsey's title, and see how quickly you get a reply.

'And if automobile racing under current conditions isn't too dangerous, why did Rickenbacker, Tommy Milton, Billy Arnold, Harry Hartz, Harlan Fengler, Earl Cooper, myself and other ex-champions forsake their chosen profession?

"There are only two answers. Either it is too risky, or there isn't enough money in it. And I, for one, didn't quit because I couldn't make or use the coin.

"Lindbergh flew across the ocean, but I dare say he is not advising young America to follow his example."

BAER PLEA FOR POSTPONEMENT TO BE OPPOSED

ASBURY PARK, N. J.—June 7.—(UP)—Because of Maxie Baer's poor condition, Bill Brown, member of the New York state athletic commission, will recommend tomorrow a month's postponement of the Baer-Carnera title fight, or complete cancellation.

The bout is scheduled for next Thursday night.

Brown announced his intention of recommending the postponement or cancellation after watching Baer box nine rounds today. The commissioner said he would request the delay at tomorrow's commission meeting, at which Carnera and Baer are slated for a physical examination.

NEW YORK, June 7.—(UP) — Max Baer's managerial request for a week's postponement of his projected fight with Primo Carnera — because Baer's advisors don't think he is tough enough yet—was received with some skepticism in boxing circles today.

Observers agreed the confession of the loud-speaking California lover that he is not hard enough yet to handle Primo sounds funny —or phoney.

Jimmy Johnston, Garden matchmaker, appeared ready to fight Baer himself, if necessary, to get him into the Garden Bowl the night of June 14. The Garden has upwards of $200,000 in the tills, according to Johnston, and he scored the thought Baer's move was a sly effort to get more elbow room between the McLarnin-Ross fight and the impending heavyweight embroglio.

From Pompton Lakes, where Carnera is getting in trim, an even more indignant squawk was raised by Prof. Louis Soresi, the champion's spokesman. Soresi says Carnera will "lose his edge" if the fight is put off. Carnera himself merely flecked a paw like a Westphalia ham, examined a set of knuckles that looked like a row of cocoanuts, and grinned toothily.

"I am ready for heem," he murmured.

Ancil Hoffman, who made the announcement at Baer's training quarters that the challenger would ask for a week's delay, is to appear Friday morning before the commission to put in his plea.

However, Johnston will meet the commissioners too, and will fight the postponement.

"We will lose if the fight is postponed," Johnston said. "This sort of thing never helped a fight."

Jack Dempsey's advice to Hoffman to ask for a delay came after the former champion watched Baer get trounced around by two dusky sparring fellows, Larry Johnson of Chicago, and "Dynamite" Jackson of Los Angeles.

Finch, Pro At Golf Club, Seriously Ill

Floyd Finch, golf professional at the Santa Ana Country club, was seriously ill today at St. Joseph's hospital, where he underwent an emergency operation for a ruptured appendix yestreday.

Peritonitis has complicated Finch's condition, but attendants said he was resting as easily as could be expected under the circumstances.. He was in considerable pain all Monday night, and the appendix broke before he could summon a physician.

Finch had been attached to the Santa Ana Country club several months, coming here from Fox Hills. He and Mrs. Finch moved only Monday from a Cypress avenue address to 2053 South Ross street.

As former professional at the Stanford University course, Finch instructed Lawson Little, the young collegian who recently attracted international attention by winning the British Amateur tournament.

STARS, OILERS PLAY OFF RAIN GAME JUNE 16

Santa Ana and Huntington Beach, rained out here last Tuesday, will play off their postponed National Night league baseball game at the Municipal Bowl the night of Saturday, June 16.

The date was fixed today, following a conference between Bill Cole and Joe Rodgers, managers of the two clubs. Rodgers' approval was contingent on his securing the o. k. of the Huntington Beach commission.

Outside observers figure the arrarngement a distinct "break" for Huntington Beach which will have at least one day's rest before the game as it plays Olive on the previous Thursday, whereas Santa Ana must meet Anaheim at Anaheim on Friday, the night before it goes against Huntington Beach.

However, the Saturday evening date appeared the only one possible, following President George Peterkin's announcement that the clubs positively would not be permitted to delay the play-off more than two weeks.

Baseball men will watch the Star-Oiler joust with special interest, not only because it is sure to have an important bearing on the outcome of the pennant race but also whether a big game, played on a Saturday night, will draw at the box office. It is understood that this particular one will not be started until 8:15 or 8:30 in order to accommodate downtown business men and shoppers.

S. A. AND OLIVE MEET TONIGHT, START 2ND LAP

NATIONAL NIGHT LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.
Huntington Beach	5	1	.833
Westminster	5	2	.714
Olive	4	3	.571
Anaheim	4	3	.571
Torrance	4	3	.500
Santa Ana	3	5	.285
Fullerton	2	5	.000
Long Beach	0	7	.000

With the kickoff at Olive, where Santa Ana and Olive pick up the threads of an old feud, the National Night Ball league merry-go-round goes into its second lap tonight.

The Olive club plays all its home games on Thursday, thereby attracting a few dollars that might go astray were the Packers to buck the bigger towns, so this will be the lone conflict of the evening.

Other clubs begin the new round tomorrow, with Huntington Beach at Anaheim, Westminster at Torrance, and Long Beach at Fullerton. The coming bracket of seven games winds up the first-half pennant race, the finale being June 29. Then, after a week's rest, the teams begin all over again, playing two more rounds and ending August 24.

Stars Still in Running

Santa Ana can establish itself as a genuine contender for the championship by beating Olive. The field is so evenly balanced this season that almost anything can happen in the next four weeks, so the Stars' three first-half defeats could just about be written off if they put on a spirited winning streak.

Olive, of course, enjoys the same possibility, and has the added advantage of a higher average in the current standings. The Packers completed their first-half schedule with four victories against three defeats. Santa Ana won three and lost three, but must still play the powerful Huntington Beach aggregation.

The Stars have a little score to settle with the Packers for they still begrudge Olive the 1-0 game lost here the first night of the season. Jimmy Coates pitched three-hit ball in that struggle only to lose the decision to Rudy Heman when Shortstop Terry Griffith hit a long home run to center in the seventh. Then Santa Ana loaded the bases in the last of the ninth without scoring.

Coates and Heman will be rival moundmen again tonight, with "Eeny" Wilcox catching the Santa Ana nominee and Al Reboin, the U. S. C. football player, handling Rudy.

Change Batting Order

Manager Bill Cole said Santa Ana's lineup would be the same as usual although Ed Daley and Rod Ballard will exchange spots in the batting order, Daley swinging second under the new arrangement.

Olive presents several new men since its first start against the Stars. Ora Sands, the league's best hitter in '33, is out of commission with a broken ankle and his place in right field will be occupied by Leo Morse, formerly of the Green Cats. Elmer Coots, who caught the first few games for the Packers, has gone back to his favorite position, first base. "Memphy" Hill, for many years a colorful member of the Santa Ana club, and now with Olive under option, is operating at second base. "Red" Kidder, a Trojan football player from Santa Ana, will be in left field. Third Baseman Ralph Jertberg, Shortstop Griffith and Outfielder Russ Porter are the only holdovers from that opening game.

A benefit game will be played at Olive the night of Saturday, June 23, for Ora Sands, the Packers' great hitter-outfielder, who suffered a broken bone in his ankle in an exhibition contest at Redlands last week. All receipts will accrue directly to Sands.

Ben Gelker, Olive business director, is making arrangements. He has the promise of all National Night league managers that they'll contribute their ace players to send against a squad similarly chosen from the inland American league.

Black Giants Collide In Rematch At Arena

Held up by rain for several days, Orange county's sports program gets back to normalcy tonight with the regular weekly boxing show at the Orange County Athletic club's Bowl.

"Dusty" Davidson, giant heavyweight from the CCC camp, and Art Breaux of the Ebony club, Los Angeles, meet in the main event. They are Negro 200-pounders, colliding for the second time.

Fighting here three weeks ago in a contest that introduced five-round boxing among California amateurs, Davidson and Breaux contributed what was widely regarded as the best main event waged since Promoter Sam Sampson opened his new arena on the state highway. Davidson got Referee Jackie Fields' decision, but only after a bruising scrimmage that was in doubt all the way.

Breaux and Davidson head a 10-bout lineup, with colored boys from the Ebony club composing one entire side of the card. The program calls for three five-rounders, and seven four-rounders—a total of 43 rounds should all matches go the limit.

Garmen Tullio, the only scrapper who has been able to take the measure of "Chief" Lopez here, appears in the semi-windup against Paddy Guillon of San Bernardino. Lopez will get the winner, according to Matchmaker "Bud" Rutledge, with the survivor of the second engagement being in line for a shot at Jim Jeffries' Southern California champion.

Bill Wana, the Westminster badman, meets Paul Wilkins in the special event. Undefeated at the Bowl, Wana may find Wilkins a tartar.

The rest of the card:

Louis Westbrook, Ebony club, vs. Jack Curley, Long Beach, 149 pounds; Johnny Grigo, Ebony club, vs. Paul Moreno, Garden Grove, 112 pounds.

Louis Marshill, Ebony club, vs. Benny Gomez, Pico, 170 pounds;

Eddie Jackson, Ebony club, vs. Tommy Astrada, Norwalk, 145 pounds;

Clair Thomas, Ebony club, vs. Manuel Rodriguez, Los Angeles, 120 pounds.

INCOMING PREPS TO HELP DONS

Cook Believes Squad Will Be One of Best in History

BUT OPPOSITION TO BE KEENER

Smiling Bill Cook, coach of Santa Ana's Southern California jaysee football champions, has guided the destinies of the Dons for seven consecutive years, yet he was willing to predict today that his 1934 eleven will be as powerful as any he has molded.

Assured that a promising raft of county prep material is headed this way in the fall, and encouraged by the fact that 15 returning lettermen will greet him, Cook has no gloom to spread.

Bill Cook

While frankly admitting that prospects are even brighter than last season, the Don skipper, however, does not claim his next edition will enjoy the success of his '33 and '29 elevens, both Southland champions. He realizes competition will be stronger than ever in the Eastern conference, and lists the following reasons: (1) Pomona and San Bernardino have taken on new coaching strength in Roy Riegels and Bob McNeish, respectively, former stars at the University of California and U. S. C.; (2) Citrus and Chaffey have a host of returning freshmen; and (3) Fullerton and Riverside are known to be constant threats. Furthermore, all teams will "point" at Santa Ana the defending titlist.

Reviewing his 1934 material position by position, Coach Cook bases his optimism on the following facts:

ENDS—Five lettermen plan to return, including Ben Slavin, Paul Perinich, Walt Gunther, Frank Kroener and Jim Lash. Lash, injured last season, was a star in '32. In addition, Wallace Blaylock, all-Orange league end of Huntington Beach, "Bud" Perrin of Tustin and Ed King of Newport Harbor are planning to enroll.

TACKLES—Miles Norton, all conference player; "Bud" Boyle and Bob Bell are the veterans available. Roland Williams, giant star for Santa Ana Hi last fall, and Charley Roemer, another Saint regular, are other possibilities, and there is an outside chance that Ray Brown, Anaheim's all-Southern California tackle, may come here a year before entering U. S. C. Orange is contributing an outstanding prospect in Harold Lundblade, considered by Coach Stewart White of the Panthers to be his best collegiate prospect since Mike Santa Cruz of '30.

GUARDS—Loren Lukens and Sammy Tucker, 160-pound regulars return for their second year, while several county stars are considering jaysee, including Bob Eley of Anaheim, and Ford Underwood, retiring captain of Santa Ana's Saints. Howard Rash, stocky regular of Coach "Tex" Oliver's Saint champions of '32, also may report.

CENTER—Captain of his Huntington Beach team last season, Pete Stricklin, 185-pounder who stands 6:3, is a three-year prep letterman planning to enroll, and will offset the graduation of two Don regulars, Centers Ray Hoar and Bruce Handy. Other fine prospects are Anaheim's Bob Moxson and Newport Harbor's Howard Grebe. Kroener of the '33 squad may be shifted to the pivot post.

QUARTERBACK — Ray Hapes, the Garden Grove boy who starred in jaysee games last season, should be the sensation of the league this fall. He is fast and shifty, drives hard, and is an accurate passer. "Pee-Wee" Cliff of San Juan Capistrano, heralded by some observers as a second Warburton, plans to enroll. He is a 145-pounder with fine possibilities. Ray Hodgson, Garden Grove flash two years ago, is another likely catch.

HALFBACKS—Clair Preininger, one of Santa Ana's most effective blockers in '33, will be joined by three former Saint teammates—Walt Hendrie, Paul Hales and Major Anderson—and it is understood that Bert Kidd and Benny Davis of Anaheim, Hickman of Garden Grove, and the fleet Bill Blaylock of Huntington Beach are coming. Kidd is a left-footed punter of unusual ability, while Hickman was outstanding as a blocker for the Chillipeppers. Kidd played end for Anaheim part of the time.

FULLBACK—Wilburn Anderson and Bob Mitchell, both fine ball-carriers, are the holdovers of last year. Al Ogden, 192-pound fullback and sprinter who graduates from Newport Harbor, and Don Moore of Huntington Beach are other sterling prospects.

Santa Ana's 1934 schedule: (Non-conference games) Sept. 21—Compton here; Sept. 29—Long Beach here; Oct. 6—U. S. C. freshmen in Los Angeles. League games: Oct. 13—Pomoona here: Oct. 20—Riverside there; Oct. 27—Citrus at Azusa; Nov. 3—Chaffey here; Nov. 10—San Bernardino here; Nov. 17—open; Nov. 29—Fullerton there. The open date Nov. 17 may be filled by the University of Arizona freshmen in a contest at Tucson.

THREE BAG 71'S TO LEAD 'OPEN' GOLF TOURNEY

ARDMORE, Pa., June 7.—(UP) — Three professionals from the New York metropolitan area were tied for the lead in the first round of the United States Open golf championship today after most of the ace players and more than half of the field had completed opening-day tests.

Bobby Cruickshank, Purchase, N. Y., flashed in with a 71, one over par, to join "Wiffy" Cox of Brooklyn and Charles Lacey of Great Neck, N. Y., in a day of play which had contained no par or sub-par performances.

MERION CRICKET CLUB, Ardmore, Pa., June 7.—(UP)—Merion's compact and tricky course baffled America's greatest golfers today.

It took a toll of high scoring among many of the standouts of the field and left the midway lead held jointly by three players, Rodney Bliss, young amateur of Omaha, Neb., Jimmy Thompson of Los Angeles, longest hitter known to the game, and Willie Goggin of San Francisco.

These three men were four strokes past par of 70 but their 74s were certain to rate them among the leaders when the day's play is complete.

"Easy" Course Gives Trouble

Despite predictions of new record low scoring, early players had difficulties with Merion's tricky layout, and one of the early finishers, Roland MacKenzie, was as good as out of the tourney when his outward nine holes were complete. He turned in 46, 10 strokes above par, and had a 42, eight strokes over par, on the homeward nine, for a total of 88.

Johnny Goodman of Omaha, defending champion, came in with a 76, six over par for the layout which Craig Wood described as a "spoon and niblick course." Denny Shute required a 78. So sin Bill Mehlhorn.

Harry Cooper had a 76, Ed Dudley 76, Willie Hunter of Los Angeles 75, Walter Hagen 76, Johnny Golden 75, Al Watrous 77, Tom Creavy 79, William Jeliffe of Los Angeles 80, and Ted Longworth of Portland 81. Horton Smith had a 74, Olin Dutra a 76. Archie Hambrick came home in 78.

The fourth hole was giving considerable trouble. This is a 595-yard hole which has a creek cutting the fairway just in front of the green. Jimmy Hines of Great River, N. Y., took an eight on this hole, and Lawson Little, of San Francisco, the British Amateur champion, also took an eight. Little, playing poorly, ended with an 83.

Joe Kirkwood came in with a total of 75, five strokes past par, after parring every hole in going out in 36. He took a five on the three par 13th when he skipped from trap to trap.

Mac Smith Shoots 75

MacDonald Smith, making his 26th start in pursuit of the title, came back in par 34 after having gone out in 41, and had a total of 75.

Willie Goggin of San Francisco parred the last nine holes, which, added to his outward 40, gave him an aggregate of 74.

BRITISH BOXERS STILL JOKE

McLemore Hears Fans Cheer When Fighter 'Resigns'

RIVAL, REFEREE SYMPATHETIC

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 7.—Ever since the news that Barney Ross outpointed Jimmy McLarnin in Madison Square Garden reached me I have been in a quandry. And a Vermont marble one, at that.

I can't for the life of me remember which one I picked to win. I feel like it was Ross, but I don't see how it can be, for Ross won, and if I had picked a winner the lions on Nelson's monument would have stood up and barked. That leaves only McLarnin, but it couldn't have been he or I'd have received a batch of cables calling me a bum, a one-way dunce and a menace to youth.

Not knowing for sure which I picked leaves me in a predicament. It makes writing a story about it mighty tough. If it was Ross I picked, I naturally want to sit down and explain in calm, cold logic why he was my voice; how anybody with a sense of real ring values was forced to make the Chicago boy favorite.

If it was McLarnin I named, I naturally want to sit down and explain, in calm, cold logic, why Jimmy was my choice and how anybody with a real sense of ring values was forced to make the Vancouver boy favorite.

But until I find out, my hands are tied, so to speak, and I will have to fall back on boxing as she is done in England to complete this brave little essay.

Boxing in England isn't much to fall back on. Heavyweight champion of the British Isles up to a week ago was Len Harvey, a middleweight who had his ears pinned back every time out in America. This should give you an idea. If it doesn't, then you should have sat in on the fight I saw here a few nights back.

Until I saw this affair, I would have sworn the waltz between Jack Renault and Pierre Charles in Madison Square Garden some years back would stand for all time as the worst anywhere, any time. But, compared to these two British beauties, Charles and Renault were a pair of treed panthers defending their young.

For eight rounds the Englishmen glided about without hitting a single lick that would have loosened the petals of a dandelion. In the ninth the bigger of the two men suddenly stopped his tango, turned to the referee and confided that he felt as if he just must retire.

"You see," he said, "I'm not at all up to scratch tonight. I really can't carry on. It wouldn't be fair. So I think I'll retire—if you don't mind."

Forgetting for the moment that I wasn't in the Garden, where such an ending would result in a call for the riot squad, I ducked under my seat. Nothing happened, not so much as a boo. I peeped up in time to see the referee murmur sweet sympathies to the defaulter. The opponent threw his arm about the man's shoulder and helped him from the ring. The crowd gave the pair a hand, and filed peaceably out into the night.

LAYDEN STUDIES SHAKESPEARE

Elmer Layden has taken up an extensive course of study in Shakespeare. The Shakespeare of this story is a young halfback, a sophomore last season, who is expected to make the grade in Notre Dame's backfield this fall.

H94 NINE TRIUMPHS AT WILLARD, 3 TO 0

Yesterday the only two undefeated Frances Willard ball teams fought for supremacy on the junior high school field, W. P. Read's H94 club, piloted by Pitcher Charles Olivas, triumphing, 3-0.

Olivas pitched a one-hit against the L92 hitters. He received fine support. Smith got the only hit off Olivas in the last inning when he popped one over third base.

The H94 club scored its 3 runs in the last inning. Until this time there had been no hits off Lopera, L9 chucker.

The H93 squad, weakened by loss of the services of Pitcher Gale Miller, who has a sore hand, fell an easy victim to the L102 unit in another Willard contest.

SLOANE STABLE TO RUN AT ARLINGTON

CHICAGO, June 7.—(UP)—Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's trio of 3-year-old stars, Cavalcade, High Quest and Time Clock, will campaign at Arlington park during the 30-day meeting opening June 25.

Cavalcade, winner of the Chesapeake Stakes, Kentucky and American Derbies; High Quest, winner of the Preakness, and Time Clock, winner of the Florida Derby, have been nominated for the $35,000 added Arlington Classic, the Stars and Stripes Handicap and the Arlington Handicap. Equipoise, Ladysman and other outstanding members of the older division have been nominated for the Stars and Stripes and the Arlington Handicap.

CROMWELL TAKES 13 TRACK STARS NORTH

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—(UP)—Coach Dean Cromwell is defying superstition by taking 13 men to Berkeley to represent the University of Southern California in the Far Western A. A. U. track and field championships Saturday.

Three sprinters and three quarter-milers form the nucleus of the Trojan team which leaves tomorrow night. Foy Draper, Charley Parsons and James Abbott will represent Troy in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and Captain Ed Ablowich, John McCarthy and Al Fitch will perform in the quarter. Francis Benavidez and Ferris Webster will carry Trojan colors in the mile.

Co-Captain Hueston Harper, shot-putter; Kenneth Carpenter, discus thrower, Al Olson and Curt McFadden, broad jumpers, and Will Brannan, high jumper, compose the rest of the local squad.

The Berkeley championships will provide the Trojans a good chance of matching their strength again with Stanford before meeting in the N. C. A. A. championships here June 22 and 23.

CLOWN HURLER TOO GOOD FOR SERAPHS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(UP)—The shrewd businessmen who operate the San Francisco Seals found much satisfaction today in the feat of Walter (The Great) Mails in defeating the Los Angeles Angels, pace-setters of the Pacific Coast league.

Mails, a veteran in the baseball wars, was hired principally for his clowning propensities. The Seals needed a touch of color, so they looked to Mails to provide it. The pitching was to be taken care of by such stalwarts as Leroy Herrmann, Jimmy Zinn and Sam Gibson.

All three have failed consistently against the Angels, while the clown of the staff, the one and only Mails, came through with a 3-2 victory last night. And the chap he defeated in a 12-inning duel was no less than Dick Ward, premier moundsman of the circuit last year and unbeaten this year until he met Mails.

CITY LEAGUE CLUBS RENEW TITLE RACE

Despite a slightly "wet track," intrepid Santa Ana City leaguers resume their baseball race at the Municipal Bowl tonight.

TILDEN, VINES CALL OFF TOUR TO ORIENT

BOSTON, June 7.—(UP)—Plans for a barnstorming tour of the Orient by Bill Tilden and Ellsworth Vines, have been abandoned and instead the American professional tennis aces will sail from New York August 28 for a prolonged invasion of Europe, it was learned today.

The decision to tour Europe was revealed by William F. O'Brien, manager of Tilden, who with Vines and other professional stars is playing in the New England

It had been planned for Tilden and Vines to play in the Philippines, China and Japan. But a sagging in tennis interest in Japan following suicide of Jiro Sato, Davis Cup star, resulted in abandonment of the Oriental trip.

"We didn't want to play in China and the Philippines without going to Japan," O'Brien said.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Baseball is only a second love to Umpire C. B. Grigg, of the Southern league. . . . Hizzoner is a former pro football star, having played with the Canton Bulldogs and New York Giants. . . . He now coaches Rice Institute's backfield. . . . They're saying that the Manassa Mauler dropped 35 grand when Barney Ross lifted Jimmy McLarnin's welter crown. . . . Joe Stecher, former heavyweight mat champ, has folded his tent . . . and with all that swell, easy wrestling dough in sight! . . . Billy Petrolle must have meant what he said when he vowed he was finished with the fight game after his defeat by Barney Foss. . . . The Fargo Express is running a cigar store in Duluth. . . . "Gabby" Street again is experiencing too much interference from the front office, it is said . . . and rumors have it he's on the way out as manager of the San Francisco Missions . . . just as he was ousted from the Cards after words with Sam Breadon.

REMEMBER BARNEY?

Barney Oldfield, daddy of drivers, did not attend the 500-mile automobile race in Indianapolis on Memorial day, primarily because he was not invited by Eddie Rickenbacker, president of the Speedway corporation and chairman of the contest board of the American Automobile association.

Oldfield is a member of the latter body, but suspects that he is not a welcome one, due principally to interviews and broadcasts stressing the peril of the roaring road.

"I don't advocate prohibiting the sport, but I believe it should be made more safe, if possible," says Oldfield, who again is at the World's Fair in connection with an automobile exhibit.

Automobile racing has snuffed out 21 lives in the last 18 months. Five were killed on the Hoosier course a year ago. Two met death in a qualifying trial for the most recent test. Four had miraculous escapes when mounts hurtled the wall in their mad dash after prize and lap lucre.

On losing control and skidding off the track and out of the grind, Phil Shafer, who competed in the event for the tenth time, said the bricks never were more hazardous owing to slipperiness caused by oil leaking from cars on the turns.

SAFETY STILL LAST

The one rule designed as a safety measure — limiting cars to 45 gallons of gasoline—worked with reverse English, what with three smashups and Mauri Rose forcing Wild Bill Cummings to a new average of 104.865 miles an hour and track record of 104.021. The Dayton driver finished only 27 seconds behind the winner.

The limited fuel turned out to be nothing more than a source of worry toward the fag end to the 13 who finished. Cummings had three gallons left when flagged, or enough to rifle his little four-clyinder machine about 36 miles farther.

Oldfield wouldn't raise his boy to be an automobile racing driver. The first man to drive a car a mile a minute calls the speedway championship an empty one.

"Automobile racing holds no future as it did in the days when I was driving old 'crates'," contends Barney. "How many autoists know who won last year's Indianapolis race, and, although 135,000 persons saw him do it, two weeks from now how many will be able to recall offhand the victor of the other day?

TIME TO RETIRE

"But ask any horse-going person who bagged the Kentucky Derby, any golfer to relate Bobby Jones' greatest achievement, any baseball fan what club Babe Ruth plays with, or any fight fan who lifted Jack Dempsey's title, and see how quickly you get a reply.

'And if automobile racing under current conditions isn't too dangerous, why did Rickenbacker, Tommy Milton, Billy Arnold, Harry Hartz, Harlan Fengler, Earl Cooper, myself and other exchampions forsake their chosen profession?

"There are only two answers. Either it is too risky, or there isn't enough money in it. And I, for one, didn't quit because I couldn't make or use the coin.

"Lindbergh flew across the ocean, but I dare say he is not advising young America to follow his example."

BAER PLEA FOR POSTPONEMENT TO BE OPPOSED

ASBURY PARK, N. J.,—June 7.—(UP)—Because of Maxie Baer's poor condition, Bill Brown, member of the New York state athletic commission, will recommend tomorrow a month's postponement of the Baer-Carnera title fight, or complete cancellation.

The bout is scheduled for next Thursday night.

Brown announced his intention of recommending the postponement or cancellation after watching Baer box nine rounds today. The commissioner said he would request the delay at tomorrow's commission meeting, at which Carnera and Baer are slated for a physical examination.

NEW YORK, June 7.—(UP) — Max Baer's managerial request for a week's postponement of his projected fight with Primo Carnera — because Baer's advisors don't think he is tough enough yet—was received with some skepticism in boxing circles today.

Observers agreed the confession of the loud-speaking California lover that he is not hard enough yet to handle Primo sounds funny —or phoney.

Jimmy Johnston, Garden matchmaker, appeared ready to fight Baer himself, if necessary, to get him into the Garden Bowl the night of June 14. The Garden has upwards of $200,000 in the tills, according to Johnston, and he scored the thought Baer's move was a sly effort to get more elbow room between the McLarnin-Ross fight and the impending heavyweight embroglio.

From Pompton Lakes, where Carnera is getting in trim, an even more indignant squawk was raised by Prof. Louis Soresi, the champion's spokesman. Soresi says Carnera will "lose his edge" if the fight is put off. Carnera himself merely flecked a paw like a Westphalia ham, examined a set of knuckles that looked like a row of cocoanuts, and grinned toothily.

"I am ready for heem," he murmured.

Ancil Hoffman, who made the announcement at Baer's training quarters that the challenger would ask for a week's delay, is to appear Friday morning before the commission to put in his plea.

However, Johnston will meet the commissioners too, and will fight the postponement.

"We will lose if the fight is postponed," Johnston said. "This sort of thing never helped a fight."

Jack Dempsey's advice to Hoffman to ask for a delay came after the former champion watched Baer get trounced around by two dusky sparring fellows, Larry Johnson of Chicago, and "Dynamite" Jackson of Los Angeles.

Finch, Pro At Golf Club, Seriously Ill

Floyd Finch, golf professional at the Santa Ana Country club, was seriously ill today at St. Joseph's hospital, where he underwent an emergency operation for a ruptured appendix yestreday.

Peritonitis has complicated Finch's condition, but attendants said he was resting as easily as could be expected under the circumstances. He was in considerable pain all Monday night, and the appendix broke before he could summon a physician.

Finch had been attached to the Santa Ana Country club several months, coming here from Fox Hills. He and Mrs. Finch moved only Monday from a Cypress avenue address to 2053 South Ross street.

As former professional at the Stanford University course, Finch instructed Lawson Little, the young collegian who recently attracted international attention by winning the British Amateur tournament.

STARS, OILERS PLAY OFF RAIN GAME JUNE 16

Santa Ana and Huntington Beach, rained out here last Tuesday, will play off their postponed National Night league baseball game at the Municipal Bowl the night of Saturday, June 16.

The date was fixed today, following a conference between Bill Cole and Joe Rodgers, managers of the two clubs. Rodgers' approval was contingent on his securing the o. k. of the Huntington Beach commission.

Outside observers figure the arrangement a distinct "break" for Huntington Beach which will have at least one day's rest before the game as it plays Olive on the previous Thursday, whereas Santa Ana must meet Anaheim at Anaheim on Friday, the night before it goes against Huntington Beach.

However, the Saturday evening date appeared the only one possible, following President George Peterkin's announcement that the clubs positively would not be permitted to delay the play-off more than two weeks.

Baseball men will watch the Star-Oiler joust with special interest, not only because it is sure to have an important bearing on the outcome of the pennant race but also whether a big game, played on a Saturday night, will draw at the box office. It is understood that this particular one will not be started until 8:15 or 8:30 in order to accommodate downtown business men and shoppers.

S. A. AND OLIVE MEET TONIGHT, START 2ND LAP

NATIONAL NIGHT LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.
Huntington Beach	5	1	.833
Westminster	5	2	.714
Olive	4	3	.571
Anaheim	4	3	.571
Torrance	4	3	.571
Santa Ana	3	3	.500
Fullerton	2	5	.285
Long Beach	0	7	.000

With the kickoff at Olive, where Santa Ana and Olive pick up the threads of an old feud, the National Night Ball league merry-go-round goes into its second lap tonight.

The Olive club plays all its home games on Thursday, thereby attracting a few dollars that might go astray were the Packers to buck the bigger towns, so this will be the lone conflict of the evening.

Other clubs begin the new round tomorrow, with Huntington Beach at Anaheim, Westminster at Torrance, and Long Beach at Fullerton. The coming bracket of seven games winds up the first-half pennant race, the finale being June 29. Then, after a week's rest, the teams begin all over again, playing two more rounds and ending August 24.

Stars Still in Running

Santa Ana can establish itself as a genuine contender for the championship by beating Olive. The field is so evenly balanced this season that almost anything can happen in the next four weeks, so the Stars' three first-half defeats could just about be written off if they put on a spirited winning streak.

Olive, of course, enjoys the same possibility, and has the added advantage of a higher average in the current standings. The Packers completed their first-half schedule with four victories against three defeats. Santa Ana won three and lost three, but must still play the powerful Huntington Beach aggregation.

The Stars have a little score to settle with the Packers for they still begrudge Olive the 1-0 game lost here the first night of the season. Jimmy Coates pitched three-hit ball in that struggle only to lose the decision to Rudy Heman when Shortstop Terry Griffith hit a long home run to center in the seventh. Then Santa Ana loaded the bases in the last of the ninth without scoring.

Coates and Heman will be rival moundmen again tonight, with "Eeny" Wilcox catching the Santa Ana nominee and Al Reboin, the U. S. C. football player, handling Rudy.

Change Batting Order

Manager Bill Cole said Santa Ana's lineup would be the same as usual although Ed Daley and Rod Ballard will exchange spots in the batting order, Daley swinging second under the new arrangement.

Olive presents several new men since its first start against the Stars. Ora Sands, the league's best hitter in '33, is out of commission with a broken ankle and his place in right field will be occupied by Leo Morse, formerly of the Green Cats. Elmer Coots, who caught the first few games for the Packers, has gone back to his favorite position, first base. "Memphy" Hill, for many years a colorful member of the Santa Ana club, and now with Olive under option, is operating at second base. "Red" Kidder, a Trojan football player from Santa Ana, will be in left field. Third Baseman Ralph Jertberg, Shortstop Griffith and Outfielder Russ Porter are the only holdovers from that opening game.

A benefit game will be played at Olive the night of Saturday, June 23, for Ora Sands, the Packers' great hitter-outfielder, who suffered a broken bone in his ankle in an exhibition contest at Redlands last week. All receipts will accrue directly to Sands.

Ben Gelker, Olive business director, is making arrangements. He has the promise of all National Night league managers that they'll contribute their ace players to send against a squad similarly chosen from the inland American league.

CITY LEAGUE CLUBS RENEW TITLE RACE

Despite a slightly "wet track," intrepid Santa Ana City leaguers resume their baseball race at the Municipal Bowl tonight.

The 7 o'clock curtain-raiser matches the league-leadinig First National bank with Weber's bakery. At 8 o'clock the Union Oilers take on the M. E. South Seniors.

Black Giants Collide In Rematch At Arena

Held up by rain for several days, Orange county's sports program gets back to normalcy tonight with the regular weekly boxing show at the Orange County Athletic club's Bowl.

"Dusty" Davidson, giant heavyweight from the CCC camp, and Art Breaux of the Ebony club, Los Angeles, meet in the main event. They are Negro 200-pounders, colliding for the second time.

Fighting here three weeks ago in a contest that introduced five-round boxing among California amateurs, Davidson and Breaux contributed what was widely regarded as the best main event waged since Promoter Sam Sampson opened his new arena on the state highway. Davidson got Referee Jackie Fields' decision, but only after a bruising scrimmage that was in doubt all the way.

Breaux and Davidson head a 10-bout lineup, with colored boys from the Ebony club composing one entire side of the card. The program calls for three five-rounders, and seven four-rounders—a total of 43 rounds should all matches go the limit.

Garmen Tullio, the only scrapper who has been able to take the measure of "Chief" Lopez here, appears in the semi-windup against Paddy Guillon of San Bernardino. Lopez will get the winner, according to Matchmaker "Bud" Rutledge, with the survivor of the second engagement being in line for a shot at Jim Jeffries' Southern California champion.

Bill Wana, the Westminster badman, meets Paul Wilkins in the special event. Undefeated at the Bowl, Wana may find Wilkins a tartar.

The rest of the card:

Louis Westbrook, Ebony club, vs. Jack Curley, Long Beach, 149 pounds; Johnny Grigo, Ebony club, vs. Paul Moreno, Garden Grove, 112 pounds.

Louis Marshill, Ebony club, vs. Benny Gomez, Pico, 170 pounds;

Eddie Jackson, Ebony club, vs. Tommy Astrada, Norwalk, 145 pounds;

Clair Thomas, Ebony club, vs. Manuel Rodriguez, Los Angeles, 120 pounds.

INCOMING PREPS TO HELP DONS

BUT OPPOSITION TO BE KEENER

Smiling Bill Cook, coach of Santa Ana's Southern California jaysee football champions, has guided the destinies of the Dons for seven consecutive years, yet he was willing to predict today that his 1934 eleven will be as powerful as any he has molded.

Assured that a promising raft of county prep material is headed this way in the fall, and encouraged by the fact that 15 returning lettermen will greet him, Cook has no gloom to spread.

Bill Cook

While frankly admitting that prospects are even brighter than last season, the Don skipper, however, does not claim his next edition will enjoy the success of his '33 and '29 elevens, both Southland champions. He realizes competition will be stronger than ever in the Eastern conference, and lists the following reasons: (1) Pomona and San Bernardino have taken on new coaching strength in Roy Riegels and Bob McNeish, respectively, former stars at the University of California and U. S. C.; (2) Citrus and Chaffey have a host of returning freshmen; and (3) Fullerton and Riverside are known to be constant threats. Furthermore, all teams will "point" at Santa Ana the defending titlist.

Reviewing his 1934 material position by position, Coach Cook bases his optimism on the following facts:

ENDS—Five lettermen plan to return, including Ben Slavin, Paul Perinich, Walt Gunther, Frank Kroener and Jim Lash. Lash, injured last season, was a star in '32. In addition, Wallace Blaylock, all-Orange league end of Huntington Beach, "Bud" Perrin of Tustin and Ed King of Newport Harbor are planning to enroll.

TACKLES—Miles Norton, all conference player; "Bud" Boyle and Bob Bell are the veterans available. Roland Williams, giant star for Santa Ana Hi last fall, and Charley Roemer, another Saint regular, are other possibilities, and there is an outside chance that Ray Brown, Anaheim's all-Southern California tackle, may come here a year before entering U. S. C. Orange is contributing an outstanding prospect in Harold Lundblade, considered by Coach Stewart White of the Panthers to be his best collegiate prospect since Mike Santa Cruz of '30.

GUARDS—Loren Lukens and Sammy Tucker, 160-pound regulars return for their second year, while several county stars are considering jaysee, including Bob Eley of Anaheim, and Ford Underwood, retiring captain of Santa Ana's Saints. Howard Rash, stocky regular of Coach "Tex" Oliver's Saint champions of '32, also may report.

CENTER—Captain of his Huntington Beach team last season, Pete Stricklin, 185-pounder who stands 6:3, is a three-year prep letterman planning to enroll, and will offset the graduation of two Don regulars, Centers Ray Hoar and Bruce Handy. Other fine prospeits are Anaheim's Bob Moxson and Newport Harbor's Howard Grebe. Kroener of the '33 squad may be shifted to the pivot post.

QUARTERBACK — Ray Hapes, the Garden Grove boy who starred in jaysee games last season, should be the sensation of the league this fall. He is fast and shifty, drives hard, and is an accurate passer. "Pee-Wee" Cliff of San Juan Capistrano, heralded by some observers as a second Warburton, plans to enroll. He is a 145-pounder with fine possibilities. Ray Hodgson, Garden Grove flash two years ago, is another likely catch.

HALFBACKS—Clair Preininger, one of Santa Ana's most effective blockers in '33, will be joined by three former Saint teammates—Walt Hendrie, Paul Hales and Major Anderson—and it is understood that Bert Kidd and Benny Davis of Anaheim, Hickman of Garden Grove, and the fleet Bill Blaylock of Huntington Beach are coming. Kidd is a left-footed punter of unusual ability, while Hickman was outstanding as a blocker for the Chillipeppers. Kidd played end for Anaheim part of the time.

FULLBACK—Wilburn Anderson and Bob Mitchell, both fine ball-carriers, are the holdovers of last year. Al Ogden, 192-pound fullback and sprinter who graduates from Newport Harbor, and Don Moore of Huntington Beach are other sterling prospects.

Santa Ana's 1934 schedule: (Non-conference games) Sept. 21—Compton here; Sept. 29—Long Beach here; Oct. 6—U. S. C. freshmen in Los Angeles. League games: Oct. 13—Pomoona here: Oct. 20—Riverside there; Oct. 27—Citrus at Azusa; Nov. 3—Chaffey here; Nov. 10—San Bernardino here; Nov. 17—open; Nov. 29—Fullerton there. The open date Nov. 17 may be filled by the University of Arizona freshmen in a contest at Tucson.

TILDEN, VINES CALL OFF TOUR TO ORIENT

BOSTON, June 7.—(UP)—Plans for a barnstorming tour of the Orient by Bill Tilden and Ellsworth Vines, have been abandoned and instead the American professional tennis aces will sail from New York August 28 for a prolonged invasion of Europe, it was learned today.

The decision to tour Europe was revealed by William F. O'Brien, manager of Tilden, who with Vines and other professional stars is playing in the New England

It had been planned for Tilden and Vines to play in the Philippines, China and Japan. But a sagging in tennis interest in Japan following suicide of Jiro Sato, Davis Cup star, resulted in abandonment of the Oriental trip.

"We didn't want to play in China and the Philippines without going to Japan," O'Brien said.

THREE BAG 71'S TO LEAD 'OPEN' GOLF TOURNEY

ARDMORE, Pa., June 7.—(UP) — Three professionals from the New York metropolitan area were tied for the lead in the first round of the United States Open golf championship today after most of the ace players and more than half of the field had completed opening-day tests.

Bobby Cruickshank, Purchase, N. Y., flashed in with a 71, one over par, to join "Wiffy" Cox of Brooklyn and Charles Lacey of Great Neck, N. Y., in a day of play which had contained no par or sub-par performances.

MERION CRICKET CLUB, Ardmore, Pa., June 7.—(UP)—Merion's compact and tricky course baffled America's greatest golfers today.

It took a toll of high scoring among many of the standouts of the field and left the midway lead held jointly by three players, Rodney Bliss, young amateur of Omaha, Neb., Jimmy Thompson of Los Angeles, longest hitter known to the game, and Willie Goggin of San Francisco.

These three men were four strokes past par of 70 but their 74s were certain to rate them among the leaders when the day's play is complete.

"Easy" Course Gives Trouble

Despite predictions of new record low scoring, early players had difficulties with Merion's tricky layout, and one of the early finishers, Roland MacKenzie, was as good as out of the tourney when his outward nine holes were complete. He turned in 46, 10 strokes above par, and had a 42, eight strokes over par, on the homeward nine, for a total of 88.

Johnny Goodman of Omaha, defending champion, came in with a 76, six over par for the layout which Craig Wood described as a "spoon and niblick course." Denny Shute required a 78. So sin Bill Mehlhorn.

Harry Cooper had a 76, Ed Dudley 76, Willie Hunter of Los Angeles 75, Walter Hagen 76, Johnny Golden 75, Al Watrous 77, Tom Creavy 79, William Jeliffe of Los Angeles 80, and Ted Longworth of Portland 81. Horton Smith had a 74, Olin Dutra a 76. Archie Hambrick came home in 78.

The fourth hole was giving considerable trouble. This is a 595-yard hole which has a creek cutting the fairway just in front of the green. Jimmy Hines of Great River, N. Y., took an eight on this hole, and Lawson Little, of San Francisco, the British Amateur champion, also took an eight. Little, playing poorly, ended with an 83.

Joe Kirkwood came in with a total of 75, five strokes past par, after parring every hole in going out in 36. He took a five on the three par 13th when he skipped from trap to trap.

Mac Smith Shoots 75

MacDonald Smith, making his 26th start in pursuit of the title, came back in par 34 after having gone out in 41, and had a total of 75.

Willie Goggin of San Francisco parred the last nine holes, which, added to his outward 40, gave him an aggregate of 74.

BRITISH BOXERS STILL JOKE

McLemore Hears Fans Cheer When Fighter 'Resigns'

RIVAL, REFEREE SYMPATHETIC

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 7.—Ever since the news that Barney Ross outpointed Jimmy McLarnin in Madison Square Garden reached me I have been in a quandry. And a Vermont marble one, at that.

I can't for the life of me remember which one I picked to win. I feel like it was Ross, but I don't see how it can be, for Ross won, and if I had picked a winner the lions on Nelson's monument would have stood up and barked. That leaves only McLarnin, but it couldn't have been he or I'd have received a batch of cables calling me a bum, a one-way dunce and a menace to youth.

Not knowing for sure which I picked leaves me in a predicament. It makes writing a story about it mighty tough. If it was Ross I picked, I naturally want to sit down and explain in calm, cold logic why he was my voice; how anybody with a sense of real ring values was forced to make the Chicago boy favorite.

If it was McLarnin I named, I naturally want to sit down and explain, in calm, cold logic, why Jimmy was my choice and how anybody with a real sense of ring values was forced to make the Vancouver boy favorite.

But until I find out, my hands are tied, so to speak, and I will have to fall back on boxing as she is done in England to complete this brave little essay.

Boxing in England isn't much to fall back on. Heavyweight champion of the British Isles up to a week ago was Len Harvey, a middleweight who had his ears pinned back every time out in America. This should give you an idea. If it doesn't, then you should have sat in on the fight I saw here a few nights back.

Until I saw this affair, I would have sworn the waltz between Jack Renault and Pierre Charles in Madison Square Garden some years back would stand for all time as the worst anywhere, any time. But, compared to these two British beauties, Charles and Renault were a pair of treed panthers defending their young.

For eight rounds the Englishmen glided about without hitting a single lick that would have loosened the petals of a dandelion. In the ninth the bigger of the two men suddenly stopped his tango, turned to the referee and confided that he felt as if he just must retire.

"You see," he said, "I'm not at all up to scratch tonight. I really can't carry on. It wouldn't be fair. So I think I'll retire—if you don't mind."

Forgetting for the moment that I wasn't in the Garden, where such an ending would result in a call for the riot squad, I ducked under my seat. Nothing happened, not so much as a boo. I peeped up in time to see the referee murmur sweet sympathies to the defaulter. The opponent threw his arm about the man's shoulder and helped him from the ring. The crowd gave the pair a hand, and filed peaceably out into the night.

H94 NINE TRIUMPHS AT WILLARD, 3 TO 0

Yesterday the only two undefeated Frances Willard ball teams fought for supremacy on the junior high school field, W. P. Read's H94 club, piloted by Pitcher Charles Olivas, triumphing, 3-0.

Olivas pitched a one-hit against the L92 hitters. He received fine support. Smith got the only hit off Olivas in the last inning when he popped one over third base.

The H94 club scored its 3 runs in the last inning. Until this time there had been no hits off Lopera, L9 chucker.

The H93 squad, weakened by loss of the services of Pitcher Gale Miller, who has a sore hand, fell an easy victim to the L102 unit in another Willard contest.

CLUB GROUP OF SAN CLEMENTE HOLDS PROGRAM

SAN CLEMENTE, June 7.—A large number of members and guests attended the third annual luncheon meeting of the San Clemente Woman's club at the Aquarium cafe Tuesday. Choice spring flowers arranged in low baskets and sprays of greenery furnished artistic decoration for the tables at which a four-course luncheon was served.

The address of welcome by Mrs. F. W. Parsons, vice president, was followed by an address by Mayor A. T. Smith, who complimented the club on its achievements. Mrs. J. B. Lape and Mrs. W. Ed. Edwards, past presidents of the club, also spoke.

Representing the president, Mrs. P. W. Smith, who has been absent for an extended period, Mrs. Harry Hulburt presented each officer and committee head with a gift from the president.

Coming as a surprise feature of the program were the whistling solos by Mrs. E. W. Greensides, of Doheny Park, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. K. Maxwell, of Doheny Park.

A quartet from the music section comprising Mesdames Emma Servus, A. T. Smith, John Riley and Kenneth Pitcher, sang "Wild Spring Flowers", "Old Kentucky Home" and "My Wish for You", with accompaniments played by Mrs. Julia L. Chalk.

The officers-elect, Mrs. George E. Higgins, president; Mrs. Inez Harlow, vice president, and Mrs. John Riley, treasurer, were introduced by Mrs. Shork. Mrs. F. T. Hogeland, secretary-elect, is absent on an eastern trip. The retiring officers are Mrs. P. W. Smith, president; Mrs. F. W. Parsons, vice president, and Mrs. David W. Barrett, secretary.

There were several presentations of gifts. A gift from the club to Mrs. P. W. Smith was accepted for her by Mrs. Harry Hulburt and one for Mrs. F. W. Parsons was presented by Mrs. Emma Servus. Baskets of flowers complimenting the incoming and retiring presidents were presented by Mrs. Shork.

A style show was offered by a modiste from Coronado. Models were Mesdames Ruth Larson, Eleanor Clark, Rebecca Fate, Charlotte Saxe and Mabel Pitcher of San Clemente, and Misses Ruth Verlengia, Eleanor Davis and Betty Grew, of Coronado.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Fred Shork and Miss Emma J. Ochsner, program committee. The luncheon arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Emma Servus.

Guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Ray Bartlett, of Minneapolis; Mrs. Archie Rasey, Mrs. E. J. Garvey and Mrs. Edith Cherrington, of Pasadena; Mrs. George H. Lewis and Miss Grace Petty of San Diego; Miss Josephine Owen of Owens Valley; Miss Henderson, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Frank Henderson of Dana Point; W. Ed. Edwards of Los Angeles and Mrs. O. K. Maxwell and Mrs. E. W. Greensides, of Doheny Park; Miss Pauline Neddermeyer, Mrs. John Fate, Judge Fred S. Warner, George E. Higgins and Mayor A. T. Smith of San Clemente.

Members attending from other cities were Mrs. J. B. Lape, of Carpenteria; Mrs. W. Ed. Edwards, of Los Angeles; Mrs. S. A. Meyer, of Newport Beach; Mrs. Clark Smith of Oceanside, Mrs. William Leak, of San Juan Capistrano, and Mrs. Inez Harlow, of Doheny Park.

On the program of entertainment prepared for this meeting Superintendent of Schools, E. R. Berry spoke on "Effects of Cuts in the School Budget on Education."

Children of the Wilson school presented an operetta under the direction of Prof. Frank L. Barrows, with S. L. Treff at the piano. Claudine Roddy, of Los Angeles, gave two dance numbers.

Mrs. Charles Newson reported on the child welfare work during the past year and stated that the P.-T. A. had paid one-third of the bill for the free milk for undernourished children, or $59.19 on this account, with the Kiwanis club bearing the balance of the expense.

Charles Shoemaker reported on the summer playground, stating that the playground at the Washington school would be open afternoons during July and August from 2 to 5 p. m. W. A. Sharp is to have charge of athletics; Shoemaker in charge of tennis and there will also be art and library courses offered certain days each week; Grace Taylor will teach dancing and Anna Wolfe will conduct the story hour. Baseball will be in charge of the American Legion.

TUSTIN GRADE SCHOOL PUPILS PARTY GUESTS

TUSTIN, June 7.—A delightful party, complimenting the eighth grade graduates of Tustin Grammar school, was held Tuesday evening in the Tustin American Legion hall. The event was planned by the mothers of the class, with Mrs. F. C. Matthews as general chairman.

Interesting games were played under the supervision of Mrs. John Kiser and George Gaylord. Dancing to piano music furnished by Miss Marjory Tubach and Mrs. Tucker was enjoyed.

Refreshments of home made ice cream, cakes and candies were served by the hostesses at long tables decked with pink candles. Included in the menu was a large pink birthday cake in honor of Miss Thelma Tucker and Chester Stearns whose birthday anniversaries occurred that day.

Farewell Party Held At Hansen

HANSEN, June 7.—Honoring Mrs. John Hanneman of the Savanna tract, who is leaving this week for Chicago, where she will join her husband, who has been employed there since leaving here last month, Mrs. Gladys Nordstrom was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a farewell party.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served, concluding a pleasant afternoon of sewing. The women embroidered their names on a tablecloth, and presented it to Mrs. Hanneman as a momento of her three years' residence in their midst.

Those bidden to the farewell party by Mrs. Nordstrom were Mesdames Jean Remick, Clara Karracker, Lillian Nordstrom of Santa Ana; Mabel Lukens, Edith Porter, Mary Lee Sawtelle, Gertrude Nickolas, Martha Hanneman, Mabel Polluck and Edna Krueger, of Downey, and the honored guest, Mrs. John Hanneman.

SEEK BIDS ON NEW SCHOOL AT NEWPORT SOON

NEWPORT BEACH, June 7. — Bids for the construction of the new school in Newport Beach are expected to be called within 30 days, it was learned following the meeting of the board of trustees of the Newport school district.

Plans for the construction have been in the hands of contractors since February and will have to be sent to the state department of engineering for approval. In the main they will conform to the recommendations set forth by Charles Bursch of the Division of Schoolhouse Planning, State Department of Education, in his recent report on the building problems in the Newport district, it was said.

It is planned to construct one central school building on the present site, of concrete, and capable of handling 400 pupils. It is felt that the savings possible through the construction of a wood-stucco type building would not be sufficient to compensate for the change.

This plan was partly endorsed last week by the Newport Harbor Chamber of commerce, when it recommended the construction of the stucco type building, with such added facilities as auditorium and kindergarten. The cost of this structure will approximate $100,000, it is said.

The board of trustees signed teachers' warrants for May and announced that no decision on new teachers for next year would be possible until the next regular meeting.

MUSICIAN AT 7

ALICE IMAMOTO

Piano Recital Presented By Japanese Child in Baptist Church

GARDEN GROVE, June 7.—Playing compositions of Bach, Grieg, Mozart, Paderewski and Durand, Alice Setsuko Imamoto, 7, appeared in a recital at the Baptist church Tuesday evening. Besides the solo numbers, she appeared in a trio selection with her sisters, Grace, playing the cello, and Marion, the violin.

The youthful pianist was one of 19 young Southern California pianists who won places on the national honor roll of the National Music guild of New York as a result of their participation in the annual nation-wide piano playing tournament held in Los Angeles recently. Alice entered the tournament with 12 members and received 12 first ratings. She is the student of Helen E. Johnston Music studio of Anaheim.

Harold Johnston, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Johnston, of Walnut street, and a nephew of his teacher, Mrs. Johnston, was one of the assisting artists on the recital program. He also was an entrant in the tournament, playing four numbers and receiving four first ratings.

Walton Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Long, who won first place in the older students' violin division at the Eisteddfod contest held in Los Angeles, appeared on the program with his brother, Wilbur, as accompanist.

Alice was presented with numerous bouquets of flowers during the recital. The church was profusely decorated with flowers.

The Imamoto sisters are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Imamoto, of 181 West Acacia street, Garden Grove.

Woman's Club of Brea Installs New Officers June 12

BREA, June 7.—Closing activities for the Brea Woman's club, the meeting of June 12 will be held in the gardens of the W. D. Shaffer home on West Imperial highway, convening at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Warmer, Ontario, southern district president, will be a special guest of honor and will install the incoming officers. Reports of officers and chairmen will be heard.

Mrs. Shaffer will be assisted in hostess duties by a committee of club women. Refreshments will be served.

School Plans Approved By Mesa Board

COSTA MESA, June 7.—Plans for the erection of a new 14-room unit in the main school assembly of the Costa Mesa Grammar school were approved by the school trustees when presented to them by Architects Perrine and Mackie of Los Angeles at a meeting held by the board in the Lindbergh school last night.

The old school auditorium is to be moved out on Nineteenth street and repaired to meet state building code requirements. The west wing of the old building also is to be repaired and is to be used as a kindergarten unit when the main building is ready for occupancy. The east wing of the old structure will be used temporarily until the new unit is finished and then razed. The entire program is expected to cost approximately $70,000, the amount alliotted to the district by the state as a loan.

Word was received from Dan Mulherron, director of the SERA program, that laborers will be available about June 15 to continue the work on the school garage and manual training building which was started under the CWA plan. The actual work of construction on the new main unit is not expected to start until late fall, it was stated by board members.

LAGUNA PIER ORDERED CLOSED; LICENSE MEASURE GETS READING

LAGUNA BEACH, June 7.—Action looking toward the closing of the local fishing pier as a public safety measure, first reading of amendments to the building contractors' and plumbers' licensing laws; appointment of a committee to investigate and report upon distribution of insurance; discussion of publicity expenditures and disposal of routine matters, featured the regular meeting of the city council last night.

Declaring the fishing pier, now under lease to and operated by Capt. O. B. Ayers, to be in an unsafe condition, the council availing itself of its police power, ordered the pier closed to public traffic until necessary repairs have been effected. The pier in question, inquiries revealed, is owned by Forrest Carter, of Puente, and F. I. Hearn, of Los Angeles. The present lease to Captain Ayers expires September 15.

The greater portion of the meeting was given over to discussion of the building contractors' licensing law. Revised so as to meet all objections on constitutional grounds, the proposed new ordinance requires a license fee of $15 a year from all general and sub-contractors operating from a fixed place of business within the Laguna Beach city limits.

Others are required to pay a license fee of $100 a year. Under a like provision of residence requirement, the fee for a plumber's business license was set at $25 for local and $75 for outside concerns. The action taken last night by the council followed a petition filed by the local contractors seeking protection from outside competition. It was pointed out that Santa Ana as well as many other communities in Orange county have adopted licensing ordinances against outside competition. The revised ordinances will be formally adopted at the next regular meeting and go into effect on the first Saturday in July.

A proposal to place city fire insurance with so called board companies was protested by Andrew S. Hall, well known local insurance man, who representing a non-board company, offered to give the necessary protection at a lower rate.

Favorable action was taken on a request of Cally Holden, manager of the city's radio advertising, for financial support in the amount of $100, if needed, to complete a subscription amount of $900 for the summer season. A motion to authorize the expense was made by Councilman Luther F. Mallow.

LAST CONCERT PRESENTED BY B. J. HOLLOWELL

LAGUNA BEACH, June 7.—An audience composed mainly of music lovers and members of the art colony, Tuesday night listened to a well balanced program featuring the farewell concert of Bert J. Hollowell, local composer and conductor, given by the South Coast orchestra at the Community playhouse.

Hollowell, who is going to Florida in search of health, departed yesterday by rail for Petersburg. Since coming here about two years ago, he has taken a prominent part in the colony's musical activities. His wife, Mrs. Madalyn Hollowell, will remain here for the summer.

Included in the program, featuring several classical compositions by Victor Rankin, a young singer, whose offerings were well received.

At the close of the program, Hollowell thanked the members of the art colony for the support given him during his stay here and also paid tribute to the personnel of the orchestra whose members are giving their services without any compensation. The response was made by Mrs. Flora Rankin, chairman of the Community club.

ENJOY SWIMMING PARTY

GARDEN GROVE, June 7.—Fifteen members of Boy Scout troop No. 11, with their leader Wayne Holt, enjoyed a swimming party at Balboa Monday evening. The group is planning to take part in the flag day parade to be held at Anaheim June 14.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cleveland have left on a motor trip throughout the various eastern states and Canada. They were accompanied by Mr. Cleveland's brother and wife from Santa Paula.

CITY COUNCIL TO SEEK FUNDS FOR PROJECTS

BREA, June 7.—City councilmen last night passed three resolutions permitting Mayor L. A. Hogue to proceed with CWA projects in the interest of the city of Brea. The first involved an application for the continuance of work now being done, the second a re-submission of the plans for the erection of rest rooms in the city park and the third a plan for the scraping and repainting of the American Legion hall, now the property of the city, and repairing of the roof of this building.

The matter of water development with the assistance of federal funds is still being considered, with E. J. Saunders, well driller, reporting at last night's meeting on favorable sites and conditions.

E. H. Peterkin, representing the construction committee of the Lions club, solicited funds to assist in decorating a float and providing entertainment on same, the float to be entered in the Valencia Orange fiesta in Fullerton. The council granted the sum of $10 for this feature, merchants of the town having also contributed to the fund.

Attorney Elmer Guy gave the first reading of a revised ordinance covering the storage of gasoline and other combustibles within the corporate limits of the city.

Upon the application of Fred Boxall, street superintendent, the council voted to purchase sewer cleaning equipment at a cost of $228. Purchase of approximately 1400 feet of fire hose is expected within a few days.

A letter was read from the National Supply company of California protesting the amount of taxation on their building on North Pomona avenue, now being occupied by the Brea-Olinda Unemployed association. The company felt that in view of the fact that the property is idle and is being given rent free to the unemployed of the district, the taxes should be reduced. City Clerk Grace May was instructed to write the firm explaining the reduction granted last year in the form of a refund check.

CLUB GROUP OF SAN CLEMENTE HOLDS PROGRAM

SAN CLEMENTE, June 7.—A large number of members and guests attended the third annual luncheon meeting of the San Clemente Woman's club at the Aquarium cafe Tuesday. Choice spring flowers arranged in low baskets and sprays of greenery furnished artistic decoration for the tables at which a four-course luncheon was served.

The address of welcome by Mrs. F. W. Parsons, vice president, was followed by an address by Mayor A. T. Smith, who complimented the club on its achievements. Mrs. J. B. Lape and Mrs. W. Ed. Edwards, past presidents of the club, also spoke.

Representing the president, Mrs. P. W. Smith, who has been absent for an extended period, Mrs. Harry Hulburt presented each officer and committee head with a gift from the president.

Coming as a surprise feature of the program were the whistling solos by Mrs. E. W. Greensides, of Doheny Park, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. K. Maxwell, of Doheny Park.

A quartet from the music section comprising Mesdames Emma Servus, A. T. Smith, John Riley and Kenneth Pitcher, sang "Wild Spring Flowers", "Old Kentucky Home" and "My Wish for You", with accompaniments played by Mrs. Julia L. Chalk.

The officers-elect, Mrs. George E. Higgins, president; Mrs. Inez Harlow, vice president, and Mrs. John Riley, treasurer, were introduced by Mrs. Shork. Mrs. F. T. Hogeland, secretary-elect, is absent on an eastern trip. The retiring officers are Mrs. P. W. Smith, president; Mrs. F. W. Parsons, vice president, and Mrs. David W. Barrett, secretary.

There were several presentations of gifts. A gift from the club to Mrs. P. W. Smith was accepted for her by Mrs. Harry Hulburt and one for Mrs. F. W. Parsons was presented by Mrs. Emma Servus. Baskets of flowers complimenting the incoming and retiring presidents were presented by Mrs. Shork.

A style show was offered by a modiste from Coronado. Models were Mesdames Ruth Larson, Eleanor Clark, Rebecca Fate, Charlotte Saxe and Mabel Pitcher of San Clemente, and Misses Ruth Verlengia, Eleanor Davis and Betty Grew, of Coronado.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Fred Shork and Miss Emma J. Ochsner, program committee. The luncheon arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Emma Servus.

Guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Ray Bartlett, of Minneapolis; Mrs. Archie Rasey, Mrs. E. J. Garvey and Mrs. Edith Cherrington, of Pasadena; Mrs. George H. Lewis and Miss Grace Petty of San Diego; Miss Josephine Owen of Owens Valley; Miss Henderson, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Frank Henderson of Dana Point; W. Ed. Edwards of Los Angeles and Mrs. O. K. Maxwell and Mrs. E. W. Greensides, of Doheny Park; Miss Pauline Neddermeyer, Mrs. John Fate, Judge Fred S. Warner, George E. Higgins and Mayor A. T. Smith of San Clemente.

Members attending from other cities were Mrs. J. B. Lape, of Carpenteria; Mrs. W. Ed. Edwards, of Los Angeles; Mrs. S. A. Meyer, of Newport Beach; Mrs. Clark Smith of Oceanside, Mrs. William Leak, of San Juan Capistrano, and Mrs. Inez Harlow, of Doheny Park.

INSTALLATION CONDUCTED AT SESSION OF LA HABRA P.-T. A.; OUTLINE PLAYGROUND PROGRAM

LA HABRA, June 7.—Newly elected officers of the La Habra P.-T. A. were installed Wednesday afternoon at the Washington school auditorium. All retiring officers, retiring committee heads and incoming officers were presented with corsages by the floral committee.

Mrs. Ruby Hungerford was incalled for her second terms as president and was presented with a past president's pin by Mrs. Charles Goodchild, installing officer. Other officers for the coming year are, Mrs. Charles Shoemaker, first vice president; Mrs. O. M. Scott, second vice president; Mrs. H. H. Peabody, treasurer; Mrs. U. R. Phillips, secretary; Mrs. Ross Hodson, historian; Joe Severns, parliamentarian; Mrs. Olive Burke, financial secretary and Mrs. Bertha Hilbert, auditor.

Committee chairmen announced by the president are, Mrs. F. P. Davis, hospitality; S. L. Treff, Americanization; E. R. Berry, program; Mrs. H. I. Morris, child welfare; Mrs. O. M. Scott, ways and means; Mrs. Frances Rich Smith, art; Mrs. G. E. Sutton, membership; Edith McClure, publicity; Paul Blocher, safety; Mrs. C. H. Fennser, music; Charles Shoemaker, recreation; Mrs. Howard Parks, standard association.

Betty Jean Smith for the Girl Scouts and Harold Sadler for the Boy Scouts accepted from Mrs. H. H. Peabody, citizenship chairman, a set of flags.

On the program of entertainment prepared for this meeting Superintendent of Schools, E. R. Berry spoke on "Effects of Cuts in the School Budget on Education."

Children of the Wilson school presented an operetta under the direction of Prof. Frank L. Barrows, with S. L. Treff at the piano. Claudine Roddy, of Los Angeles, gave two dance numbers.

Mrs. Charles Newson reported on the child welfare work during the past year and stated that the P.-T. A. had paid one-third of the bill for the free milk for undernourished children, or $59.19 on this account, with the Kiwanis club bearing the balance of the expense.

Charles Shoemaker reported on the summer playground, stating that the playground at the Washington school would be open afternoons during July and August from 2 to 5 p. m. W. A. Sharp is to have charge of athletics; Shoemaker in charge of tennis and there will also be art and library courses offered certain days each week; Grace Taylor will teach dancing and Anna Wolfe will conduct the story hour. Baseball will be in charge of the American Legion.

TUSTIN GRADE SCHOOL PUPILS PARTY GUESTS

TUSTIN, June 7.—A delightful party, complimenting the eighth grade graduates of Tustin Grammar school, was held Tuesday evening in the Tustin American Legion hall. The event was planned by the mothers of the class, with Mrs. F. C. Matthews as general chairman.

Interesting games were played under the supervision of Mrs. John Kiser and George Gaylord. Dancing to piano music furnished by Miss Marjory Tubach and Mrs. Tucker was enjoyed.

Refreshments of home made ice cream, cakes and candies were served by the hostesses at long tables decked with pink candles. Included in the menu was a large pink birthday cake in honor of Miss Thelma Tucker and Chester Stearns whose birthday anniversaries occurred that day.

Farewell Party Held At Hansen

HANSEN, June 7.—Honoring Mrs. John Hanneman of the Savanna tract, who is leaving this week for Chicago, where she will join her husband, who has been employed there since leaving here last month, Mrs. Gladys Nordstrom was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a farewell party.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served, concluding a pleasant afternoon of sewing. The women embroidered their names on a tablecloth, and presented it to Mrs. Hanneman as a momento of her three years' residence in their midst.

Those bidden to the farewell party by Mrs. Nordstrom were Mesdames Jean Remick, Clara Karracker, Lillian Nordstrom of Santa Ana; Mabel Lukens, Edith Porter, Mary Lee Sawtelle, Gertrude Nickolas, Martha Hanneman, Mabel Polluck and Edna Krueger, of Downey, and the honored guest, Mrs. John Hanneman.

SEEK BIDS ON NEW SCHOOL AT NEWPORT SOON

NEWPORT BEACH, June 7. — Bids for the construction of the new school in Newport Beach are expected to be called within 30 days, it was learned following the meeting of the board of trustees of the Newport school district.

Plans for the construction have been in the hands of contractors since February and will have to be sent to the state department of engineering for approval. In the main they will conform to the recommendations set forth by Charles Bursch of the Division of Schoolhouse Planning, State Department of Education, in his recent report on the building problems in the Newport district, it was said.

It is planned to construct one central school building on the present site, of concrete, and capable of handling 400 pupils. It is felt that the savings possible through the construction of a wood-stucco type building would not be sufficient to compensate for the change.

This plan was partly endorsed last week by the Newport Harbor Chamber of commerce, when it recommended the construction of the stucco type building, with such added facilities as auditorium and kindergarten. The cost of this structure will approximate $100,000, it is said.

The board of trustees signed teachers' warrants for May and announced that no decision on new teachers for next year would be possible until the next regular meeting.

MUSICIAN AT 7

ALICE IMAMOTO

Piano Recital Presented By Japanese Child in Baptist Church

GARDEN GROVE, June 7.—Playing compositions of Bach, Grieg, Mozart, Paderewski and Durand, Alice Setsuko Imamoto, 7, appeared in a recital at the Baptist church Tuesday evening. Besides the solo numbers, she appeared in a trio selection with her sisters, Grace, playing the cello, and Marion, the violin.

The youthful pianist was one of 19 young Southern California pianists who won places on the national honor roll of the National Music guild of New York as a result of their participation in the annual nation-wide piano playing tournament held in Los Angeles recently. Alice entered the tournament with 12 members and received 12 first ratings. She is the student of Helen E. Johnston Music studio of Anaheim.

Harold Johnston, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Johnston, of Walnut street, and a nephew of his teacher, Mrs. Johnston, was one of the assisting artists on the recital program. He also was an entrant in the tournament, playing four numbers and receiving four first ratings.

Walton Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Long, who won first place in the older students' violin division at the Elsteddfod contest held in Los Angeles, appeared on the program with his brother, Wilbur, as accompanist.

Alice was presented with numerous bouquets of flowers during the recital. The church was profusely decorated with flowers.

The Imamoto sisters are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Imamoto, of 181 West Acacia street, Garden Grove.

Woman's Club of Brea Installs New Officers June 12

BREA, June 7.—Closing activities for the Brea Woman's club, the meeting of June 12 will be held in the gardens of the W. D. Shaffer home on West Imperial highway, convening at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Warmer, Ontario, southern district president, will be a special guest of honor and will install the incoming officers. Reports of officers and chairmen will be heard.

Mrs. Shaffer will be assisted in hostess duties by a committee of club women. Refreshments will be served.

School Plans Approved By Mesa Board

COSTA MESA, June 7.—Plans for the erection of a new 14-room unit in the main school assembly of the Costa Mesa Grammar school were approved by the school trustees when presented to them by Architects Perrine and Mackie of Los Angeles at a meeting held by the board in the Lindbergh school last night.

The old school auditorium is to be moved out on Nineteenth street and repaired to meet state building code requirements. The west wing of the old building also is to be repaired and is to be used as a kindergarten unit when the main building is ready for occupancy. The east wing of the old structure will be used temporarily until the new unit is finished and then razed. The entire program is expected to cost approximately $70,000, the amount allotted to the district by the state as a loan.

Word was received from Dan Mulherron, director of the SERA program, that laborers will be available about June 15 to continue the work on the school garage and manual training building which was started under the CWA plan. The actual work of construction on the new main unit is not expected to start until late fall, it was stated by board members.

LAGUNA PIER ORDERED CLOSED; LICENSE MEASURE GETS READING

LAGUNA BEACH, June 7.—Action looking toward the closing of the local fishing pier as a public safety measure, first reading of amendments to the building contractors' and plumbers' licensing laws; appointment of a committee to investigate and report upon distribution of insurance; discussion of publicity expenditures and disposal of routine matters, featured the regular meeting of the city council last night.

Declaring the fishing pier, now under lease to and operated by Capt. O. B. Ayers, to be in an unsafe condition, the council availing itself of its police power, ordered the pier closed to public traffic until necessary repairs have been effected. The pier in question, inquiries revealed, is owned by Forrest Carter, of Puente, and F. I. Hearn, of Los Angeles. The present lease to Captain Ayers expires September 15.

The greater portion of the meeting was given over to discussion of the building contractors' licensing law. Revised so as to meet all objections on constitutional grounds, the proposed new ordinance requires a license fee of $15 a year from all general and sub-contractors operating from a fixed place of business within the Laguna Beach city limits.

Others are required to pay a license fee of $100 a year. Under a like provision of residence requirement, the fee for a plumber's business license was set at $25 for local and $75 for outside concerns. The action taken last night by the council followed a petition filed by the local contractors seeking protection from outside competition. It was pointed out that Santa Ana as well as many other communities in Orange county have adopted licensing ordinances against outside competition. The revised ordinances will be formally adopted at the next regular meeting and go into effect on the first Saturday in July.

A proposal to place city fire insurance with so called board companies was protested by Andrew S. Hall, well known local insurance man, who representing a non-board company, offered to give the necessary protection at a lower rate.

Favorable action was taken on a request of Cally Holden, manager of the city's radio advertising, for financial support in the amount of $100, if needed, to complete a subscription amount of $900 for the summer season. A motion to authorize the expense was made by Councilman Luther F. Mallow.

LAST CONCERT PRESENTED BY B. J. HOLLOWELL

LAGUNA BEACH, June 7.—An audience composed mainly of music lovers and members of the art colony, Tuesday night listened to a well balanced program featuring the farewell concert of Bert J. Hollowell, local composer and conductor, given by the South Coast orchestra at the Community playhouse.

Hollowell, who is going to Florida in search of health, departed yesterday by rail for Petersburg. Since coming here about two years ago, he has taken a prominent part in the colony's musical activities. His wife, Mrs. Madalyn Hollowell, will remain here for the summer.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

DIZZINESS

Congress always gets slightly dizzy before adjournment. It's an old custom.

There are many reasons—the fatigue of elderly men after a hard session, the urge to get home and away from the heat, the strain of doing too many big things in a hurry. At such times, the inside pressure for and against legislation becomes unbearably warm. As all good politicians know, that is the ideal time to put things over.

This adjournment season is no exception. The Democratic leaders, the Republicans and the lobbyists are engaged in their monkey business about as energetically as usual.

• • •

BLUDGEON

The Democrats have done their best job in the house. They have tied it up so that they can pass nearly any bill with eighty minutes' debate.

They showed what they could do on the relief bill. That appropriates $1,172,000,000 in cash for President Roosevelt's relief agencies. No one could object to that amount. It was in the budget. But, included in the bill, was a vague authorization permitting the president to take whatever money is paid into the RFC (probably four or five billions) and spend it any way he sees fit. Only 40 minutes' debate was allowed. Fully half the membership of the house knew little or nothing about what the bill contained.

No one seemed to care very much. The idea was to give Mr. Roosevelt all the money lying around loose and let him take care of any situation arising during the next six months.

Every one realized Mr. Roosevelt does not intend to spend all the money, but he wanted the authorization, just in case.

• • •

FINESSE

Such bludgeoning tactics no not work in the senate. More deception and stealth is required there. Both were practised quite effectively on the tariff bill.

The opposition was lulled into a sense of false security by frequent delays and by indefinite promises to consider favorably certain amendments, such as the Johnson amendment, exempting agricultural products.

A simple example is what happened to the amendment exempting lumber, coal, oil and copper tariffs. Democratic tariff leader Harrison had promised he would propose such an amendment. He did. The amendments offered by such leaders are normally accepted. Not so in this case.

Senator Ashurst arose in an outraged wrath so ferocious that it could not have come upon him suddenly. In fact, several of his comrades suggested such a beautiful display could only be effected by pre-arrangement.

At any rate, Harrison withdrew the amendment. He had kept his promise to introduce it. Those who wanted the amendment, and who had given in on other things to get it, found themselves suddenly out in the cold.

• • •

SENSE

The only sense to such methods of legislating is that they can hardly be avoided in a closing congressional session. If you do not do them, your opponents will.

If the administration did not tie up the house, the house would probably tie up the administration. Also, if the democrats did not tie up the tariff opposition, they would have had their bill loaded down with opposition amendments.

Politics is no Sunday school picnic.

FINANCING

The inside on Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's unexpected financing is that he wanted to get all the summer operations out of the way in one lump. Mr. Morgenthau's official whisperers say there will be no more government financing until September.

The interest rates offered were slightly lower than the market experts expected. There will probably be no criticism in congress about it this time.

In acting, Morgenthau took advantage of a very good market for government issues, which may not last indefinitely.

• • •

EXCLUSIVE

The best White House joke of the season is the one about the newsmen being excluded from Mr. Roosevelt's prep school during his recent visit there. They were entering the grounds behind the presidential car when a submaster of the school interposed, announcing it was a private school.

The sub-master was an unusually dignified man who spoke with a broad A. News men pressed him into service as a reporter, even requiring him to deliver the school yell, sotto voce, of course.

One newsman without a smile asked if the proceedings inside had been orderly, and was assured that they were.

The climax came when the reporters had their tin-types taken by an itinerant photographer near the gate and sent them inside to the president in the custody of the sub-master, with a note:

"Waiting at the gate."

DIGNITY

Senators usually arise and speak without warning or provocation but the dignified Senator J. Ham Lewis, of Illinois, resently established a new precedent by sending a formal announcement of his intentions to the senate press gallery in the following language:

"To the gentlemen of the press:

"May I inform you that at the conclusion of the Austin speech, I will address senate on the reply of debtors as to payments of international debts.

"Very sincerely, Lewis, Ill."

It brought a crowd.

STEEL

New Yorkers connected with the steel industry are entrenching for a showdown with the government as well as with labor. Judge Nields' Weirton decision—refusing a federal injunction against Wier's company—stiffened dubious backbones. It's admitted decision hastened the crisis by driving labor to desperate measures to preserve its gains. But many members of the industry prefer a finish fight now to a compromise which would lead to renewed hostilities later.

Most steel moguls would accept General Johnson's suggestion of a mediation board like that set up for the automobile industry. But they aren't kidding themselves that labor will fall for the same mirror trick twice.

So they expect Senator Wagner's proposal for union elections supervised by the National Labor Board to win administration backing as an official remedy. The big shots regard Wagner as Public Nuisance Number One. Since he can't be suppressed they plan simply to apply the ice to his ideas. "Weir got away with resisting coercion. Why can't the rest of us? If it means a scrap with FDR, bring it on!"

• • •

TOUGH

The same attitude applies to the Wagner labor bill if passed. Nothing short of a U. S. Supreme Court decision will convince the steel men they must submit to such a "subversive" law — and every trick in the legal arsenal will be used to delay the controversy enroute to the final tribunal. They figure the longer they can stall the better chance they have of benefitting by the ebb of New Deal popularity. Of course the law would be ignored while the contest is on.

It all boils down to this. The steel business isn't profitable at present and will probably become less so in the near future. Therefore it's a good time to get tough about the open shop issue—which has assumed almost religious significance. "One thing these soandsos in Washington can't do is to pass a law compelling us to stay in business."

Some local authorities think the steel industry isn't quite bright about it. They point out that refusal to accept a reasonable compromise gives Washington a swell excuse to do some real "regimenting"—and also hands political extremists a beautiful new sales talk.

• • •

TACTLESS

Many of the big steel boys didn't like is when Tom Girdler—head of Republic Steel—flung his gauntlet at organized labor so openly. Not that they didn't agree with his sentiments — but the Myron Taylor-Schwab-Grace leadership has always made it a public relations policy to speak softly. Girdler's candor was as shocking as a snore in church.

• • •

TEXTILES

The textile argument isn't nearly as hopeless as steel's. It's understood here that textile labor leaders are willing to swap some reduction in hours (and thereby weekly wages) for union recognition and that mill owners—especially in the South—are in a mood to meet them half way. This solution may enable General Johnson to make a lightning shift from goat to hero.

• • •

UNIONS

Local insiders are skeptical of the apparent meaning of the National Industrial Conference Board's latest dope on unionization. Its figures show a rise in company union membership from November 1933, to May, 1934, almost three times the increase for organized labor in the same period.

This makes it look as if organized labor is slipping. Yet the percentage of gain over previous membership stands at 21.5 for organized labor against 7.6 for company unions. The proportion of workers in organized unions to those in employe representation plans has risen from 18.3 per cent to 20.7 per cent despite the greater growth in numbers of the latter.

The A. F. of L. is a long way from swallowing the mass of the nation's workers but neither is it dying of disinterest. It's significant that company unions have made the greatest proportional headway among concerns with more than 5000 employes.

Critics comment that the Industrial Conference Board has close contacts with the Committee for the Nation—most of whose members aren't overly friendly to organized labor. It could hardly be expected to stress the Federation's side of the picture. There's no question of the accuracy of its figures but they're open to whatever interpretation you like.

• • •

REGULATORS

Local sources in close touch with Washington predict that Landis, Mathews, and probably one other member of the present Federal Trade Commission will be named to the exchange control body. Pecora is unlikely.

One of the two remaining members may come from the New York financial district—but it won't be anyone who has been active in Stock Exchange circles. The fifth nominee will be from the Middle West and probably will represent industry. It's a safe bet that Braintrusters Cohen and Corcoran are out.

• • •

TRIO

In addition to Secretary of Commerce Roper—whose quiet but effective aid to NRA revision was mentioned here recently — local conservatives find comfort in conferring with Vice President Garner and Secretary of State Hull. The influence of this trio on current government policies is rated much higher by insiders than the public knows.

Which isn't to say that it's necessarily permanent.

• • •

ABOUT-FACE

Pity the poor brokers who must execute a snappy about-face on exchange regulation. For weeks they've been telling their customers it would ruin the markets in the vain hope of arousing enough sentiment to head it off. Now that it's here they must change their tune quickly. Otherwise the customers may take them seriously and continue to stay away in droves.

DINNER HELD BY FRIENDSHIP CLASS

TUSTIN, June 7.—The Friendship Bible class held its regular monthly meeting this week in the lower auditorium of the Tustin Presbyterian church, with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ebel, Mrs. William Cook and Mrs. E. A. Ashcraft as hosts for the evening.

A potluck dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock at tables decorated with spring flowers. Included in the menu were delicious upside down strawberry and youngberry cakes, provided by the committee.

Following a brief business session conducted by the class president, Cloyd Hall, community singing was led by Arthur M. Smith, with Mrs. Robert C. Korff at the piano. Three vocal solos, "Love Here Is My Heart," "Absent" and "Lady Loon" were sung by Miss Marjory Rawlings, with Mrs. Korff as accompanist. David Forney entertained with the following banjo selections, "Home on the Range," "The Old Spinning Wheel," "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" and "Avalon." Approximately 50 class members were present.

Why COOPERATION of Citrus Growers is more important now than at any other time in the history of the industry

OVER-PRODUCTION and surplus control is only one of the problems confronting the citrus industry. There is another reason why cooperative action is vital at this time:

Other industries are striving to break into the market we have worked for years to develop.

In the past 27 years, since Sunkist advertising began, the per capita consumption of oranges increased approximately 125%, and increased 31% in the past 5 years over the preceding 5 years. People have learned more of the healthfulness of oranges. People have learned to consume them in juice form rather than halved. Nearly 70% of the oranges sold today are for beverage use.

This market is decidedly attractive to the growers of pineapples and tomatoes. You have only to read the magazines to realize that it is "easier to punch two holes in a can than squeeze the fruit by hand."

Further, beer is back—to dig no one knows how deeply into the soda fountain business which took 16,000 cars of citrus fruits in 1931.

In cooperative action lies our only defense—a further spreading of the known health benefits and uses of citrus fruits.* While Sunkist advertising benefits all growers, Exchange growers benefit most, as better prices for the Sunkist brand show.

Every grower should support the California-Arizona Citrus Marketing Agreement which accomplishes surplus control by regulating shipments to improve prices.

It is equally important that growers support advertising which accomplishes similar results by increasing demand.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

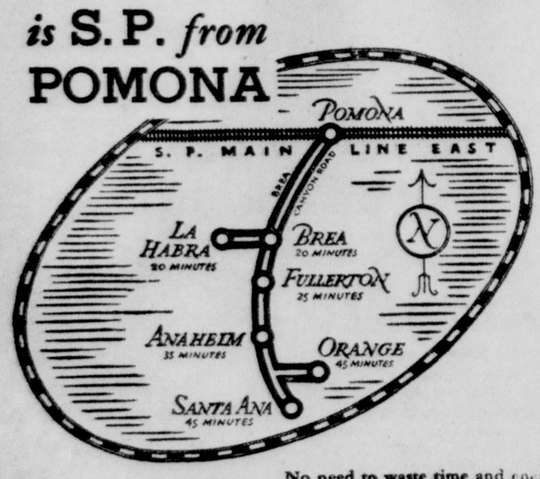

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

FRANKLY, one of the chief reasons why I enjoy Chesterfield is the fact that I don't get little crumbs of tobacco in my mouth.

Rarely ever do I find a Chesterfield that isn't well filled. The tobacco in them seems to be of the right length, and they must be the right size because they burn right and smoke right.

I like them also because they are milder.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

DIZZINESS

Congress always gets slightly dizzy before adjournment. It's an old custom.

There are many reasons—the fatigue of elderly men after a hard session, the urge to get home and away from the heat, the strain of doing too many big things in a hurry. At such times, the inside pressure for and against legislation becomes unbearably warm. As all good politicians know, that is the ideal time to put things over.

This adjournment season is no exception. The Democratic leaders, the Republicans and the lobbyists are engaged in their monkey business about as energetically as usual.

* * *

BLUDGEON

The Democrats have done their best job in the house. They have tied it up so that they can pass nearly any bill with eighty minutes' debate.

They showed what they could do on the relief bill. That appropriates $1,172,000,000 in cash for President Roosevelt's relief agencies. No one could object to that amount. It was in the budget. But, included in the bill, was a vague authorization permitting the president to take whatever money is paid into the RFC (probably four or five billions) and spend it any way he sees fit. Only 40 minutes' debate was allowed. Fully half the membership of the house knew little or nothing about what the bill contained.

No one seemed to care very much. The idea was to give Mr. Roosevelt all the money lying around loose and let him take care of any situation arising during the next six months.

Every one realized Mr. Roosevelt does not intend to spend all the money, but he wanted the authorization, just in case.

* * *

FINESSE

Such bludgeoning tactics no not work in the senate. More deception and stealth is required there. Both were practised quite effectively on the tariff bill.

The opposition was lulled into a sense of false security by frequent delays and by indefinite promises to consider favorably certain amendments, such as the Johnson amendment, exempting agricultural products.

A simple example is what happened to the amendment exempting lumber, coal, oil and copper tariffs. Democratic tariff leader Harrison had promised he would propose such an amendment. He did. The amendments offered by such leaders are normally accepted. Not so in this case.

Senator Ashurst arose in an outraged wrath so ferocious that it could not have come upon him suddenly. In fact, several of his comrades suggested such a beautiful display could only be effected by pre-arrangement.

At any rate, Harrison withdrew the amendment. He had kept his promise to introduce it. Those who wanted the amendment, and who had given in on other things to get it, found themselves suddenly out in the cold.

SENSE

The only sense to such methods of legislating is that they can hardly be avoided in a closing congressional session. If you do not do them, your opponents will.

If the administration did not tie up the house, the house would probably tie up the administration. Also, if the democrats did not tie up the tariff opposition, they would have had their bill loaded down with opposition amendments.

Politics is no Sunday school picnic.

FINANCING

The inside on Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's unexpected financing is that he wanted to get all the summer operations out of the way in one lump. Mr. Morgenthau's official whisperers say there will be no more government financing until September.

The interest rates offered were slightly lower than the market experts expected. There will probably be no criticism in congress about it this time.

In acting, Morgenthau took advantage of a very good market for government issues, which may not last indefinitely.

* * *

EXCLUSIVE

The best White House joke of the season is the one about the newsmen being excluded from Mr. Roosevelt's prep school during his recent visit there. They were entering the grounds behind the presidential car when a submaster of the school interposed, announcing it was a private school.

The sub-master was an unusually dignified man who spoke with a broad A. News men pressed him into service as a reporter, even requiring him to deliver the school yell, sotto voce, of course.

One newsman without a smile asked if the proceedings inside had been orderly, and was assured that they were.

The climax came when the reporters had their tin-types taken by an itinerant photographer near the gate and sent them inside to the president in the custody of the sub-master, with a note:

"Waiting at the gate."

DIGNITY

Senators usually arise and speak without warning or provocation but the dignified Senator J. Ham Lewis, of Illinois, resently established a new precedent by sending a formal announcement of his intentions to the senate press gallery in the following language:

"To the gentlemen of the press:

"May I inform you that at the conclusion of the Austin speech, I will address senate on the reply of debtors as to payments of international debts.

"Very sincerely, Lewis, Ill."

It brought a crowd.

STEEL

New Yorkers connected with the steel industry are entrenching for a showdown with the government as well as with labor. Judge Nields' Weirton decision—refusing a federal injunction against Wier's company—stiffened dubious backbones. It's admitted decision hastened the crisis by driving labor to desperate measures to preserve its gains. But many members of the industry prefer a finish fight now to a compromise which would lead to renewed hostilities later.

PEOPLE'S PAPER FOR ALL ORANGE COUNTY — DAILY EVENING

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

SECTION TWO — SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1934 — PAGES NINE TO SIXTEEN

COOPERATIVE GROUP LISTS DETAILS OF $64,212 PLAN TO CARE FOR 1000 FAMILIES

Details of the new $64,212.50 project for federal aid to co-operatives of Orange county, sponsored by the United Co-Operative Exchange and already approved by district SERA headquarters, were announced today by Secretary-Auditor M. Siddoway of the executive committee.

The original amount of $141,080.61 was materially reduced, following the government's decision to place all cooperatives under a self-maintenance and merchandising plan. It was the previous understanding of the committee that the new plan was strictly a direct relief program.

One thousand families, of the average size of four members, will be aided through the Exchange's new project, and there will be enough surplus products to handle all costs of operation and maintenance, it is estimated. These surpluses will not be placed on the open market, but will be sold to governmental agencies.

16 Projects Listed

Four service, six production and six exchange projects are listed in the request for federal aid.

The service projects amount to $7158.99, as follows: warehouse, $4923.72; garage, $957.56; printing, $277.51; and fishing $1000.

The production projects, totaling $38,365.00, include the following items: canning, $5638.56; shoe shop, $2485.91; farming $4793.39; bakery, $10,211.44; dairy, $7547.00; and sewing, $7689.41.

The exchange projects, amounting to $15,630.07, include barbering, gardening, office work, transportation, commissary service, and the establishment of a wood yard.

A five per cent contingency fund has been requested and will be held in reserve to meet additional expenditures in the operation of the various projects. This fund amounts to $3057.37.

Labor For Products

It is estimated that each member, working on a basis of 16 hours per week, will receive $28.33 per month in kind, including the following products and services: bread, canned foods, fish, milk, fresh vegetables, clothing, shoe repair and barbering. This is at the rate of 40.8 cents an hour. The products of the Exchange will be marked according to current retail prices.

All materials necessary for these projects, it is emphasized, will be purchased in Orange county as far as practical, which indicates that more than just the county welfare department and the taxpayers will benefit from the new plan, which is to furnish part-time employment for 1000 jobless.

Secretary Siddoway today expressed the Exchange's appreciation for the cooperation which it has received from the following firms and citizens: FERA committee of Orange county, A. G. Flagg printing company, Ernest Wooster of the county auditor's office, Union Oil company of Brea, Langley oil company of Santa Ana, Standard printing company of Santa Ana, Chief of Police Floyd Howard, Director Byron V. Curry of the county welfare department, W. K. Hillyard of the surveyor's office, Eric E. Eastmon of the farm advisor's office, Alex F. McDonell of the Singer Sewing machine company, The Register and all other friends who have made donations to the United Co-Operative Exchange.

JUBILEE SINGERS TO GIVE PROGRAM

Songs and readings, typical of the Old South, will be featured on the program tonight by the Santa Ana Jubilee Singers in the Fremont school, Eighth and Artesia streets, starting at 8:15 o'clock.

Lynwood Young, tenor and Jeanette Sterling, soprano, and C. D. Hatcher, bass, will be the soloists with the Negro singing group of 18 voices. One of the highlights of the program will be the singing of "Lift Every Voice and Sing," famous Negro national anthem by James Weldon Johnson.

The chorus will be under the direction of Ruby Berkley Goodwin, former director of the Melody Makers, and also director of an all-Negro hour which was broadcast ever KREG.

A Mexican orchestra under the direction of Ted Collins, will offer numbers before the program. A nominal admission will be charged.

SCHOOL CUSTODIANS WILL HOLD PICNIC

The Orange County School Custodians picnic is scheduled for June 16 at the state park, near San Clemente, according to announcement made today by George Boddy.

There is to be a barbecue dinner served at 1:30 p. m. and the day will be spent at games. J. E. Kraft of the San Juan Capistrano school is in charge of arrangements.

The public is invited to come, and those attending are to bring their own table service. A nominal charge will be made for the dinner.

CLOSING HOURS ON MAIL AT S. A. P.O. ANNOUNCED

New schedules for outgoing and incoming mail service were announced by Postmaster Terry Stephenson today, which include five daily mail arrivals from Los Angeles and five outgoing shipments at the same city.

NAME LYNN HART RESIDENT MANAGER INVESTMENT HOUSE

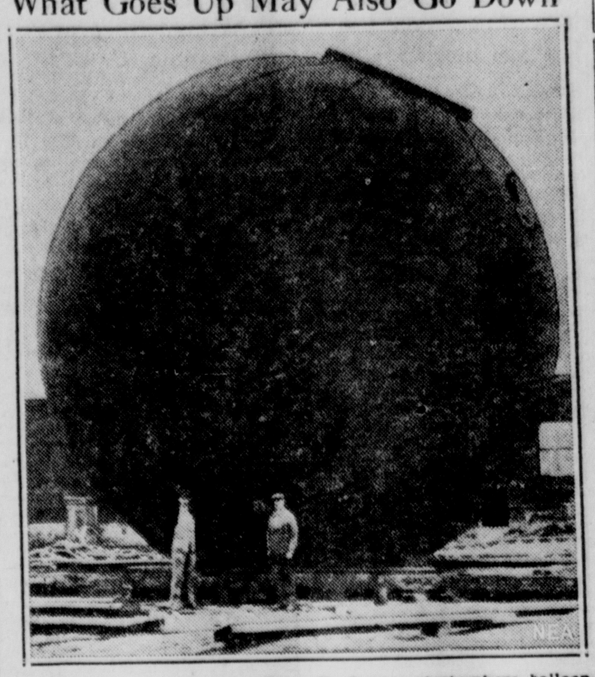

Appointment of Lynn A. Hart, widely known in Orange county financial circles, as resident manager of the firm's Santa Ana office, was announced yesterday by William A. Lower & Co., Inc., Southern California investment banking house.

Hart has been a resident of Santa Ana for many years and has been associated with William A. Lower & Company's office here since the organization of that firm. Previously he was connected for 10 years with other local financial institutions.

F. J. Parke, who will be associated with him, was formerly manager of the Parke Finance company, Los Angeles, and has had a broad training in finance and investment banking.

In addition to Santa Ana, the firm maintains offices in Los Angeles, Long Beach and Santa Monica.

What Goes Up May Also Go Down

It's modeled after Professor Piccard's famous stratosphere balloon, but this great sphere is going down, not up. More than 30 feet in diameter, the big bell, shown above, was constructed by Georges Claude, French scientist, to plumb the ocean depths. It is expected it will descend to a depth of more than 2,000 feet.

SERA WORK TO BE SUGGESTED BY COMMITTEE

Appointment of a committee to suggest SERA projects for Santa Ana, discussion of helping with the mess fund of the national guard at the summer camp in San Luis Obispo, and reports on the Renovize campaign were the principal items of business at a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce yesterday.

Fred Forgy, T. E. Stephenson, R. B. Newcom, C. H. Chapman and W. C. Jerome were named by President J. P. Baumgartner to investigate possible projects for Santa Ana to sponsor under the SERA so that all available employment could be retained in the city. It is understood that few if any projects are ready now for suggestion and the committee will cooperate with the city council in seeking worthwhile work to be undertaken.

Major M. B. Wellington, in behalf of the National Guard, asked for support of the chamber in providing extra money for the mess fund of the company while at summer camp. No action was taken.

Wayne Goble reported on the success of the Renovize campaign and pointed out that the original goal of $500,000 in pledges had been reached and would be greatly exceeded in the near future.

S. A. Youth Has Prominent Part In Play At Pomona

George Munro, 1722 Bush street, is taking a leading role in the production "Three Cornered Moon," a comedy in three acts being presented at Pomona college Friday, June 15, as one of the outstanding events of senior week.

The play is being directed by Virginia Princehouse and characterizes members of a highly disjointed modern American family which has difficulty in believing that it has lost all its money in the depression.

Munro took a prominent part in forensic and dramatic activities while a student at the Santa Ana high school.

REPORT SHOWS LIQUOR LAW VIOLATIONS UP

Liquor law violations jumped to a new high total in May, it was shown in a report from the police department made public today.

There were 22 liquor law violations last month, only five during the corresponding month of 1933 and none during April, 1934. Of the 22 arrests in May, 16 were for conducting and operating a public saloon and barroom, three were for selling whiskey not in the original containers and without a license, and one was for selling liquor after midnight in violation of a city ordinance.

Drunkenness arrests dropped from 35 in April to 26 in May, still a big increase over the 16 reported in the same month last year. There were 66 during March 1933 and 41 in February.

Only one person was arrested for drunken driving, as compared to four last month and the same number a year ago. There were 6 in March and 3 in February.

Arrests on the California Vehicle Act dropped from 122 in April to 94 in May, while there were only 25 a year ago. A similar drop was shown in arrests on city traffic violations, with 192 in May, 247 in April and only 132 a year ago.

Other arrests during May were as follows: assault, 1; battery, 2; burglary, 2; fictitious checks, 1; carrying concealed weapon, 1; disturbing the peace, 2; petty theft, 2; malicious mischief, 2; robbery, 1; and committing a public nuisance, 5.

FLOWERS TO BE GIVEN SHUT-INS NEXT SUNDAY

June sunshine and fragrance will be moved into more than a quarter million sick-rooms of North America, including those of Santa Ana, on June 10, when the second annual National Flower Shut-In Day is observed by the florists of America, including The Bouquet Shop and the Mission Flower Shop of Santa Ana.

A shut-in day committee is now seeking names and addresses of those permanently crippled and sick who otherwise receive only a few flowers or no flowers at all during the year in 2200 communities in the United States and Canada, including Santa Ana, it was announced by Frank J. Baker, president of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery association, sponsoring and conducting the movement.

"Every shut-in it is possible for us to locate will receive a gift of flowers or a plant this year," Baker said. "Florists everywhere are behind this worthy movement, and they are being aided, in locating shut-ins, by civic, welfare, military, fraternal and business organizations.

On June 10, in practically every city in North America, deliveries to hospitals, institutions and private homes will be made simultaneously.

"It is our hope that every person who knowns an unfortunate shut-in will take the name and address immediately to any of the association members in Santa Ana," the announcement said.

Admit Guilt on Vagrancy Charge

Paul De Soto and Natividad Valenzuela, charged with vagrancy after being arrested near the Lathrop school on May 29, changed their plea of not guilty when they appeared for trial in justice court yesterday and had time for pronouncement of judgment set for June 8 at 9 a. m.

Judge Kenneth Morrison was prepared to try the men but they pleaded guilty. Bail was set at $500, which they have failed to post. It was alleged by police that the men were molesting children near the school.

NUTRITIONAL RESEARCH HEAD TELLS VALUE OF CITRUS JUICE IN DAILY DIET OF CHILDREN

Stressing the value of citrus fruit juice in the diet, and outlining a nutritional research program which 20 workers conducted in Chicago, A. J. Lorenz, director of nutritional research for the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, gave an entertaining talk before members of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club at their luncheon in James' cafe yesterday.

Director Lorenz, who has been in Southern California for six weeks, explained that Chicago's extensive research program on nutrition developed from a chance remark that the son of one of the city's bankers had been cured of "trench mouth," dental disease, by daily drinking a combination of orange and lemon juice. A prominent physician of Chicago, hearing the rumor, investigated and became so interested that he established a research party of 20 workers, including 12 dentists and several university professors.

A children's institute of 400 members was selected to aid in the experiments. The research workers discovered that 75 per cent of these children had tooth decay, and that 83 per cent of them had gum inflammation of some kind. Nothing was done to the diet the first year, but during the next period of 12 months a pint of citrus juice daily was added to the diet of each child. At the end of the second year there was found a reduction of 50 per cent in tooth decay and a reduction of 83 per cent in gum troubles, according to Lorenz.

There is an intense feeling in the East, the speaker stated, that citrus juice increases a person's resistance against infantile paralysis. The juice has proved to be extremely valuable in the prevention of scurvy and smallpox, he explained.

Director Lorenz had in his possession a physician's book published in 1650, which he states was perhaps the only one now in existence. He read excerpts from the manual in which lemon juice was believed to be a valuable remedy.

H. L. Wakeham of the Kiwanis served as program chairman of the meeting, presided over by Vice President Loren Moore. Group singing comprised the musical program.

CITY BAND IS PREPARING FOR PARK CONCERTS

Preparing for their annual series of 16 summer concerts, first of which is scheduled for Birch park June 21, members of the Santa Ana Municipal band have been holding weekly practice sessions in the lecture hall of Bower Memorial Museum.

Leland Auer, well known in Los Angeles professional musical circles, and connected with the musical organization department at U. S. C., is directing the band this season, and Harry Hanson is serving as manager. Forty-two Santa Anans comprise the organization.

The first appearance of the Santa Ana band will be made at the Flag day services which the Elks club is sponsoring at the Municipal Bowl June 14. Rehearsals in the museum have been held on Wednesday evenings for the past two months.

Director Auer today issued a statement in which he thanked the city council and other civic groups for the cooperation which they are extending the band management.

STOCK COMPANY TO OPEN ON JUNE 13

Opening dates for "Murder Holiday," first production of the Eight o'Clock Players, Santa Ana's new stock company, were announced today as Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 13, 14 and 15.

Included in the play is one of the longest parts ever written into a stage play. It is Brissiac, the detective, played by Gene Olson, who attended junior college here and who has just completed a course at Warner's dramatic school in Hollywood.

Also included in the cast are: Lucille Harper, Jeanne Hezmalhalch, who is an experienced actress, Art Casey, Clark Best, Blyth McCausland, Edwin Beisel and Troy Kent. Both Beisel and Kent have had several years' experience in stock and motion picture work on the Pacific coast.

COOPERATIVE GROUP LISTS DETAILS OF $64,212 PLAN TO CARE FOR 1000 FAMILIES

Details of the new $64,212.50 project for federal aid to co-operatives of Orange county, sponsored by the United Co-Operative Exchange and already approved by district SERA headquarters, were announced today by Secretary-Auditor M. Siddoway of the executive committee.

The original amount of $141,080.61 was materially reduced, following the government's decision to place all cooperatives under a self-maintenance and merchandising plan. It was the previous understanding of the committee that the new plan was strictly a direct relief program.

One thousand families, of the average size of four members, will be aided through the Exchange's new project, and there will be enough surplus products to handle all costs of operation and maintenance, it is estimated. These surpluses will not be placed on the open market, but will be sold to governmental agencies.

16 Projects Listed

Four service, six production and six exchange projects are listed in the request for federal aid.

The service projects amount to $7158.99, as follows: warehouse, $4923.72; garage, $957.56; printing, $277.51; and fishing $1000.

The production projects, totaling $38,365.00, include the following items: canning, $5638.56; shoe shop, $2485.91; farming $4793.39; bakery, $10,211.44; dairy, $7547.00; and sewing, $7689.41.

The exchange projects, amounting to $15,630.07, include barbering, gardening, office work, transportation, commissary service, and the establishment of a wood yard.

A five per cent contingency fund has been requested and will be held in reserve to meet additional expenditures in the operation of the various projects. This fund amounts to $3057.37.

Labor For Products

It is estimated that each member, working on a basis of 16 hours per week, will receive $28.33 per month in kind, including the following products and services: bread, canned foods, fish, milk, fresh vegetables, clothing, shoe repair and barbering. This is at the rate of 40.8 cents an hour. The products of the Exchange will be marked according to current retail prices.

All materials necessary for these projects, it is emphasized, will be purchased in Orange county as far as practical, which indicates that more than just the county welfare department and the taxpayers will benefit from the new plan, which is to furnish part-time employment for 1000 jobless.

Secretary Siddoway today expressed the Exchange's appreciation for the cooperation which it has received from the following firms and citizens: FERA committee of Orange county, A. G. Flagg printing company, Ernest Wooster of the county auditor's office, Union Oil company of Brea, Langley oil company of Santa Ana, Standard printing company of Santa Ana, Chief of Police Floyd Howard, Director Byron V. Curry of the county welfare department, W. K. Hillyard of the surveyor's office, Eric E. Eastmon of the farm advisor's office, Alex F. McDonell of the Singer Sewing machine company, The Register and all other friends who have made donations to the United Co-Operative Exchange.

JUBILEE SINGERS TO GIVE PROGRAM

Songs and readings, typical of the Old South, will be featured on the program tonight by the Santa Ana Jubilee Singers in the Fremont school, Eighth and Artesia streets, starting at 8:15 o'clock.

Lynwood Young, tenor and Jeanette Sterling, soprano, and C. D. Hatcher, bass, will be the soloists with the Negro singing group of 18 voices. One of the highlights of the program will be the singing of "Lift Every Voice and Sing," famous Negro national anthem by James Weldon Johnson.

The chorus will be under the direction of Ruby Berkley Goodwin, former director of the Melody Makers, and also director of an all-Negro hour which was broadcast ever KREG.

A Mexican orchestra under the direction of Ted Collins, will offer numbers before the program. A nominal admission will be charged.

SCHOOL CUSTODIANS WILL HOLD PICNIC

The Orange County School Custodians picnic is scheduled for June 16 at the state park, near San Clemente, according to announcement made today by George Boddy.

There is to be a barbecue dinner served at 1:30 p. m. and the day will be spent at games. J. E. Kraft of the San Juan Capistrano school is in charge of arrangements.

The public is invited to come, and those attending are to bring their own table service. A nominal charge will be made for the dinner.

Mrs. Stephenson Adds To Long Party List For Mrs. Hall

Concluding a gay round of parties occasioned by the presence in this city of an unusually charming northern Californian, Mrs. Houghton Hall of Piedmont, was a luncheon at which Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson entertained yesterday in her home, 1522 North Broadway.

Mrs. Hall has spent several weeks as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Irvine in the rambling big ranch house on historic San Joaquin ranch. Since her visit was concluded today with her departure for the north, Mrs. Stephenson's hospitality was the last which she was able to accept.

A dozen guests were assembled for the 1 o'clock luncheon hour, and speedily found places at the dining table where a bowl of pale pink primroses established the charming color motif for the entire affair.

Tables for contract were awaiting in the drawing room, and at the close of the afternoon's contest, Mrs. Stephenson awarded prizes to those scoring high at the three tables in play. They were Mrs. Leonard Swales, Mrs. W. Bradford Hellis and Mrs. William H. De Wolfe, with a special gift for the honor guest, Mrs. Hall.

Popular Anaheim Girl Is Wedded at Early Morning Service

Of much interest throughout the community was the wedding Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in St. Boniface Catholic church, Anaheim, of Miss Marie Theodora Huenemeyer, popular in county social circles, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Huenemeyer of Anaheim, to Carl P. Zimmer of Placentia.

The church was beautifully garlanded for these early morning rites, the main altar banked with greenery and white blossoms, while delicate colors were introduced by the flower decorations at the side altars. White flowers tied with satin ribbons marked the pews reserved for relatives.

Mrs. Clara Faust presided at the organ, and the bride entered the church to the measures of Lohengrin's Wedding March. She was on the arm of her brother, Herman Huenemeyer, who gave her in marriage during the rites read by the Rev. Father Patrick Browne.

Miss Huenemeyer's beautiful gown was of ivory satin fashioned with a short train, long sleeves and a neckline embroidered in pearls. The little cap of her sweeping tulle veil was also pearl trimmed, and she wore as her single touch of jewelry, the pearls which were her bridegroom's gift. Her flowers were bride roses, lilies of the valley and gardenias.

Miss Mary Huenemeyer attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing gown and picture hat in peach crepe and carrying Talisman roses. Mrs. Herman Huenemeyer in yellow crepe and carrying pink roses, and Miss Rose Zimmer in green crepe with a cluster of yellow roses, completed the bride's attendants. Mr. Zimmer had as best man and ushers, his brothers, Joseph Zimmer, and Harry and Ernest Zimmer. Master Gerald Mertz, in velvet Fauntleroy suit, carried the two rings on a satin pillow.

Following the rites, the new Mr. and Mrs. Zimmer and their attendants were complimented at a wedding breakfast in the Huenemeyer home, 122 South Illinois street, Anaheim. Mrs. Ernest Huenemeyer and Mrs. Katharina Zimmer, mothers of the young couple, wore corsage clusters of red roses with their smart silk gowns.

Roses were prominent in table decorations and white tapers rose from mounds of smaller garden flowers. When Mr. and Mrs. Zimmer left on a motor trip to take them into Canada, the bride wore turquoise blue silk crepe with white accessories. They will return to the Southland and be at home in Anaheim about the middle of July.

YOU and Your Friends

W. C. Kuebler, 1005 West Pine street, who underwent an operation for acute appendicitis Sunday at St. Joseph hospital has returned to his home and is reported making rapid improvement. He is able to see his friends.

Mrs. James Irvine of Irvine ranch, left this morning by automobile for a brief visit in San Francisco, accompanied by Mrs. Houghton Hall of Piedmont, who was concluding a several weeks' visit in the Irvine home, and Mrs. C. Mortimer Plum, 506 Wellington avenue, who will make a short stay in the northern city.

Mrs. John Stover of Kansas City, Mo., has arrived for an extended visit with Mrs. John Cloyes, 622 South Van Ness avenue.

Mrs. T. L. Warren, 814 North Parton street, is spending today in Los Angeles attending a state W. C. T. U. officers' meeting.

Mrs. George B. Holmes, 1238 South Ross street, has returned home from Santa Ana Valley hospital, acompanied by her infant son, Charles Richard Holmes, born there Saturday, May 26. Both are reported getting along very nicely. Mr. Holmes is a member of Santa Ana Junior college faculty.

Mrs. Emrys D. White, 2115 North Broadway, and Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake, of Orange, left Tuesday night for San Francisco, to attend the summer conference of the California Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. White as district chairman of junior members, and Mrs. Bonebrake as president of Orange County federation, were invited by Miss Josephine G. Seaman, state federation president, to attend this board meeting together with all county presidents and district chairmen.

Two Speakers Add to Interest of Y. W. Meeting

Spending a fruitful day in the Y.W. rooms, members of the Y. W. C. A. held a membership meeting Tuesday, enjoying talks, a delightful luncheon and discussion intervals of a crowded schedule. Representatives of Orange and Fullerton associations shared the event.

Members felt especially fortunate in having with them as speakers, Miss Frances Vogel, general secretary of Pasadena Y.W., and Miss Sue Perry, secretary of the Y.W. C.A. of Mexico City.

Miss Vogel gave a talk during the morning session, reporting on the national Y.W. convention held in May in Philadelphia. She referred to one of the highlights of the conclave, a banquet at which Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was speaker. Mrs. Percy Green president of Orange association, presided during the morning. Mrs. W. J Sutherland of Orange gave a vocal solo, and group singing was enjoyed to piano accompaniment played by Miss Lucille Robinson.

Noon time brought luncheon served at tables brightened with coreopsis. Miss Perry, speaker for this interval, told of her work in Mexico. She was introduced by Miss Mabel McFadden. During the afternoon discussion was held on policies of the Y.W.C.A.

Sixth Grade Graduates Have Happy Evening

Called together for a happy get-together before they part at the term's close, students in McKinley school sixth grade graduating class, of which Miss Gertrude Potts is teacher, were entertained this week by one of their classmates, Miss Lela Slaback. She was hostess in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Slaback, 418 West Pine street.

Seven tables were arranged for anagrams and other games in which 26 boys and girls participated. There were prize awards. Refreshments of home-made ice cream, cake and coffee were served at the close of an enjoyable evening.

Special guests sharing the hospitality of the Slaback home included the class teacher, Miss Potts, the McKinley principal, Miss Mary Andrews, and president-elect of the school P.-T. A., Mrs. Floyd Mitchell.

Many of the students of the sixth grade have been classmates since they were in kindergarten. Next year some of the group will go to Frances Willard and others to Julia Lathrop junior high schools.

W. C. T. U.

Santa Ana W.C.T.U. members held a program on "Social Morality" and "Flower Mission" Tuesday afternoon at their monthly meeting in First Christian community house.

Mrs. Elizabeth Warren conducted the meeting, during which devotionals stressing the importance of the Bible in public schools were led by Mrs. A. A. Jones.

Mrs. W. B. Gibson had arranged the Flower Mission program, reading a story of life of Jennie Cassaday, a crippled girl whose idea it was to organize the W.C.T.U. department of flower mission. Members had taken bouquets to Tuesday's meeting for distribution to the sick and shut-ins.

Mrs. Sarah Hutchins was in charge of the program on Social Morality. Dr. Evalene Peo read a paper on the topic, then conducting a symposium.

Mrs. C. D. Hicks, director of medal contests, gave a complete report of contests conducted recently among fifth and sixth grade students.

It was voted to send a message of sympathy to Mrs. Amy Evans on the death of her sister.

Successful Club Year Nears Conclusion For Membership

Tuesday afternoon's session of Santa Ana Woman's club, held in the Y. M. C. A. was especially valuable in acquainting the members with the scope of the work accomplished by the organization under the past year's leadership of Mrs. W. M. Wells.

It was entirely a business meeting, with reports of officers, committee chairmen and section leaders, taking the place of the customary entertainment program. With these were also comprehensive accounts of the state convention of recent date in Riverside, given by the club delegates, Mrs. Jacob Bohlander and Mrs. J. D. Watkins.

Revision of the by-laws, undertaken by Mrs. Watkins, club parliamentarian, under the direction of Mrs. Alfred Halleck of Orange, parliamentarian of the county federation, was accepted by the club, everyone expressing the opinion that the revision had provided a correct and satisfactory set of rules to govern the organization. All reports offered seemed to give emphasis to the success of the year under Mrs. Wells' jurisdiction, and she was warmly complimented upon her regime as president.

Members are anticipating an equally successful year with meetings in Veterans' hall under the presidency of Mrs. R. G. Carman, who with her staff of officers will be installed at the annual picnic in Laguna Beach June 19. Mrs. Webb, president, and her officers of Laguna Beach Women's club, will conduct the ceremony. Clubwomen wishing to arrange for transportation to this all-day event, may do so through Mrs. Ruth Riggle, Mrs. E. M. Waycott or Mrs. Leta Lawrence.

Announcements included the Philanthropy section meeting of June 12 with Mrs. J. A. King, 223 South Bristol street, and the Arts and Crafts section on June 13 with Mrs. R. G. Carman, 1815 North Ross street. Both will be at 2 o'clock. The Orange County Executive board meeting was also announced for June 12 at Huntington Beach Women's clubhouse. Luncheon reservations may be made through Mrs. C. B. Baldwin, 114 Ocean avenue, or by telephoning her at Huntington Beach 2353.

Santa Anans to Attend Bank Conference in Washington, D. C.

When the annual conference of the American Institute of Banking convenes Monday, June 11, in Washington, D. C., this community will be represented by two members of the staff at First National bank, Merle Hall, who also is president of the Orange county chapter of the institute, and Miss Marjorie Walton, of the trust department, secretary of the county branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall, whose home is at 1401 South Parton street, and Miss Walton, 720 West Third street, departed this morning when the special tarin from Seattle and San Francisco vicinities left Los Angeles for Washington. The train will go by El Paso and Houston, Tex., New Orleans and other southern cities, with parties to join the banking group at each of the cities enroute.

They will reach Washington in time to be present for all the conference sessions from the opening to the closing date, June 11 to 14. On June 15, the Santa Anans will proceed to New York City and after a few days of sightseeing in that metropolis to compare with their various Washington side trips, will go up the Hudson by steamer to Albany and thence to Buffalo and the Niagara Falls.

Chicago and the exposition will demand several days of their time, then Miss Walton will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Hall into Iowa for a visit with their relatives before returning to California by way of Denver and Salt Lake City. They expect to arrive in Santa Ana on the night of June 24.

FOR TENNIS AND OTHER PLEASANT THINGS

PATTERN 1697

BY ANNE ADAMS

It is called a tennis frock, and of course it is delightful for that purpose, but no up-and-coming young lady would ever think of restricting the uses of anything so smart and flattering. Days when you aren't playing, you can put it on with a big hat and white pumps and if you are not invited to go pleasant places—well, the young men in your life aren't what we think they are! We are presupposing that you choose some nice tub stuff for it—such as, for example, maize pique, or pink linen. Have you noticed the back? And it may be buttoned up, if you wish.

Pattern 1697 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 takes 3 1-2 yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

The smartest warm weather fashions, the newest fabrics, and the Summer season's outstanding accessories are illustrated and described in the NEW ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK FOR SUMMER. ORDER YOUR COPY OF THIS HELPFUL NEW SUMMER BOOK. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Address orders to The Register Pattern Department.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

1 scant cup raspberries, unsugared and uncreamed
1 coddled egg on
1 slice dark bread toast
1 scant tsp. butter
1 cup coffee with
1-2 cup hot skim milk, no sugar.
Calory total, 345.

• • •

Don't tell me you can't eat fresh berries, raspberries at that, without cream or sugar! You can and you must . . . if you want to stay slim and young looking. Eat fruit slowly, learn to like the fruit for its own flavor. Gulping down fruit, smothered in cream and sugar is just as bad as dunking toast or doughnuts.

• • •

A Simplified Venetian Pie

1 baked pastry shell
2 boxes of ripe raspberries or strawberries
Juice of 1 lemon
1 cup sugar
1 cup boiling water
2 Tbsps. cornstarch.

Crush 2-3 of a box of berries, boil with the cup of water until soft, then strain through a sieve, add the sugar and thicken with cornstarch, cooking the mixture for a full 10 minutes when it will be semi-transparent. Pour this jelly, when cold, into pie shell, put the remaining berries, dusted with powdered sugar, over the jellied base and chill until dessert time. Serve with a spoonful of whipped cream. Served in 8 pieces, the calory value totals approximately 235 per serving.

• • •

Today's Recipe

An Oven Dinner
Cheese-Tomato Scallop

1 pound grated cheese
1 No. 2 can solid pack tomato
3 large white onions, sliced
1 heaping cup crumbs mixed with
2 Tbsps. melted butter
Salt and pepper.

In a buttered casserole put a thin layer of sliced onion covered with grated cheese. Drain the liquid from the can of tomato, take the solid pulp and slice a layer of it over the onion. Continue so until onion, cheese and tomato are used up. Cover the top with buttered crumbs, sprinkle a little cheese over the crumbs and bake in a medium oven 1 hour. If not brown enough, slip under the broiler flame for a moment.

• • •

With this scallop you might serve small new potatoes, scraped clean and baked in butter, seasoned when done with minced parsley.

For dessert, bake peeled quartered apples in a rich fruit syrup, or make a small fruit cobbler (cake batter baked over a thick layer of fruit).

Let's not forget the salad..... I vote for hearts of lettuce with Roquefort cheese, French dressing, and I'd like crisp little whole wheat crackers with my salad.

• • •

The calory values contained in the scallop are approximately 2500. Of this total nearly 1900 are proteins, so you need not serve meat with this dinner.

Sixth Grade Graduates Have Happy Evening

Called together for a happy get-together before they part at the term's close, students in McKinley school sixth grade graduating class, of which Miss Gertrude Potts is teacher, were entertained this week by one of their classmates, Miss Lela Slaback. She was hostess in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Slaback, 418 West Pine street.

Seven tables were arranged for anagrams and other games in which 26 boys and girls participated. There were prize awards. Refreshments of home-made ice cream, cake and coffee were served at the close of an enjoyable evening.

Special guests sharing the hospitality of the Slaback home included the class teacher, Miss Potts, the McKinley principal, Miss Mary Andrews, and president-elect of the school P.-T. A., Mrs. Floyd Mitchell.

Many of the students of the sixth grade have been classmates since they were in kindergarten. Next year some of the group will go to Frances Willard and others to Julia Lathrop junior high schools.

W. C. T. U.

Santa Ana W.C.T.U. members held a program on "Social Morality" and "Flower Mission" Tuesday afternoon at their monthly meeting in First Christian community house.

Mrs. Elizabeth Warren conducted the meeting, during which devotionals stressing the importance of the Bible in public schools were led by Mrs. A. A. Jones.

Mrs. W. B. Gibson had arranged the Flower Mission program, reading a story of life of Jennie Cassaday, a crippled girl whose idea it was to organize the W.C.T.U. department of flower mission. Members had taken bouquets to Tuesday's meeting for distribution to the sick and shut-ins.

Mrs. Sarah Hutchins was in charge of the program on Social Morality. Dr. Evalene Peo read a paper on the topic, then conducting a symposium.

Mrs. C. D. Hicks, director of medal contests, gave a complete report of contests conducted recently among fifth and sixth grade students.

It was voted to send a message of sympathy to Mrs. Amy Evans on the death of her sister.

Successful Club Year Nears Conclusion For Membership

Tuesday afternoon's session of Santa Ana Woman's club, held in the Y. M. C. A. was especially valuable in acquainting the members with the scope of the work accomplished by the organization under the past year's leadership of Mrs. W. M. Wells.

It was entirely a business meeting, with reports of officers, committee chairmen and section leaders, taking the place of the customary entertainment program. With these were also comprehensive accounts of the state convention of recent date in Riverside, given by the club delegates, Mrs. Jacob Bohlander and Mrs. J. D. Watkins.

Revision of the by-laws, undertaken by Mrs. Watkins, club parliamentarian, under the direction of Mrs. Alfred Halleck of Orange, parliamentarian of the county federation, was accepted by the club, everyone expressing the opinion that the revision had provided a correct and satisfactory set of rules to govern the organization. All reports offered seemed to give emphasis to the success of the year under Mrs. Wells' jurisdiction, and she was warmly complimented upon her regime as president.

Members are anticipating an equally successful year with meetings in Veterans' hall under the presidency of Mrs. R. G. Carman, who with her staff of officers will be installed at the annual picnic in Laguna Beach June 19. Mrs. Webb, president, and her officers of Laguna Beach Women's club, will conduct the ceremony. Clubwomen wishing to arrange for transportation to this all-day event, may do so through Mrs. Ruth Riggle, Mrs. E. M. Waycott or Mrs. Leta Lawrence.

Announcements included the Philanthropy section meeting of June 12 with Mrs. J. A. King, 223 South Bristol street, and the Arts and Crafts section on June 13 with Mrs. R. G. Carman, 1815 North Ross street. Both will be at 2 o'clock. The Orange County Executive board meeting was also announced for June 12 at Huntington Beach Women's clubhouse. Luncheon reservations may be made through Mrs. C. B. Baldwin, 114 Ocean avenue, or by telephoning her at Huntington Beach 2353.

Santa Anans to Attend Bank Conference in Washington, D. C.

When the annual conference of the American Institute of Banking convenes Monday, June 11, in Washington, D. C., this community will be represented by two members of the staff at First National bank, Merle Hall, who also is president of the Orange county chapter of the institute, and Miss Marjorie Walton, of the trust department, secretary of the county branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall, whose home is at 1401 South Parton street, and Miss Walton, 720 West Third street, departed this morning when the special tarin from Seattle and San Francisco vicinities left Los Angeles for Washington. The train will go by El Paso and Houston, Tex., New Orleans and other southern cities, with parties to join the banking group at each of the cities enroute.

They will reach Washington in time to be present for all the conference sessions from the opening to the closing date, June 11 to 14. On June 15, the Santa Anans will proceed to New York City and after a few days of sightseeing in that metropolis to compare with their various Washington side trips, will go up the Hudson by steamer to Albany and thence to Buffalo and the Niagara Falls.

Chicago and the exposition will demand several days of their time, then Miss Walton will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Hall into Iowa for a visit with their relatives before returning to California by way of Denver and Salt Lake City. They expect to arrive in Santa Ana on the night of June 24.

Hostess Brings Close Friends Together

Bringing together a group of intimate friends, Mrs. Louise Satterwhite entertained Tuesday afternoon with a luncheon in her home, 825 Oak street. Gladioluses were arranged in bouquets throughout the home, and table appointments were in pink and green.

Mrs. Satterwhite's guests included Mesdames Laura Bearss, Clara Chast, M. C. Pollard, C. P. Marshall, Curtis Greenwood, Bertha McMillen, Martha Shatto, F. H. Greenwood, Lucy Preble, Effie Slusser, A. Miegle, Laura Custer and W. L. Leihy.

Newly Married Couple Entertain With Bridge

Pleasantly established at 507 West Sixth street following their marriage this spring, Mr. and Mrs. Marquise Hare were at home to a group of friends on a recent evening at a bridge party. Mrs. Hare was Miss Fontelle Rentschler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rentschler, this city.

Many flowers decked the home for the affair. Prizes at cards were won by Miss Velda Fraser and James Lukens, scoring high, and Miss Virginia Anderson, low.

Decorative details at each table during the refreshments hour were in yellow, green or pink. Nutcups, luncheon sets and china conformed to the pastel idea.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hare were the Misses Virginia Anderson, Velda Fraser, Dorothy Dunbar, Bernice Miles and Messrs. William Fox, James Lukens, Rutherford Williams, this city; Simeon Toelle, Anaheim, and Wesley Gill, Glendale.

Announcements

Damascus White Shrine will meet tomorrow night for a 6:30 covered dish dinner in Masonic temple in advance of the stated chapter session at 8 o'clock.

Ernest L. Kellogg auxiliary V. F. W. will have a cooked food sale and bazaar all day Saturday at 211 West Fourth street. Mrs. Anna McCleary will be in charge of the bazaar and Mrs. Juanita Cozad, food.

Called together yesterday by their leader, Mrs. W. H. Crawford, following a meeting of the Women's auxiliary, members of Episcopal Church of the Messiah Missionary branch decided to cancel their plans for a meeting in the church tomorrow.

Mrs. Roy Flanagan and Mrs. L. B. Harrison will be hostesses tomorrow at 8 p. m. in St. Ann's parish hall at a party for the benefit of St. Ann's church. Cards will be played and refreshments will be served.

Announcement was made today that Girls' Ebell society will have no meeting tomorrow as scheduled. The next session will take place Friday, June 22, when an all day session, with a picnic will be held in the Laguna Beach home of the R. G. Tuthills.

FOR TENNIS AND OTHER PLEASANT THINGS

BY ANNE ADAMS

It is called a tennis frock, and of course it is delightful for that purpose, but no up-and-coming young lady would ever think of restricting the uses of anything so smart and flattering. Days when you aren't playing, you can put it on with a big hat and white pumps and if you are not invited to go pleasant places—well, the young men in your life aren't what we think they are! We are presupposing that you choose some nice tub stuff for it—such as, for example, maize pique, or pink linen. Have you noticed the back? And it may be buttoned up, if you wish.

Pattern 1697 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 takes 3 1-2 yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

The smartest warm weather fashions, the newest fabrics, and the Summer season's outstanding accessories are illustrated and described in the NEW ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK FOR SUMMER. ORDER YOUR COPY OF THIS HELPFUL NEW SUMMER BOOK. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Address orders to The Register Pattern Department.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

1 scant cup raspberries, unsugared and uncreamed
1 coddled egg on
1 slice dark bread toast
1 scant tsp. butter
1 cup coffee with
1-2 cup hot skim milk, no sugar.
Calory total, 345.

• • •

Don't tell me you can't eat fresh berries, raspberries at that, without cream or sugar! You can and you must . . . if you want to stay slim and young looking. Eat fruit slowly, learn to like the fruit for its own flavor. Gulping down fruit, smothered in cream and sugar is just as bad as dunking toast or doughnuts.

• • •

A Simplified Venetian Pie

1 baked pastry shell
2 boxes of ripe raspberries or strawberries
Juice of 1 lemon
1 cup sugar
1 cup boiling water
2 Tbsps. cornstarch.

Crush 2-3 of a box of berries, boil with the cup of water until soft, then strain through a sieve, add the sugar and thicken with cornstarch, cooking the mixture for a full 10 minutes when it will be semi-transparent. Pour this jelly, when cold, into pie shell, put the remaining berries, dusted with powdered sugar, over the jellied base and chill until dessert time. Serve with a spoonful of whipped cream. Served in 8 pieces, the calory value totals approximately 235 per serving.

• • •

Today's Recipe

An Oven Dinner
Cheese-Tomato Scallop

1 pound grated cheese
1 No. 2 can solid pack tomato
3 large white onions, sliced
1 heaping cup crumbs mixed with
2 Tbsps. melted butter
Salt and pepper.

In a buttered casserole put a thin layer of sliced onion covered with grated cheese. Drain the liquid from the can of tomato, take the solid pulp and slice a layer of it over the onion. Continue so until onion, cheese and tomato are used up. Cover the top with buttered crumbs, sprinkle a little cheese over the crumbs and bake in a medium oven 1 hour. If not brown enough, slip under the broiler flame for a moment.

• • •

With this scallop you might serve small new potatoes, scraped clean and baked in butter, seasoned when done with minced parsley.

For dessert, bake peeled quartered apples in a rich fruit syrup, or make a small fruit cobbler (cake batter baked over a thick layer of fruit).

Let's not forget the salad..... I vote for hearts of lettuce with Roquefort cheese, French dressing, and I'd like crisp little whole wheat crackers with my salad.

• • •

The calory values contained in the scallop are approximately 2500. Of this total nearly 1900 are proteins, so you need not serve meat with this dinner.

CITY ATTORNEY NEW PRESIDENT SERVICE CLUB

ORANGE, June 7.—Gordon X. Richmond, city attorney of Orange, will lead the Orange Lions club during the coming year, having been unanimously chosen for the post at the annual election of officers held yesterday at American Legion hall.

C. Forest Talmage was re-elected secretary and a unanimous ballot was cast for the entire slate as proposed by a nominating committee composed of Earle Phillips, Burl Wing, Ivan Swanger and Dr. J. E. Riley.

The remaining officers chosen were the following: First vice president, Alvin M. Drumm; second vice president, Wilber S. Lentz; third vice president, John A. Christianson; tail twister, Ray Arguello; lion tamer, Pat Donegan; directors, two-year terms, C. E. Short and Martell E. Thompson; directors, one-year terms, Charles Coffey and George Bartley.

Installation of the newly-elected officers will take place at the annual party arranged for the evening of June 27 at Legion hall, with a women's night observed. Jack Riley and Luther Mack, who have held many high offices in Lionism, will be present to participate in the program, and E. H. Rowland, of Santa Ana, International director, will present gold keys to the six new key members of the Orange club.

The speaker of the day was John King, Hemet publisher, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress, and who was introduced by V. D. Johnson.

MINISTERIAL UNION ELECTS

ORANGE, June 7.—The Rev. H. F. Sheerer, pastor of the local Baptist church, was elected president of the Ministerial union at the meeting held Wednesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. J. B. Wilbur was re-elected secretary.

Plans were completed for the summer union services, which will be held beginning July 1, in the Methodist church. The hour for the evening service will be 7:30 o'clock instead of 7 o'clock. The services will be in charge of the different churches and their choirs.

INSTALLATION CONDUCTED FOR P.-T. A. HEADS

ORANGE, June 7.—Beautiful in its simplicity was the joint installation of officers of the P.-T. A. City Council and officers of the local association held Wednesday afternoon in the Masonic hall. The service was in charge of Mrs. G. W. Marvin, retiring Fourth District president. As the climax of the installation, Mrs. Marvin recited, "Song of Service."

"Parental Education" was the topic of an interesting address given by Mrs. W. T. Kirven, incoming president of the Fourth District P.-T. A.

Preceding the installation ceremony a luncheon was served in the dining room, which was attractive with numerous bouquets of blue and gold flowers. Hand painted place cards, made by Mrs. Kenneth King, retiring president of the Maple Avenue P.-T. A., designated the place of each guest.

"Beloved, It Is Morn," by Alwood, was sung by Mrs. James Winget, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Joe Livernash. Special guests were introduced by Mrs. Glenn Reck, toastmistress and retiring president of the City Council P.-T. A. They were Mrs. Gene Marvin, retiring Fourth District president; Mrs. James Kelsey, district extension chairman and Mrs. W. T. Kirven, president-elect of the Fourth District. Each officer and guest was presented with a lovely corsage of pastel colored flowers.

Reports were given by Mrs. Fred Lentz, emblem chairman; Mrs. L. L. Williams, recreation chairman; Mrs. A. J. Schoenfeldt, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Edward Bertman, historian.

Officers of the P.-T. A. council were: President, Mrs. Ernest Ross; vice president, Mrs. Faye Irwin; second vice president, Mrs. O. A. Schildmeyer; secretary, Mrs. Kenneth King; treasurer, Mrs. R. E. Gross; historian, Mrs. Herbert Sisson; parliamentarian, Mrs. Edward Bertman, and auditor, Mrs. Ray Valentine.

Officers from the Intermediate school include: President, Mrs. Carl Sutton; vice president, Mrs. Glenn Reck; secretary, Mrs. Arch Burkett; treasurer, Mrs. Ray Valentine; historian, Mrs. B. D. Stanley; parliamentarian; Mrs. Ernest Ross, and auditor, Mrs. Vern Estes.

Killefer P.-T. A. officers included: President, Mrs. Ted Seavy; vice president, Mrs. Ed Stinson; secretary, Mrs. Margaret Oeckles; treasurer, Mrs. C. A. Armstrong; historian, Mrs. J. H. Atchley; parliamentarian, Mrs. Vinnie Hill; and auditor, Mrs. Anice Blythe.

Maple avenue officers were: President, Mrs. Earl Smith; vice president, Mrs. Vern Estes; secretary, Mrs. J. H. Livernash; treasurer, Mrs. Percy Farmer; historian, Mrs. Kenneth King; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Iva Lee.

Those installed from the Center street association were: President Mrs. Joe Peterson; vice president, Mrs. Harry Woodward; secretary, Mrs. Clayton Scarborough; treasurer, Mrs. G. E. Williams; parliamentarian, Mrs. L. J. Baier; and historian, Mrs. Jack Mayes.

El Modena officers were: President, Mrs. Marion Flippen; vice president, Mrs. Faye Irwin; secretary, Mrs. John Hayes; treasurer, Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert; and auditor, J. D. Hayes.

The Olive P.-T. A. group installed were: President, Mrs. Lee McClelland; vice president, Mrs. Greeder; secretary, Mrs. Paul Ristow; treasurer, Mrs. Walter Fairbairn; and parliamentarian, Miss Van Der Veer.

The committee in charge of the luncheon and installation was composed of Mrs. James Winget, Mrs. Ernest Ross and Mrs. Kenneth King.

COUNCIL DELAYS ACTION ON WATER UNTIL NEXT MEETING; EIGHT PETITIONS PRESENTED

ORANGE, June 7.—Continued circulation of petitions asking that the present allotment of 750 cubic feet of water for the minimum of $1 be increased to 1000 feet was indicated today, following a meeting of the city council last night, when the matter was referred to the water committee and held over until the July meeting for action.

Eight petitions, bearing the names of 956 municipal water users, were presented to the trustees by L. F. Coburn, who pointed out that a surplus of some $51,000 remains in the city treasury and that legally it cannot be diverted to other purposes. G. E. Niles, who initiated the petition move, also spoke briefly in behalf of the petitions.

A motion that the wish of petitioners be granted was made by Councilman Lester, seconded by Councilman Riley. Trustees Chapman, Heim and Hessel voted "No." A motion was then made and carried that the matter be referred to the water committee of the board, for report at the July meeting.

Attorney Coburn said, following the meeting, that he would advise that additional petitions be circulated during the coming month, in order to show an overwhelming sentiment in favor of the change. He said 90 per cent of the citizens desire to have the water allotment increased to the basis of $1 for 1000 cubic feet, the rate which is already in effect for water used in excess of 1000 cubic feet.

Resolutions were adopted appropriating $60 to the California League of Municipalities and $30 annual dues to the Orange county league, for services in connection with securing additional gas tax funds and legislation desired by cities.

An appropriation of $100 was made to the mess fund of the local National Guard company, on petition of "Hod" Chambers.

Upon motion of Councilman Heim, a street light was ordered installed at the end of River avenue, at the entrance to the new city park.

An ordinance prohibiting the sale of inferior and dangerous electrical appliances was given first reading.

A petition of Harms drug store, Bert's Bike shop and Perkins' Magazine shop that the sale date for fireworks be advanced from June 24 to June 15, was denied.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars were given permission to install booths for the sale of fireworks, starting June 24.

A resolution was adopted accepting deed to property at the end of River avenue to be used as entrance to the city park for $100 was accepted.

Alfred Higgins and Flo Scarritt were reappointed to three-year terms as members of the library board.

Transfer of funds from the water department, $41,621.30 to the general improvement fund and $2374.43 to the general fund, made by the former council in 1931, was ratified by ordinance. Another ordinance, prohibiting the transfer of water funds, will be amended by majority vote of the council.

Steele and McInnis were awarded the contract for binding the current tax roll, at a price of $75. Mrs. Orlo Barger was hired for two weeks to type the tax roll.

Water levels in the Orange city wells on June 1 were 11 feet lower than on the corresponding date a year ago, according to the report of Water Superintendent W. J. Richardson. On June 1, 1934, the level stood at 204 feet, as compared with 193 feet on June 1, 1933, the report showed. A total of 32,101,000 gallons were pumped into city reservoirs during the month of June.

City Council Arranges For Clean-Up Week

ORANGE, June 7.—Next week will be Clean-up week in Orange, it was decided by the Orange city council last night, upon suggestion of Fire Chief Al Tomblin.

In order to increase the beauty of the city and avoid danger from grass fires, residents are urged to clean up and clean off all vacant lots. The city will co-operate by making special preparations for hauling away all trash and rubbish.

M. E. MEN'S COUNCIL WILL BE ORGANIZED

ORANGE, June 7.—In order to unite the man power of the church in co-operation with the pastor for an aggressive program of service, plans were discussed at the dinner meeting of the Men's club of the Methodist church Wednesday evening, in the Epworth hall for the organization of a Men's council. Plans will be completed at a future date.

Dr. George A. Warmer, pastor of the Santa Ana Methodist church, spoke on the subject, "World Vision," stating that nations must realize more and more that they are a part of a great while, and that each part of the world is dependent upon the rest of the world for its well being. He declared that the world today needs creativity and a Christian philosophy.

Devotionals were led by L. G. Dotson, while special musical numbers were presented by the men's quartet composed of Frank Nuslein, Carl Warner, John Campbell, and Ray Childs. They were accompanied by Mrs. Rex Parks.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

CITY ATTORNEY NEW PRESIDENT SERVICE CLUB

ORANGE, June 7.—Gordon X. Richmond, city attorney of Orange, will lead the Orange Lions club during the coming year, having been unanimously chosen for the post at the annual election of officers held yesterday at American Legion hall.

C. Forest Talmage was re-elected secretary and a unanimous ballot was cast for the entire slate as proposed by a nominating committee composed of Earle Phillips, Burl Wing, Ivan Swanger and Dr. J. E. Riley.

The remaining officers chosen were the following: First vice president, Alvin M. Drumm; second vice president, Wilber S. Lentz; third vice president, John A. Christianson; tail twister, Ray Arguello; lion tamer, Pat Donegan; directors, two-year terms, C. E. Short and Martell E. Thompson; directors, one-year terms, Charles Coffey and George Bartley.

Installation of the newly-elected officers will take place at the annual party arranged for the evening of June 27 at Legion hall, with a women's night observed. Jack Riley and Luther Mack, who have held many high offices in Lionism, will be present to participate in the program, and E. H. Rowland, of Santa Ana, International director, will present gold keys to the six new key members of the Orange club.

The speaker of the day was John King, Hemet publisher, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress, and who was introduced by V. D. Johnson.

MINISTERIAL UNION ELECTS

ORANGE, June 7.—The Rev. H. F. Sheerer, pastor of the local Baptist church, was elected president of the Ministerial union at the meeting held Wednesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. J. B. Wilbur was re-elected secretary.

Plans were completed for the summer union services, which will be held beginning July 1, in the Methodist church. The hour for the evening service will be 7:30 o'clock instead of 7 o'clock. The services will be in charge of the different churches and their choirs.

INSTALLATION CONDUCTED FOR P.-T. A. HEADS

ORANGE, June 7.—Beautiful in its simplicity was the joint installation of officers of the P.-T. A. City Council and officers of the local association held Wednesday afternoon in the Masonic hall. The service was in charge of Mrs. G. W. Marvin, retiring Fourth District president. As the climax of the installation, Mrs. Marvin recited, "Song of Service."

"Parental Education" was the topic of an interesting address given by Mrs. W. T. Kirven, incoming president of the Fourth District P.-T. A.

Preceding the installation ceremony a luncheon was served in the dining room, which was attractive with numerous bouquets of blue and gold flowers. Hand painted place cards, made by Mrs. Kenneth King, retiring president of the Maple Avenue P.-T. A., designated the place of each guest.

"Beloved, It Is Morn," by Alwood, was sung by Mrs. James Winget, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Joe Livernash. Special guests were introduced by Mrs. Glenn Reck, toastmistress and retiring president of the City Council P.-T. A. They were Mrs. Gene Marvin, retiring Fourth District president; Mrs. James Kelsey, district extension chairman and Mrs. W. T. Kirven, president-elect of the Fourth District. Each officer and guest was presented with a lovely corsage of pastel colored flowers.

Reports were given by Mrs. Fred Lentz, emblem chairman; Mrs. L. L. Williams, recreation chairman; Mrs. A. J. Schoenfeldt, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Edward Bertman, historian.

Officers of the P.-T. A. council were: President, Mrs. Ernest Ross; vice president, Mrs. Faye Irwin; second vice president, Mrs. O. A. Schildmeyer; secretary, Mrs. Kenneth King; treasurer, Mrs. R. E. Gross; historian, Mrs. Herbert Sisson; parliamentarian, Mrs. Edward Bertman, and auditor, Mrs. Ray Valentine.

Officers from the Intermediate school include: President, Mrs. Carl Sutton; vice president, Mrs. Glenn Reck; secretary, Mrs. Arch Burkett; treasurer, Mrs. Ray Valentine; historian, Mrs. B. D. Stanley; parliamentarian; Mrs. Ernest Ross, and auditor, Mrs. Vern Estes.

Killefer P.-T. A. officers included: President, Mrs. Ted Seavy; vice president, Mrs. Ed Stinson; secretary, Mrs. Margaret Oeckles; treasurer, Mrs. C. A. Armstrong; historian, Mrs. J. H. Atchley; parliamentarian, Mrs. Vinnie Hill; and auditor, Mrs. Anice Blythe.

Maple avenue officers were: President, Mrs. Earl Smith; vice president, Mrs. Vern Estes; secretary, Mrs. J. H. Livernash; treasurer, Mrs. Percy Farmer; historian, Mrs. Kenneth King; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Iva Lee.

Those installed from the Center street association were: President Mrs. Joe Peterson; vice president, Mrs. Harry Woodward; secretary, Mrs. Clayton Scarborough; treasurer, Mrs. G. E. Williams; parliamentarian, Mrs. L. J. Baier; and historian, Mrs. Jack Mayes.

El Modena officers were: President, Mrs. Marion Flippen; vice president, Mrs. Faye Irwin; secretary, Mrs. John Hayes; treasurer, Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert; and auditor, J. D. Hayes.

The Olive P.-T. A. group installed were: President, Mrs. Lee McClelland; vice president, Mrs. Greeder; secretary, Mrs. Paul Ristow; treasurer, Mrs. Walter Fairbairn; and parliamentarian, Miss Van Der Veer.

The committee in charge of the luncheon and installation was composed of Mrs. James Winget, Mrs. Ernest Ross and Mrs. Kenneth King.

COUNCIL DELAYS ACTION ON WATER UNTIL NEXT MEETING; EIGHT PETITIONS PRESENTED

ORANGE, June 7.—Continued circulation of petitions asking that the present allotment of 750 cubic feet of water for the minimum of $1 be increased to 1000 feet was indicated today, following a meeting of the city council last night, when the matter was referred to the water committee and held over until the July meeting for action.

Eight petitions, bearing the names of 956 municipal water users, were presented to the trustees by L. F. Coburn, who pointed out that a surplus of some $51,000 remains in the city treasury and that legally it cannot be diverted to other purposes. G. E. Niles, who initiated the petition move, also spoke briefly in behalf of the petitions.

A motion that the wish of petitioners be granted was made by Councilman Lester, seconded by Councilman Riley. Trustees Chapman, Heim and Hessel voted "No." A motion was then made and carried that the matter be referred to the water committee of the board, for report at the July meeting.

Attorney Coburn said, following the meeting, that he would advise that additional petitions be circulated during the coming month, in order to show an overwhelming sentiment in favor of the change. He said 90 per cent of the citizens desire to have the water allotment increased to the basis of $1 for 1000 cubic feet, the rate which is already in effect for water used in excess of 1000 cubic feet.

Resolutions were adopted appropriating $60 to the California League of Municipalities and $30 annual dues to the Orange county league, for services in connection with securing additional gas tax funds and legislation desired by cities.

An appropriation of $100 was made to the mess fund of the local National Guard company, on petition of "Hod" Chambers.

Upon motion of Councilman Heim, a street light was ordered installed at the end of River avenue, at the entrance to the new city park.

An ordinance prohibiting the sale of inferior and dangerous electrical appliances was given first reading.

A petition of Harms drug store, Bert's Bike shop and Perkins' Magazine shop that the sale date for fireworks be advanced from June 24 to June 15, was denied.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars were given permission to install booths for the sale of fireworks, starting June 24.

A resolution was adopted accepting deed to property at the end of River avenue to be used as entrance to the city park for $100 was accepted.

Alfred Higgins and Flo Scarritt were reappointed to three-year terms as members of the library board.

Transfer of funds from the water department, $41,621.30 to the general improvement fund and $2374.48 to the general fund, made by the former council in 1931, was ratified by ordinance. Another ordinance, prohibiting the transfer of water funds, will be amended by majority vote of the council.

Steele and McInnis were awarded the contract for binding the current tax roll, at a price of $75. Mrs. Orlo Barger was hired for two weeks to type the tax roll.

Water levels in the Orange city wells on June 1 were 11 feet lower than on the corresponding date a year ago, according to the report of Water Superintendent W. J. Richardson. On June 1, 1934, the level stood at 204 feet, as compared with 193 feet on June 1, 1933, the report showed. A total of 32,101,000 gallons were pumped into city reservoirs during the month of June.

City Council Arranges For Clean-Up Week

ORANGE, June 7.—Next week will be Clean-up week in Orange, it was decided by the Orange city council last night, upon suggestion of Fire Chief Al Tomblin.

In order to increase the beauty of the city and avoid danger from grass fires, residents are urged to clean up and clean off all vacant lots. The city will co-operate by making special preparations for hauling away all trash and rubbish.

M. E. MEN'S COUNCIL WILL BE ORGANIZED

ORANGE, June 7.—In order to unite the man power of the church in co-operation with the pastor for an aggressive program of service, plans were discussed at the dinner meeting of the Men's club of the Methodist church Wednesday evening, in the Epworth hall for the organization of a Men's council. Plans will be completed at a future date.

Dr. George A. Warmer, pastor of the Santa Ana Methodist church, spoke on the subject, "World Vision," stating that nations must realize more and more that they are a part of a great while, and that each part of the world is dependent upon the rest of the world for its well being. He declared that the world today needs creativity and a Christian philosophy.

Devotionals were led by L. G. Dotson, while special musical numbers were presented by the men's quartet composed of Frank Nuslein, Carl Warner, John Campbell, and Ray Childs. They were accompanied by Mrs. Rex Parks.

RELIEF CALLS FOR MAY SHOW BIG DECREASE

ORANGE, June 7.—Emergency relief demands in the city of Orange decreased nearly 50 per cent in May, it was shown by the monthly report of the Orange and Community Welfare and Store service, filed with the city council last night by Grace Z. Lentz, executive secretary.

Calls for grocery orders decreased from 56 in April to 31 in May, the report showed, while four new cases were opened and five closed during the month. Total applications for work on file totaled 158.

Other monthly reports of city departments were filed last night.

Police Judge A. W. Swayze reported 16 cases handled and fines aggregating $72 collected. Police Chief Geo. H. Franzen reported $1986 collected in taxes and licenses; five citations issued and seven arrests. F. B. Dale, building inspector, reported 15 electrical inspections, 11 plumbing inspections and 11 building permits issued.

C. H. Jeffrey, secretary of the library board, reported receipts of $5059.70 and expenditures of $748.63, leaving $4,311.07 in the library fund.

C. C. Bonebrake, street superintendent, reported 1900 feet of curb and gutter constructed on River avenue; removal of old curb and surplus dirt in preparation for widening and preparation of new and up-to-date map for use of the city clerk.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY NAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The baby didn't tumble from the cradle. "Gee, but that was some excitement," shouted Dotty "We have savd the little tot.

"Whoever put him in that tree is just as thoughtless as can be. We'll have to find his home, now. He lives near here, like as not."

"Of course he does," a strange voice cried. The Tinies all looked up and spied a woman who had just run up. "That baby's mine," said she.

"The dickens tots took him away. I thought that they just planned to play, but they are always pulling tricks. They put him in the tree.

• • •

"And now, I want to thank you all for saving him from quite a fall." "Oh, that's all right," said Scouty. "We are glad we happened here.

"The baby cried with all his might, but now I'm sure that he's all right. He didn't tumble from his cradle, so there's naught to fear."

The Tinymites then helped her take the baby home. She cut a cake, and gave them all a great big piece. Said Duncy, "This is grand."

The woman then bid them goodby, an dsat right down so she could try to rock the little child until it was in slumberland.

Not far away the Tinies found a man who laughed and jumped around. When he spied them, he shouted, "In a bramble bush I'll hop.

"I'll scratch out both my eyes and then, I'll scratch them both back in again." Said Duncy, "Guess I'll try it, too. I hope that I don't flop!"

The man jumped in and out, all right, and then he ran right out of sight. Poor Duncy had some bad luck, though, which made him look forlorn.

The brambles got into his clothes. Why he was not hurt, goodness knows. The only thing that happened was that his clown suit was torn.

Hold Life Guard Tests At Newport On Next Saturday

NEWPORT BEACH, June 7. — Life guard tests will be conducted June 9, it was announced today by F. W. Crocker, chief of life guards. Approximately 20 aspirants for the jobs will be examined. The tests are in 10 parts, it was explained, embracing all possible features of the work. Besides the physical and mental examinations, the applicants are put through stiff water tests, covering first aid, resuscitation, breaking of holds, swimming tests, dory tests, both with one and two men, rope climbing.

Seven men will be selected for the work. Crocker announced that in order to file an application, one must have been a resident of the vicinity for more than a year.

Flames Destroy Island Dwelling

NEWPORT BEACH, June 7. — Fire caused by some unknown agency, early yesterday destroyed the home of J. D. Tucker, at 215 East Bay Front on Balboa island. The house was unoccupied at the time of the blaze, which was noticed at 3:50 a. m.

The total damage was impossible to estimate, Fire Chief Frank Crocker said, as the home was filled with valuable furniture, which Tucker had collected in his business as auctioneer in Los Angeles. The assessed valuation of the house was $1890.

Crocker announced that an investigation to determine the cause of the blaze would start immediately.

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The baby didn't tumble from the cradle. "Gee, but that was some excitement," shouted Dotty "We have savd the little tot.

"Whoever put him in that tree is just as thoughtless as can be. We'll have to find his home, now. He lives near here, like as not."

"Of course he does," a strange voice cried. The Tinies all looked up and spied a woman who had just run up. "That baby's mine," said she.

"The dickens tots took him away. I thought that they just planned to play, but they are always pulling tricks. They put him in the tree.

No Telling What Those Romantic SWEDISH PRINCES Will Do Next

The most recent "Mr. and Mrs. Bernadotte" —the former Prince Sigvard of Sweden and his bride, formerly Fraulein Erika Patzek . . . who said "yes" in a pouring rainstorm.

Here are the first "Mr. and Mrs. Bernadotte"—the former Prince Lennart and his bride, the former Karin Nissvandt. . . . The big picture at the upper right is Wahlbom's painting of the great Swedish hero, King Gustavus Adolphus, who made Sweden the first military power in Europe.

Princess Ingrid, once reported engaged to Prince George of England, later said to be betrothed to Crown Prince Frederick of Denmark.

Defying the king's anger, they marry commoners and work like them---but history shows that Sweden's royal line is merely reverting to its "common" origin

By Milton Bronner

LONDON

"ROMANCE!" sighed a crowd of sentimental British maidens in March, 1932, when Prince Lennart of Sweden, grandson of the Swedish king, married a commoner.

"Romance!" sighed a similar crowd of British maidens in March, 1934, when Prince Sigvard, another grandson of the King of Sweden, likewise married a commoner.

But there probably was not one in either sentimental crowd who knew that the romantic is more closely associated with the royal houses of Sweden than with those of any other countries in Europe.

Instead of going back merely to the time of Queen Christina, as the Hollywood directors did when they wanted a film play for Greta Garbo, one could go right through the story of Sweden and produce a whole cycle.

Right now this romantic tendency seems to be displaying itself in a penchant for marriages with people not of royal blood. But that, too, is all right, historically speaking; because, when you get right down to it, the royal house of Sweden comes of "common" blood itself—and not so awfully far back in the procession

So before going on with the story about the present-day activities of Swedish princes, it's necessary to dip back into history a little.

THE royal house of Sweden for centuries was the great house of Vasa. Its roll includes such names as that of the great Gustavus Adolphus, champion of Protestantism against the great Catholic kings of Europe and one of the great military geniuses of all time; Gustavus Adolphus, who made poverty-stricken and peace-loving Sweden one of the great military states of Europe, and who was killed in action at the battle of Luetzen in 1632, leaving his throne to his daughter, Christina, familiar to movie fans through Greta Garbo's highly romanticized version of the real thing.

The Vasa dynasty also includes the name of Charles XII, another great military leader, who led his armies triumphantly against the Danes, the Russians and the Poles and was mysteriously killed in action—some say by his own men—in 1718.

The point to all of this is that in the century that followed his reign the house of Vasa became weaker and weaker. A very inefficient king, Charles XIII, was on the throne when the Napoleonic era came; and there thereupon began for Sweden one of the most romantic episodes in all its history.

Napoleon came into his glory and announced proudly that every soldier in his army carried a marshal's baton in his knapsack. One of the enlisted men who made this boast good was a top-sergeant, one Jean Baptiste Jules Bernadotte. He was a top-sergeant, that is, in 1789, when the Bastile fell; a few years later he was a marshal in Napoleon's armies.

Now this Bernadotte had an interesting romance of his own. In 1798 he wooed and married a girl from the south of France, Desiree Clary. Her sister, Julie, had married Joseph Bonaparte, brother of the great Napoleon, who was later made King of Spain; and Desiree had been wooed by Napoleon himself.

LATER, when Napoleon had made himself arbiter of all Europe, Desiree's girl friends used to tell her that she had married the wrong man. She should, they said, have married Napoleon; then she would have had a throne and a great title.

What Desiree replied is not recorded. But her day and her hour were to come.

At any rate, Bernadotte did not get on well in his personal relations with Napoleon. Historians say that this was because Napoleon blamed him for some of his campaign failures; contemporaries used to say that it was because Bernadotte had beaten him in the quest for the hand of Desiree Clary.

Be that as it may, Bernadotte's great opportunity came through the weakness of the previously-mentioned King Charles XIII of Sweden.

That was no time for any country to have a weak king, with Napoleon stalking across Europe gobbling up dynasties. So the Swedish Riksdag—or parliament—thinking to get Napoleon's good will, chose Bernadotte as the crown prince and heir to their throne. Napoleon had his doubts about this scheme, but Bernadotte didn't; he accepted straightway, abjured the Catholic faith, became a Protestant, and at once identified himself wholly with the interests of his new country.

And in 1819, when Charles XIII died, Bernadotte became King Charles XIV of Sweden. Desiree had the last laugh on her girl friends, after all. Her rejected suitor, Napoleon, shorn of his power, was dying on St. Helena. The man she had chosen, one-time top kick in the French army, was a crowned king.

NOW the new dynasty in Sweden—the Bernadotte dynasty—was what other European royalists referred to contemptuously as a parvenu one. It had not a drop of "royal" blood in its veins.

Bernadotte's son Oscar, who succeeded him on the throne, sought to remedy this by marrying Josephine, daughter of Prince Eugene Beauharnais and granddaughter of Napoleon's first wife, Josephine. Later marriages allied the family more closely with other reigning houses, and by the time the World War had come along some of the proudest blood in Europe was flowing in the veins of the house of Bernadotte.

All of this long and rather involved story is necessary to make it clear why the marriages of present-day Swedish princes with commoners are such striking events.

For after a century of effort, the new royal house had become accepted by European aristocracies. Blended with its common blood was ancient royal blood.

There had been just one break in all of this. Back in 1888, Prince Oscar renounced his rights to the succession to the throne and married a Miss Ebba Monck.

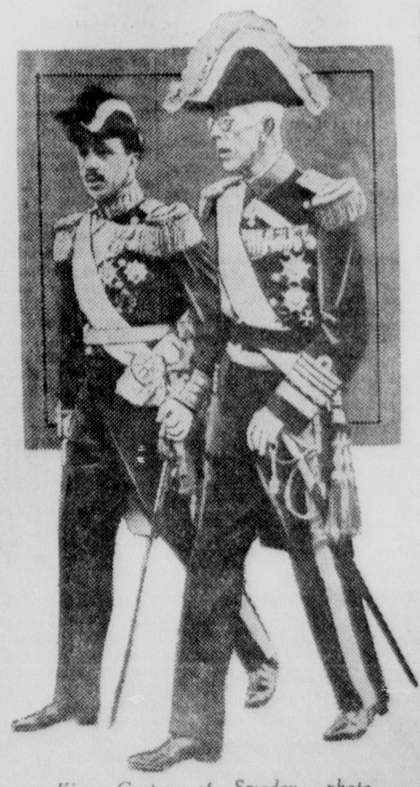

But to come down to the present day—one fine morning young Prince Lennart, only son of Prince William and grandson of the Swedish king, calmly announced that he was in love with, and was going to marry, Miss Karin Nissvandt, a beautiful blond Swedish girl whose father was connected with a firm of accountants in Stockholm.

PRINCE LENNART had met her at a house party and had fallen head over heels in love with her, overlooking the fact that the laws of succession in Sweden provide that no Swedish prince may wed unless the king formally gives his consent to the union.

And King Gustav left young Lennart in no doubt as to what he thought. This thing of marrying a commoner, he pointed out, simply was not done. Lennart was related to the greatest dynasties in Europe. Through his paternal grandmother, the late Queen Victoria of Sweden, he was a direct descendant of the Emperor William I of Germany.

But all of this had very little effect on Lennart. He was adamant. They told him that he would have to renounce all his rights of succession to the throne, all his titles and honors—he was Duke of Smaland and an officer in the Swedish army—and become, like his famous ancestor, plain Mr. Bernadotte.

Lennart said that this was quite all right with him. So he came to London and on March 11, 1932, was married to his Karin at a registry office.

King Gustav of Sweden, photographed with ex-King Alfonso of Spain in the days before Alfonso had lost his throne.

THE couple lived for a time on his estate near Lake Constance, and later, after a reconciliation with his grandfather, went back to Stockholm, where their baby daughter was born in May last year. Lennart has an ample income of his own through a legacy from his grandmother, but he recently applied for the job of editor of the sketch department of the Swedish Broadcasting Co.

Then came the turn of Lennart's young cousin, Prince Sigvard, Duke of Uppland, Chevalier of the Order of Seraphim, officer in the crack regiment of the Guards of the Corps of Svea, and also an officer in the Eighth Regiment of Uppland.

Sigvard had already shown abilities not common to princes. At the famous old University of Upsala he became interested in the drama and took speaking roles in two well-known English plays. After his graduation he played around for a time, and was variously reported engaged to Princess Juliana of Holland and to Princess Maria of Italy—each time erroneously.

Then, at last, he went to his father, the Crown Prince of Sweden, and got his permission to go to Munich to study stage decoration and costume designing. When he came home he painted all the stage decorations for a play about one of the Swedish kings. He also became an expert in the making of highly artistic silverware.

Shortly after that, Sigvard got interested in the movies and went to Berlin, where, under the nom-de-plume of "Herr Holger," he got a job as assistant director in the great Ufa studios.

AND here he fell in love with the lovely blond Erika Patzek, who was just starting out as an ingenue in the movies. Sigvard wooed her ardently.

One rainy night when Fraulein Patzek came to her home she found the young man standing on the pavement waiting for her. He was drenched to the skin; but he proposed, nevertheless.

And before they parted that night she said "yes."

Unable to get his parents' consent, Sigvard married his Erika without it. A few weeks later, Sigvard and his bride met King Gustav at Cannes, in France, and a pleasant reconciliation scene was staged.

Meanwhile, one child of the Swedish royal house is apparently making an acceptable marriage, from the royalist standpoint. The lovely Princess Ingrid, once named by gossipers as a possible wife for the Prince of Wales, and later reported engaged to Wales' younger brother, Prince George, is now reported engaged to Crown Prince Frederick of Denmark.

STAMP EXPERT BACK ON KREG THIS EVENING

Growing more popular each week, the radio program sponsored by the Weber Baking company, the "Stamp Adventurer" will again be presented on KREG tonight at 6:45 o'clock.

This week the "Stamp Adventurer" devotes himself to air mail stamps, relating an incident that took place in Paris in 1870 during the Franco-Prussian War, involving the glamorous and famous former stage star, Sarah Bernhardt. It was at this time, when the city of Paris was besieged by the Prussian armies and shut off from her provinces that the first great need of air mail arose. The obstacle was solved by the use of old-fashioned balloons and carrier pigeons.

KREG NOTES

The "Musical Cruise of the World" presented this evening at 8:00 will take us to Russia, at which time admirers of Rimsky-Korsakov, Friml and Tschaikowski may hear Salvatore Santaella's sympathetic interpretations of Slavic favorites.

HARRY BATESON TO ALTERNATE HIS SUBJECTS

Harry Bateson, the gardener of the air presented by KREG every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 8:15 has decided to alternate his talks, one night on flowers the next on vegetables. The fan mail received by the gardener of the air indicates a tremendous interest in vegetable culture, and from now on every other talk will apply to this subject. Mr. Harry Bateson will teach you how to become self-supporting by maintaining a home vegetable garden in the proper way.

NEWS MAKERS TO DESCRIBE THREE PERSONS

The presentation of "People Who Make News" at 7:30 this evening should prove of great interest to those who would like to know more about such characters as, Claude A. Swanson, secretary of the navy; Lawson Little of San Francisco the man who just won the British Amateur Golf championship; and the 71-year-old Archduke Eugene of Hapsburg who has been in exile since 1918.

GETS 250 DAYS JAIL TERM ON LIQUOR COUNT

ANAHEIM, June 7.—Harry Gatgens, 27, of 924 Zeyn street was removed to the county jail today where he will serve 250 days following his plea of guilty yesterday to a charge of violating Section 34 of the Liquor Control Act of California. He was arrested yesterday by Chief of Police James Bouldin and Federal Officer McKagise.

According to the charge which was filed by the federal officer, Gatgens was illegally selling liquor at his home which he has designated as a bottling works. Federal agents, it is said had purchased liquor from Gatgens. When he was taken into custody yesterday Gatgens had in his possession more than six gallons of uncut alcohol and a quantity of the liquor that had been cut and prepared for sale.

He was taken before Police Judge Frank Tausch and pleaded guilty to the charge. Judge Tausch fined him $500 with the alternative of serving 250 days in the county jail. Gatgens chose to serve the jail term.

STAMP EXPERT BACK ON KREG THIS EVENING

Growing more popular each week, the radio program sponsored by the Weber Baking company, the "Stamp Adventurer" will again be presented on KREG tonight at 6:45 o'clock.

This week the "Stamp Adventurer" devotes himself to air mail stamps, relating an incident that took place in Paris in 1870 during the Franco-Prussian War, involving the glamorous and famous former stage star, Sarah Bernhardt. It was at this time, when the city of Paris was besieged by the Prussian armies and shut off from her provinces that the first great need of air mail arose. The obstacle was solved by the use of old-fashioned balloons and carrier pigeons.

KREG NOTES

The "Musical Cruise of the World" presented this evening at 8:00 will take us to Russia, at which time admirers of Rimsky-Korsakov, Frimi and Tschaikowski may hear Salvatore Santaella's sympathetic interpretations of Slavic favorites.

The station's new feature, "Morning Sunshine" presented every day except Sunday at 10:30 in the morning, and featuring John Henry as master of ceremonies, and that famous trio, Tom, Dick and Harry is proving very popular.

"Backward Glance," by Edith Wharton, will be the book Mary Burke King will review over radio station KREG Friday morning at 10:50 o'clock.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

Singing an aria from Puccini's opera, "La Boheme," Helen Jepson will be a featured artist in Paul Whiteman's Music Hall program which will be broadcast over a coast-to-coast NBC network including KFI tonight.

A special concert by the Women's Symphony Orchestra of Chicago, under the direction of Miss Elba Sundstrom, will be broadcast over the Columbia network, including KHJ, from 6:45 to 7:15 tonight. The program will be broadcast from the band shell in the Ford Gardens at the Chicago World's Fair. Works of Mendelssohn, Delibes and Chabrier are programmed.

Classic dance music, by composers of four different nationalities, will be featured by Alfred Hertz and the Standard Symphony orchestra in the concert to be heard over an NBC network including KFI at 8 tonight. The principal selection will be the overture to Wagner's German opera, "Tannhauser."

FRIDAY

Ted Husing will review the second day's play of the U. S. Open Golf championship at the Merion Cricket club, Ardmore, Pa., in a broadcast over the Columbia network including KHJ 9 to 9:05 a. m. Friday. He will speak from a vantage point overlooking the eighteenth green.

HARRY BATESON TO ALTERNATE HIS SUBJECTS

Harry Bateson, the gardener of the air presented by KREG every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 8:15 has decided to alternate his talks, one night on flowers the next on vegetables. The fan mail received by the gardener of the air indicates a tremendous interest in vegetable culture, and from now on every other talk will apply to this subject. Mr. Harry Bateson will teach you how to become self-supporting by maintaining a home vegetable garden in the proper way.

NEWS MAKERS TO DESCRIBE THREE PERSONS

The presentation of "People Who Make News" at 7:30 this evening should prove of great interest to those who would like to know more about such characters as, Claude A. Swanson, secretary of the navy; Lawson Little of San Francisco the man who just won the British Amateur Golf championship; and the 71-year-old Archduke Eugene of Hapsburg who has been in exile since 1918.

GETS 250 DAYS JAIL TERM ON LIQUOR COUNT

ANAHEIM, June 7.—Harry Gatgens, 27, of 924 Zeyn street was removed to the county jail today where he will serve 250 days following his plea of guilty yesterday to a charge of violating Section 34 of the Liquor Control Act of California. He was arrested yesterday by Chief of Police James Bouldin and Federal Officer McKagise.

According to the charge which was filed by the federal officer, Gatgens was illegally selling liquor at his home which he has designated as a bottling works. Federal agents, it is said had purchased liquor from Gatgens. When he was taken into custody yesterday Gatgens had in his possession more than six gallons of uncut alcohol and a quantity of the liquor that had been cut and prepared for sale.

He was taken before Police Judge Frank Tausch and pleaded guilty to the charge. Judge Tausch fined him $500 with the alternative of serving 250 days in the county jail. Gatgens chose to serve the jail term.

Chicago Bd. of Trade

CHICAGO, June 7.—(UP)—Relieving rains which broke the back of the drought in many sections of the grain belt brought heavy selling orders into the wheat pit today and prices closed 1¼ to 1⅝ cent lower. Corn was independently strong on further relief buying and closed ½ to 1 cent higher, while oats sold off with wheat, closing ⅜ to ⅞ cent lower.

RECIPROCAL TRADE AGREEMENTS

Congress has voted to give President Roosevelt the power to enter into reciprocal trade agreements with foreign nations. This is a confession that the old tariff regulations are not meeting the problems of today. Other nations, in fact all nations, are using the tariff not only for the protection of their industries but as a means of protecting their entire financial system, and incidentally as a means of getting trade favors for their industries.

Since the Bolshevists have been in power in Russia, that country has been on a paper money basis. No one outside of Russia cares to accept Russian money in payment of goods. Consequently since the beginning of the Bolshevist regime the Russian government has had complete charge of the import and export business. The Russian government has sold oil, wheat, pulp, manganese and other products in foreign countries and has used the foreign money it received to buy the products of other countries. From the Russian viewpoint their currency has been protected. They alone not suspecting we didn't want any of it.

Now Germany has set up foreign trade bureaus and banks and is rationing the money that can be spent for foreign products. In a different way it is doing what the Russians do as a direct function of the government. But the German government is doing it in the effort and for the purpose of staying on the gold standard. Its gold reserves are so low that if imports exceed exports for any length of time its gold reserves will be wiped out. Germany cannot afford to trade with any country that demands gold in payment for its goods.

France, England, and Japan are all making strenuous efforts to trade with those countries which will trade with them. To a more or less extent they also have the problem of keeping their money sound. This government has the problem of getting rid of its exportable surplus, while the problem of other countries is not to buy from any foreign country, least of all from the United States, unless they can pay for such purchases in goods which they have to sell.

Prior to the World War, trade balances were settled by the transfer of gold from one country to another. Since the war our foreign bankers have bought foreign investments in order to cover the balance of our exports over imports. Now that almost all foreign investments have proven bad we have passed the Johnson bill prohibiting the issuing of semi-worthless securities to the American people in payment for the goods exported in excess of the value of those imported and the international bankers' means of "settling" debts is at an end.

The object of the trade agreements will be to trade our goods for those we desire to buy from other countries. The arrangement is a logical outcome of the present demoralized currency situation which is a world wide problem. Men thought they understood the value of money, but the world wide collapse of the price structure is driving them to the conclusion that the best they can do is to place the matter of foreign trade in the hands of the government and depend upon the adroitness of its elected officials to buy and sell in the foreign markets to the best advantage of us all. The necessity for this legislation is but another expression of the fact that the economic forces, which we feel though we barely understand them, are causing us to remake the instruments of business and government by which and through which life for the vast multitude of society alone is possible.

A BELATED RECOGNITION

Thirty-six years ago, a young lieutenant in the navy, Richmond Pearson Hobson, sunk the Merrimac in the channel of Santiago de Cuba in an unsuccessful attempt to bottle up the Spanish fleet. The feat was carried out under the guns of the Spanish forts. It was a brave deed, and at the time it thrilled the country. Lieutenant Hobson was taken prisoner, for a time was confined in a Spanish prison, and later served in the Philippines and in China. Shortly after the Spanish war he was retired as a rear admiral without pay. Later he served one term in congress from a district in Alabama.

It may be recalled that on his return to the country after his daring deed in Cuba, a silly girl kissed him at a reception. That was fatal for the hero of Santiago. For some reason, never explained, the sentiment of the country turned against him, as it did against Admiral Dewey, the hero of Manila, because he deeded the house given him by admirers to the woman he had just married. It was concerning Dewey that "Mr. Dooley," the humorist of that day, wrote in one of his witty articles that the American people build memorial arches to their heroes that they may have bricks to throw at them the next day.

Last week, Lieutenant Hobson, almost forgotten, came back into the news. Congress voted him a commission as retired rear admiral with an annual salary of $4500. It is said that he is now a broken man. The ingratitude of republics has become proverbial.

Well, better late than never. Lieutenant Hobson has given his life to fight the ravages of drink and the drug traffic. In recent years there has been little interest in these reforms, with a consequent falling off of financial support. Hence the pension and the congressional recognition. The tragic circumstances preceding the action of congress will probably never be revealed to the curious world.

RICHARD III IN A NEW ROLE

Shakespeare has fastened upon the character of Richard III, the last of the Plantagenet line of English kings, a stigma that nothing will ever remove. The power of the dramatist over the historian has never been illustrated more clearly than in the manner in which this king has become a thing of horror to all times. The hunchbacked knave who smothered the princes in the tower that he might sit upon a lawful throne is known to every school boy. The great soldier who really delivered England from the tyranny of the usurper has had to be presented by the historian against a prejudice that will not die.

Many years ago, when Henry Cabot Lodge was still a scholar, and not the politician he subsequently became, he wrote a paper on the last of the Plantagenets in which he revealed a nobler Richard. Others before and since have essayed the task of rehabilitating the much misrepresented king. A new book just from the press by Philip Lindsay rehearses the story once more justly and convincingly. But as Senator Lodge said in the paper referred to, no one will ever be able to wrench the character of Richard III from the pattern fixed by William Shakespeare.

The popular estimate is the lasting factor that determines the judgment of history. Yet such a book as that of Philip Lindsay has a place.

THE PULITZER PRIZES

Not since the foundation of the Pulitzer Prize Foundation has there been so much criticism of the prize awards as this year. Especially do the awards for the best piece of historic writing for the year 1933 and for the best editorial of the year come in for the sharpest criticism.

Herbert Agar's "Choice of the People" on which we commented editorially at the time of its publication, was an interesting study of the Presidents of the United States from Washington to Hoover. But the critics in their reviews gave it a quite subordinate place among the historic publications of the year. The editorial from the News-Telegraph of Atlantic, Iowa, entitled, "Where is Our Money," had so little to commend it that the prize award has been treated as a huge joke. The gist of the editorial was that the desire for a high standard of living on the part of the people led to the crash of 1929. "Where is our money? We spent it." That is the answer to the problem of want in the midst of plenty.

It is openly stated that the reason for the past year's choice can be attributed only to conservative influences. The "Choice of the People" squints toward fascism. And the editorial chosen was a criticism of the policies of the Roosevelt administration. What is the inference?

The Beginning of the End of Private Traffic in Arms

The Christian Century

Unanimously favorable reports by the senate and house committees on foreign relations and unanimous votes by the senate and house, all within three days, brought to the president's desk for his signature the joint resolution authorizing and empowering him to put an embargo on the shipment of arms and munitions to Paraguay or Bolivia or both, "after consultation with other American republics and with their cooperation." Since the president has been urging the passage of the measure, his action is not in doubt, and the consultations with the South American governments are already in progress. Each of the belligerents has been anxious for the president to assume the responsibility of declaring the other the aggressor and limiting the embargo to that one alone. Such a plan will not serve the purpose, which is not to adjudicate the controversy but to stop the fighting. Congress was brought to its mood of unwonted unanimity by a disclosure of the large amount of arms that have been shipped—more than a quarter of a million dollars worth in the last three months, and chiefly to Bolivia—and especially by the report of a shipment of bombing planes about to be made. Bombing planes are no respecters of persons, and the prospect of having the towns and civilian populations of either country blown up by American equipment and for the profit of American firms was too disquieting for even the staunchest defenders of individual initiative and private business. While the joint resolution which has been passed has reference only to the Chaco war, it is not too much to hope that the principle which it recognizes—that of responsibility for the international consequences of international traffic in arms and munitions—will soon be formulated in a policy of general application.

Young Man River

New York Herald-Tribune

American rivers, many of them, still do pretty heavy duty as means of transportation; but it would be reckless to predict that they may ever regain the primacy they had in this field for many generations. Even the roads and highways had to take second place for the first century or so of our history. There are eighteenth-century newspaper files that contain letters to the editor arguing that wagon roads will never compete seriously with the North River, the South River (the Delaware), the Connecticut and the Susquehanna, then moving the bulk of the colonial freight in sloops, flatboats and periagua. In the Burlington (N. J.) Advertiser in the 1790's are letters to this effect from William Cooper, father of James Fenimore. Highways are too expensive, they said in those days, when the only traffic jams likely to develop were among Hudson River sloops on a day of light winds.

But the rivers are reasserting themselves in a new role—among them some that were nothing to boast of in the days when the Hudson (or later the Mississippi) was lord of all. The Columbia, the Colorado, the uppermost Missouri and the Tennessee system are being or are about to be plugged with concrete; their swift currents metamorphosed into electrical current, and in some cases the old prerogative of navigation revived. Huge lakes that an eighteenth-century miller with delusions of grandeur could scarcely have imagined will be impounded to grind heat, light and power, as the American river reconquers some of the prestige it lost steadily throughout the nineteenth century.

Old Man River may have become economically a has-been, a romantic property of novelists, poets and song-writers in Tin Pan alley; Young Man River is buckling on his hydro-electric belt, training to enter the ring against steam power and the internal combustion engine. And may the best man win!

HERE'S HARD LUCK

White men have lately beaten the Red Man at a bow and arrow contest.

We've chased the Indian from the plain
Which once comprised his own domain.
He has to toil
Upon the soil—
A task which doesn't suit him.
He's lost the ancient habitat
That once was his, and worse than that,
When poor old Lo
Takes up the bow
The pale-face can outshoot him.

The fingers, calloused by the plough,
Can barely tweak the buckskin now;
He cannot pot
With one sure shot
The prairie-ranging bison.
No more with keenly questing eye
The lurking wolf can he descry,
Or watch a deer
In mad career
Lope off toward the horizon.

Poor Lo! it must be pretty rough
When white men beat him at his stuff.
Though he can shirk
Most kinds of work
He's listless and downhearted.
He has to sow, he has to reap,
He's only happy when asleep;
Poor native Red,
His craft has fled,
His glory has departed.

I looked in the firehouse and Mr. Riley was in there in his blue shert and sispenders shining his hooken ladder, and I went in and watched him a while on account of being a frend of his, and after a while I said, Did you ever meet any dogs that was heroes, Mr. Riley?

I did indeed, I met Spottsy Casey, Casey of course being the name of the family he lived with, Mr. Riley said. They had a nice big 3 story house with 6 children, just 2 for each floor, and that house bernt down and down till the last of it fell into the celler, so there wasn't even a celler left.

G, what happened to the 6 children? I said, and Mr. Riley said, That's where Spottsy comes in the story. One by one starting with Sassafrass the youngest and ending with Oleander the oldest he woke those 6 children up by tickling their ears with his cold healthy nose, and one by one he carried them picky back out of the berning house, and then he went back after Mrs. Casey, for well he knew that wimmin and children ferst is the rule for all heroes, Mr. Riley said.

Did he take her down picky back too? I said, and he said, No, he led her out through the smoke by the hem of her nitegown because she was a buxum woman and spottsy's back was tired, and then he returned for Casey himself, and Casey was the soundest sleeper that ever was on land or sea and the very devil himself to wake up. Spottsy barked himself horse and tickled him from head to foot with his cold nose but there wasn't a tickle in the man when he slept, so at long and at last Spottsy remembered the one thing that ever woke Casey up and he reached and he knocked over the alarm clock with his paw, and it went off and Casey sprand up and was saved, but by nature he was a mean stingy man and the ferst werds out of him was to scold Spottsy for breaking the alarm clock and Spottsy took it so to hart he ran away and adopted a more deserving master and hasn't been seen by the Caseys since, and now run along with you and leave me to me werk, Mr. Riley said.

Wich I did.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

AMERICA MUST DECIDE

We are faced with the necessity of making some major decisions on national policy that will determine our national destiny.

In the decade before 1929 we were content to drift. We were so happy clipping coupons we refused to consider basic issues of national policy. Our mood was a "why bother" mood. Maybe a few million Americans were left in the outer darkness that ringed the charmed circle of the prosperous. What of it! The poor we would always have with us. Things, by and large, were going well. Judged by the general indices of the economists, we had really entered a new era from which the traditional ebbs and flows of enterprise had been outlawed. Down with the Cassandras! Up with the Polyannas!

This was the mood of the prosperity era.

We tolerated but did not listen to those Socratic skeptics who all along insisted upon asking where the nation was headed.

It is a different story now.

The house of cards fell about our ears in 1929. Over night the enterprise of this age of plenty suffered a stroke of paralysis. And the paralysis stubbornly resists the hundred and one medicines an empirical statesmanship has prescribed.

A new mood begins to fall over the American mind!

The myriad millions begin to lose faith in facile panaceas that put plasters on this and that effect while basic causes of the disease are left untouched.

Here and there erstwhile blind leaders begin to realize that decisions more basic than any yet faced must be made, even if a disheartenlngly large array of Americans still see in the situation no more than a chance to rehabilitate outworn economic dogmas and restore to power obsolete political leaderships.

But, despite these instances of retarded intelligence still manifest in some business and political circles, events are rapidly educating us to the necessity of a bold clarity of decision on a few basic policies.

The other day I listed some of these basic decisions we must make and make soon if we want to avoid a complete lapse into social and economic chaos: (1) Are we to strengthen democracy or surrender to dictatorship? (2) Are we to establish control of this age of plenty or execute a return to an age of scarcity? (3) Are we to pursue our enterprise in freedom or under regimentation? (4) Are we to go in for exclusive nationalism or walk the ways of a realistic internationalism?

I repeat that events are forcing us to see the necessity of clear-cut answers to these questions. But, despite the education of events, we have still to prove that we are equal to the challenge of these decisions. We have still to be released from the paralysis of will that has so long held us.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

LETTIN G ALONE

If you can let a child alone, do it. Many children get far too much attention. They are warned too often, interrupted too frequently, washed too many times, taken up and put down and generally lived for when their mission in life is to live for themselves and grow in the effort.

Once the baby has been fed and bathed and laid in his bed, let him stay there in peace. Don't keep straightening him out, patting him, talking to him and the like. Let him alone with his business of growing which is best done in quiet and aloneness.

When the runabout child has had his breakfast, been routined in health habits and whatever other responsibilities are his, turn him out doors with his play implements and, while you keep an eye in his direction, keep your hands off as much as possible. It is not necessary to open the window to call, "Use your handkerchief. Don't sit on the ground like that. Come away from there. Can't you see you're getting mud all over? Put your hat on. Take your sweater off. Leave Bunny alone and if you can't behave come in." That is a fine way to wear yourself out and turn a healthy, happy child into a hater of his kind.

Leave the healthy, active child alone to work out his own salvation, if you can, as much as you can, as long as you can. Begin training the baby to stay alone in his crib without calling for unnecessary attention. Train the runabout to stay in a room by himself, amusing himself, for increasing periods daily until he can get along for an hour or more without help of any sort. Train him to do the same thing outdoors.

You will have to teach a child how to amuse himself. Give him something he likes. A picture book, a ball, a something on wheels, some good sized blocks, show him briefly what he can do with them and leave him to discover the rest for himself. It is a mistake to try to teach children to play after your pattern. The child sees these games for the first time. He has no idea of the pleasure they will give him. He can't play perfectly, from your standpoint, in the beginning, but he can feel the things out, make gestures with them, and use them crudely. The thing is to let him use them. If he is in difficulty help him only as much as he needs, no more, and leave him.

Perfection of play is a matter of experience and practice. The child just beginning to play makes strange movements and appears awkward. It is a mistake to tell him so. Keep him trying and very soon his wide movements become more accurate. By and by they will become the nice adjustments that are his goal, and yours. He will amuse himself in making these efforts. If you try to teach hime the perfect way at the start, if you tell him, "Oh, that's no way to throw a ball. Look. Do it like that," you are likely to check his play desires, discourage him and drive him back upon your powers instead of stimulating him to develop his own.

You will find that a healthy child can stand a lot of letting alone. Not neglect. Intelligently planned letting alone. This will help the child to grow and give you a chance to do a little growing of your own. Mothers need to play, need to amuse themselves, as much as children do. They need a little aloneness, too.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)

The gist of the editorial was that the desire for a high standard of living on the part of the people led to the crash of 1929. "Where is our money? We spent it." That is the answer to the problem of want in the midst of plenty.

It is openly stated that the reason for the past year's choice can be attributed only to conservative influences. The "Choice of the People" squints toward fascism. And the editorial chosen was a criticism of the policies of the Roosevelt administration. What is the inference?

The Beginning of the End of Private Traffic in Arms

The Christian Century

Unanimously favorable reports by the senate and house committees on foreign relations and unanimous votes by the senate and house, all within three days, brought to the president's desk for his signature the joint resolution authorizing and empowering him to put an embargo on the shipment of arms and munitions to Paraguay or Bolivia or both, "after consultation with other American republics and with their cooperation." Since the president has been urging the passage of the measure, his action is not in doubt, and the consultations with the South American governments are already in progress. Each of the belligerents has been anxious for the president to assume the responsibility of declaring the other the aggressor and limiting the embargo to that one alone. Such a plan will not serve the purpose, which is not to adjudicate the controversy but to stop the fighting. Congress was brought to its mood of unwonted unanimity by a disclosure of the large amount of arms that have been shipped—more than a quarter of a million dollars worth in the last three months, and chiefly to Bolivia—and especially by the report of a shipment of bombing planes about to be made. Bombing planes are no respecters of persons, and the prospect of having the towns and civilian populations of either country blown up by American equipment and for the profit of American firms was too disquieting for even the staunchest defenders of individual initiative and private business. While the joint resolution which has been passed has reference only to the Chaco war, it is not too much to hope that the principle which it recognizes—that of responsibility for the international consequences of international traffic in arms and munitions—will soon be formulated in a policy of general application.

Young Man River

New York Herald-Tribune

American rivers, many of them, still do pretty heavy duty as means of transportation; but it would be reckless to predict that they may ever regain the primacy they had in this field for many generations. Even the roads and highways had to take second place for the first century or so of our history. There are eighteenth-century newspaper files that contain letters to the editor arguing that wagon roads will never compete seriously with the North River, the South River (the Delaware), the Connecticut and the Susquehanna, then moving the bulk of the colonial freight in sloops, flatboats and periagua. In the Burlington (N. J.) Advertiser in the 1790's are letters to this effect from William Cooper, father of James Fenimore. Highways are too expensive, they said in those days, when the only traffic jams likely to develop were among Hudson River sloops on a day of light winds.

But the rivers are reasserting themselves in a new role—among them some that were nothing to boast of in the days when the Hudson (or later the Mississippi) was lord of all. The Columbia, the Colorado, the uppermost Missouri and the Tennessee system are being or are about to be plugged with concrete: their swift currents metamorphosed into electrical current, and in some cases the old prerogative of navigation revived. Huge lakes that an eighteenth-century miller with delusions of grandeur could scarcely have imagined will be impounded to grind heat, light and power, as the American river reconquers some of the prestige it lost steadily throughout the nineteenth century.

Old Man River may have become economically a has-been, a romantic property of novelists, poets and song-writers in Tin Pan alley; Young Man River is buckling on his hydro-electric belt, training to enter the ring against steam power and the internal combustion engine. And may the best man win!

More Truth Than Poetry

HERE'S HARD LUCK

White men have lately beaten the Red Man at a bow and arrow contest.

We've chased the Indian from the plain
Which once comprised his own domain,
He has to toil
Upon the soil—
A task which doesn't suit him.
He's lost the ancient habitat
That once was his, and worse than that,
When poor old Lo
Takes up the bow
The pale-face can outshoot him.

The fingers, calloused by the plough,
Can barely tweak the buckskin now;
He cannot pot
With one sure shot
The prairie-ranging bison.
No more with keenly questing eye
The lurking wolf can he descry,
Or watch a deer
In mad career
Lope off toward the horizon.

Poor Lo! it must be pretty rough
When white men beat him at his stuff.
Though he can shirk
Most kinds of work
He's listless and downhearted.
He has to sow, he has to reap,
He's only happy when asleep;
Poor native Red,
His craft has fled,
His glory has departed.

I looked in the firehouse and Mr. Riley was in there in his blue shert and sispenders shining his hooken ladder, and I went in and watched him a while on account of being a frend of his, and after a while I said, Did you ever meet any dogs that was heroes, Mr. Riley?

I did indeed, I met Spottsy Casey, Casey of course being the name of the family he lived with, Mr. Riley said. They had a nice big 3 story house with 6 children, just 2 for each floor, and that house bernt down and down till the last of it fell into the celler, so there wasn't even a celler left.

G, what happened to the 6 children? I said, and Mr. Riley said, That's where Spottsy comes in the story. One by one starting with Sassafrass the youngest and ending with Oleander the oldest he woke those 6 children up by tickling their ears with his cold healthy nose, and one by one he carried them picky back out of the berning house, and then he went back after Mrs. Casey, for well he knew that wimmin and children ferst is the rule for all heroes, Mr. Riley said.

Did he take her down picky back too? I said, and he said, No, he led her out through the smoke by the hem of her nitegown because she was a buxum woman and spottsy's back was tired, and then he returned for Casey himself, and Casey was the soundest sleeper that ever was on land or sea and the very devil himself to wake up. Spottsy barked himself horse and tickled him from head to foot with his cold nose but there wasn't a tickle in the man when he slept, so at long and at last Spottsy remembered the one thing that ever woke Casey up and he reached and he knocked over the alarm clock with his paw, and it went off and Casey sprand up and was saved, but by nature he was a mean stingy man and the ferst werds out of him was to scold Spottsy for breaking the alarm clock and Spottsy took it so to hart he ran away and adopted a more deserving master and hasn't been seen by the Caseys since, and now run along with you and leave me to me werk, Mr. Riley said.

Wich I did.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

AMERICA MUST DECIDE

We are faced with the necessity of making some major decisions on national policy that will determine our national destiny.

In the decade before 1929 we were content to drift. We were so happy clipping coupons we refused to consider basic issues of national policy. Our mood was a "why bother" mood. Maybe a few million Americans were left in the outer darkness that ringed the charmed circle of the prosperous. What of it! The poor we would always have with us. Things, by and large, were going well. Judged by the general indices of the economists, we had really entered a new era from which the traditional ebbs and flows of enterprise had been outlawed. Down with the Cassandras! Up with the Polyannas!

This was the mood of the prosperity era.

We tolerated but did not listen to those Socratic skeptics who all along insisted upon asking where the nation was headed.

It is a different story now.

The house of cards fell about our ears in 1929. Over night the enterprise of this age of plenty suffered a stroke of paralysis. And the paralysis stubbornly resists the hundred and one medicines an empirical statesmanship has prescribed.

A new mood begins to fall over the American mind!

The myriad millions begin to lose faith in facile panaceas that put plasters on this and that effect while basic causes of the disease are left untouched.

Here and there erstwhile blind leaders begin to realize that decisions more basic than any yet faced must be made, even if a dishearteningly large array of Americans still see in the situation no more than a chance to rehabilitate outworn economic dogmas and restore to power obsolete political leaderships.

But, despite these instances of retarded intelligence still manifest in some business and political circles, events are rapidly educating us to the necessity of a bold clarity of decision on a few basic policies.

The other day I listed some of these basic decisions we must make and make soon if we want to avoid a complete lapse into social and economic chaos: (1) Are we to strengthen democracy or surrender to dictatorship? (2) Are we to establish control of this age of plenty or execute a return to an age of scarcity? (3) Are we to pursue our enterprise in freedom or under regimentation? (4) Are we to go in for exclusive nationalism or walk the ways of a realistic internationalism?

I repeat that events are forcing us to see the necessity of clear-cut answers to these questions. But, despite the education of events, we have still to prove that we are equal to the challenge of these decisions. We have still to be released from the paralysis of will that has so long held us.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

LETTIN G ALONE

If you can let a child alone, do it. Many children get far too much attention. They are warned too often, interrupted too frequently, washed too many times, taken up and put down and generally lived for when their mission in life is to live for themselves and grow in the effort.

Once the baby has been fed and bathed and laid in his bed, let him stay there in peace. Don't keep straightening him out, patting him, talking to him and the like. Let him alone with his business of growing which is best done in quiet and aloneness.

When the runabout child has had his breakfast, been routined in health habits and whatever other responsibilities are his, turn him out doors with his play implements and, while you keep an eye in his direction, keep your hands off as much as possible. It is not necessary to open the window to call, "Use your handkerchief. Don't sit on the ground like that. Come away from there. Can't you see you're getting mud all over? Put your hat on. Take your sweater off. Leave Bunny alone and if you can't behave come in." That is a fine way to wear yourself out and turn a healthy, happy child into a hater of his kind.

Leave the healthy, active child alone to work out his own salvation, if you can, as much as you can, as long as you can. Begin training the baby to stay alone in his crib without calling for unnecessary attention. Train the runabout to stay in a room by himself, amusing himself, for increasing periods daily until he can get along for an hour or more without help of any sort. Train him to do the same thing outdoors.

You will have to teach a child how to amuse himself. Give him something he likes. A picture book, a ball, a something on wheels, some good sized blocks, show him briefly what he can do with them and leave him to discover the rest for himself. It is a mistake to try to teach children to play after your pattern. The child sees these games for the first time. He has no idea of the pleasure they will give him. He can't play perfectly, from your standpoint, in the beginning, but he can feel the things out, make gestures with them, and use them crudely. The thing is to let him use them. If he is in difficulty help him only as much as he needs, no more, and leave him.

Perfection of play is a matter of experience and practice. The child just beginning to play makes strange movements and appears awkward. It is a mistake to tell him so. Keep him trying and very soon his wide movements become more accurate. By and by they will become the nice adjustments that are his goal, and yours. He will amuse himself in making these efforts. If you try to teach hime the perfect way at the start, if you tell him, "Oh, that's no way to throw a ball. Look. Do it like that," you are likely to check his play desires, discourage him and drive him back upon your powers instead of stimulating him to develop his own.

You will find that a healthy child can stand a lot of letting alone. Not neglect. Intelligently planned letting alone. This will help the child to grow and give you a chance to do a little growing of your own. Mothers need to play, need to amuse themselves, as much as children do. They need a little aloneness, too.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
